

Farm Home on Rudd Place Near Peoria Burned Saturday

(Enterprise Correspondence)
The big farm home on the Rudd place, occupied by Earl McDonald, burned to the ground last Saturday night. The fire started when Mrs. McDonald caught her foot on a rug and fell while carrying a kerosene lamp. The lamp broke and started the fire and before help could get there the house was a mass of flames and beyond saving. Only a few articles were saved.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood as well as does Mrs. Lawrenson who owned the house. As soon as things can be adjusted a new house will be built, it is said.

SCHOOL NOTES

MURIEL LAKE, REPORTER

The junior and senior English class in journalism have been having practice in news reporting. As soon as the class has had more experience the town paper will have an active competitor.

The juniors held their class election Monday evening and the following officers selected: Lucile Phelps, president; Ernest Coleman, vice-president; Herman Koontz, secretary-treasurer; Jack Underwood, sergeant-at-arms, and Miss Gladys McCormack, advisor.

School was dismissed last Friday so those who wished might attend the Linn county fair. The Halsey grade school took second in their educational exhibits with a worthwhile display.

The state fair is causing several absences this week. The absentees Wednesday were: Herman Koontz, Francis Leeper, Russell Norton, Fleming Smith, Dick Hussey and Kenneth Smith.

The freshmen have at last found in their high school curriculum time for a class election, the result of this laboring business was: Ivan Smith, president; Gertrude Nichols, secretary-treasurer; Gilbert Miller, sergeant-at-arms and Prof. Patton class advisor.

Mrs. Kizer has taken Mrs. Coleman's 6th grade arithmetic class and has had Mr. Forster make an old fashioned spelling bench for the purpose of accommodating them.

We have been discovering a variety of news items and some fine news reports. The variety includes everything from new roads and bridges to mashed toes.

Mrs. Kizer has two new seventh grade pupils, Myrl and Blanche Wade, who came here from King's Valley.

"Rough Riders" Coming Tuesday

Old-timers are wont to shake their heads and mutter in their beards. "Those good old days are gone when men were men and horses were wild, Texas ain't what she used to be."

But refutation of that was evidenced in San Antonio during the filming of Paramount's production "The Rough Riders" when director Victor Fleming gathered from all quarters of the Lone Star state hard riding cowboys with the stamina of their sires and outlawed horses to whom saddles were as gall and men instinctive enemies.

Such picturesque equine characters of untamable spirit as "Funeral Wagon," "Punch Villa," "Whirling Chair," "Dynamite," "Whirlwind," "Spindletop," "Widow Maker," and "High-Wide-an'-Handsome" and two score more were brought to San Antonio and did their stuff in the "good old fashioned way."

It is such scenes as these, with Noah Beery, Charles Farrell, Mary Astor, George Bancroft, Charles Emmett Mack, and Frank Hopper in the cast which make "The Rough Riders" coming to the Halsey Theater next Tuesday evening genuinely real.

It is claimed by Texans that there had not been such a round-up of good men and bad horses in years.

Some of the clay pigeon enthusiasts broke a few Sunday just to keep in practice but none broke any world's records. Cedric Moody the 11-year old son of C. P. Moody, did about the best, breaking 20 out of 25 with a 20 gauge gun. Dana Roseman and C. P. Moody by combining their scores managed to make enough broken targets to make a very fair showing. Charles Hamer went it alone and tied the younger Moody.

Donated Baby Jersey Becomes Valuable Cow, Says Heyman

About three years ago Mr. C. C. Duncan of Halsey said to the superintendent of the Children's Farm Home: "The next heifer calf I get I will give to the Farm Home." Mr. Duncan made his promise good even though it cost him a calf from his very best purebred cow, Eginada's Tootsie, No. 489492. The Farm Home lost no time in getting the calf, giving it good care, and growing it into a valuable cow.

The calf Eginada's Tootsie's Ann, No. 710536, better known at the Farm Home as "Tootsie," freshened when she was two years and three days old. She was given only ordinary herd care, but at this she produced during the 279 days 6168.1 pounds of milk and 281.93 pounds fat (private records).

This young cow is the ideal Jersey type. With the showing she made during her first year with just ordinary care, it is believed by some Jersey enthusiasts that she could easily become a silver medal cow with special attention and under official test.

"The Farm Home people are, indeed, very grateful to Mr. Duncan for his present of so fine an animal," says Mr. Heyman, superintendent, "and they shall do all they can to make the most of the gift."
