STUDENTS GO INTO DITCH WHILE ON WAY TO PORTLAND

Friday afternoon as M. Treadwell, John Dodds and Dave Wilson of Eugene were on their way to Portland to witness the big football game Saturday they met with an automobile accident about a mile north of Halsey when their Oakland coupe went into the ditch and turned over.

Wilson was injured the worst as the car was said to have pinned him beneath it. He was brought to Halsey where a local physician attended him, and later he was taken to his home in Eugene in an ambulance. Dodds had one wrist severely sprained, while Treadwell escaped with minor injuries.

The accident happened it is alleged when Treadwell, who was driving, started to pass another car which turned out at the same time to avoid hitting a third car which was said to have been parked on the highway. Treadwell said he ran his car into the ditch rather than hit the other car.

The wrecked car was brought to the Arrow garage where repairs were made and later Treadwell and Dodds continued their trip to Portland.

Funeral Services Held for Mrs. John Bramwell

Funeral services for the late Mrs. John C. Bramwell were held Saturday afternoon at the Pine Grove church. A large number of friends of the family were present to pay their last respects to one who was universally loved and respected in the community in which she had lived for so many years. Members of the Vine Maple Circle Neighbors of Woodcraft and of Purity Rebekah lodges, both of which orders Mrs. Bramwell was a member, attended in a body.

A mixed quartet composed of Mrs. E. A. P. LaFollette, Mrs. Edith Robnett, Rev. Ted Mitzner and T. J. Jackson sang "Asleep in Jesus," "Some Sweet Day," and "Jesus Lover of My Soul." Mrs. F. Buford Morris accompanied them on the organ. Rev. J. S. Miller preached the funeral service.

The flowers of which there were many lovely pieces were in charge of Mesdames J. J. Corcoran, Fayette Lake, Charles Hamer and Frank Gansle. The pall bearers were C. H. Davidson, Frank Gansle, John Bressler, Frank Kirk, Charles G. Hamer and Charcy Sickels.

The funeral arrangements were in charge of Dana C. Rossman.

SCHOOL NOTES

MURIEL LAKE, REPORTER

Franklin Hawkins of Stayton, who is staying at the Robert Lyons home on the Straley farm east of Halsey, has entered the realm of Halsey Hi as a freshman.

Mary Ann Perry has been transferred from the fifth to the sixth grade. Her work has been splendid and she merits the promotion.

Wilma, Wayne and Fletcher Crabtree are to attend the Powell district school instead of the Halsey school.

The Oregon Historical Society is again ready to receive manuscripts for their annual Oregon history contest which closes March 16, 1929. The title of the theme is to be "Oregon History." This contest is for the purpose of promoting the reading and familiarizing by the boys and girls of the history of the state.

There are four cash prizes in this contest which is open to all students of Oregon schools, public or private, between the ages of 15 and 18 years of age. The prizes are $60, $50, $40, $30. There will be three judges from the society and themes are not to exceed two thousand words in length.

Miss Nelson has given the grade pupils the use of a phonograph to march by, and Mr. Forster has made a stand on which to set it so all may hear.

The freshmen return party given last Friday evening, October 19th, was a decided success. The freshmen were very cordial, and after an evening of playing games a light lunch was served.

Slides were shown Wednesday afternoon in place of the regular program. The pictures were of the Geysers, lakes, rivers, falls, animals and hotels of the Yellowstone National Park.

In Interest of Red Cross

M. H. Acheson of Albany was in Halsey Monday in the interest of the twelfth Red Cross roll call of which he has been appointed chairman. The committee for the drive in Halsey has not been appointed.

Miss Deborah Pentz of San Francisco has taken the place of Miss Cameron as executive secretary.

Mr. Acheson expressed the wish that the appreciation of the committee in charge of the recent drive for the Disaster Relief call, for the way the people of Halsey responded.

HALSEY AND VICINITY BREVITIES

Mrs. W. L. Wells was the guest of Mrs. L. V. Chance of Route 1 Monday.

Mrs. W. C. Sickels and son Dale of Halsey and Mrs. E. D. Isom and daughter Beverly of Alford spent Thursday and Friday in Albany at the home of Mrs. Louise Bond. Mrs. Isom attended the teachers' institute while there.

Guests at the E. C. Miller home in Halsey Sunday were Mrs. T. M. Bennett, Mrs. Opal Higbee and sons and Ted Mullens of Lebanon, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Griffith of Eugene. At noon a pheasant dinner was enjoyed and Claire says the limit of birds was served.

Work was completed on the road between Halsey and Pine Grove last week and the crew and machinery were taken to Portland. The road has been gravelled and is greatly improved, but there is still a great deal of work to be done to put the road in the same class as those in the northern part of the county.

Thomas Miller who is attending O.S.C. at Corvallis spent the week end at his home in Halsey.

I am a citizen before I am a partisan. Vote for John P. Cooley for state representative. Paid adv

Mr. and Mrs. Pruitt and Earl and William Smith of Corvallis spent Sunday at the George Pruitt home near Twin Buttes.

Mrs. Kate Belts a resident of Harrisburg and who died at her home in that city was buried in the Alford cemetery last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Rossman drove to Monroe Tuesday evening to visit the latter's mother, Mrs. Lamb, who is reported to be quite ill. They plan to bring her to the Rossman home soon.

Mrs. Wayne Dawson and mother Mrs. J. A. McCullough, Mrs. S. E. Young and Mrs. Frances Gibson, all of Albany, were guests at the D. S. McWilliams home Friday. In the afternoon the party called on Mrs. Sidney Smith and infant daughter, Katherine Carol.

John Bramwell received a letter this week from his nephew, Howard C. Bramwell, in which he tells of being badly crippled with rheumatism. Howard, who with his brother Charles A., publishes the Colfax (Wash.) Gazette, was born in Halsey and spent the early years of his life here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Messinger of Portland have recently moved to Los Angeles according to word received here by friends of Mrs. Messinger who is better known in Halsey as Mrs. Alex Powers a former resident of this city. Mr. Messinger is sales manager for the Upjon Wholesale Drug company.

Saturday evening E. E. Carey in family enjoyed a visit from his grandfather, Mr. Stone, of Salem. Mr. Stone is 88 but his advanced age did not deter him from motoring down alone. He also visited his granddaughter, Mrs. C. E. Gillett Sunday, returning to the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Carey of Salem later in the day.

Morris Resigns Lieutenantcy

F. Buford Morris, local druggist and proprietor of Morris Pharmacy has resigned his commission as First Lieutenant in the Oregon National Guard.

Mr. Morris has been 1st Lt. in Battery A 249 coast artillery since last December when he was appointed from 2nd Lt. He enlisted in the national guard in Albany when they were organized in 1921, as a private and was promoted first to corporal, then sergeant, first sergeant, 2nd Lt. and 1st Lt.

The resignation was due to the fact that too much time was taken from his business in attending his duties at the armory in Albany as well as at the encampment.

To perpetuate constitutional government abide by the constitution. Vote for John P. Cooley for state representative. Paid adv

Mr. and Mrs. F. Buford Morris and son drove to Portland Monday afternoon on a business trip. They returned to Halsey late that night.

Mrs. Sam Collins of the Oak Plain community is reported to be slowly improving from her recent illness. Mrs. Carrie E. Harrison of Lebanon is nursing her.

Walter Smith was taken ill last Sunday and is still confined to his home. His daughter, Miss Cleona, is nursing him and Miss Alberta Koontz is teaching her classes in the Shedd high school.

Among Halsey people attending the Firestone Tire company show in Albany Tuesday evening were Frank Gansle, Chester Sickels and Charles Hamer and their families. The show consisted of the making of tires.

Mrs. Franklyn Stafford who operated the Halsey telephone exchange up to a year ago, recently accepted a position in the electrical department at Olds and King in Portland, according to a letter received here.

Some of the Parent Teacher membership committees have been busy soliciting members for the organization. Dues to this really worth while order are only 25 cents so why not bring your quarter to the next meeting and become a member.

Fred Roberts and family of Salem came up Friday for a visit at the Phil Forster home and on Saturday Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Sweet of Eugene were visitors at the same place and on Sunday they had as their guests Charles Falk jr. and family from east of Halsey.

The Halsey correspondent to the Albany Democrat has Frank Gansle deserting friends, neighbors and food and espousing the cause of aviation, whole soul and body. The flights he has taken so far have been just "fancy" so Mr. Gansle states, and he will continue in his garage and give the best of auto repair service in the meantime.

E. L. Dorman who conducts the moving picture theater in Halsey informs us that beginning November 20 he will have Movie Tone reels. This means that the people of Halsey and vicinity are to enjoy the best music to be had while at the show. This music is produced with the taking of the film and is recorded on the side of the reel. The best of musicians are secured to furnish this part of the entertainment and patrons of the local theater, especially to those who love music, will enjoy this innovation. This added feature entails quite an expense in the production of pictures and the equipment necessary to reproduce is also an item of many dollars. It is hoped that the theater goers of Halsey will show their appreciation of Mr. Dorman's efforts to furnish Halsey with the best in entertainment by their unstinted patronage.

HALSEY GIRLS WRITES OF TRIP THROUGH EASTERN STATES

In writing to a friend in Halsey Miss Nora Coldiron, who left here about six weeks ago in company with her father, O. G. Coldiron, for a visit at their former home in Pond Creek, Oklahoma, says she has just returned to Pond Creek after an extended auto trip through the eastern part of the United States where they visited many points of interest which included Washington, D. C.

In commenting on different subjects made interesting by her trip Miss Coldiron says: "Here I am again after about three weeks of wandering and I am glad to stay in the same place for a while. It is lots of fun to travel and see the sights but you are always glad to get home."

"Oregon still looks the best to me of any place and I am mighty proud that I have moss on my back and webs between my toes, as they say of the Oregonians."

"We certainly had a fine and interesting trip. At Cumberland Gap in the Cumberland mountains I walked around the cornerstone of the states of Tennessee, Kentucky and Virginia. You are pretty fast when you can be in three states in half a minute, aren't you?"

"We visited some friends in Louisville, Kentucky, and just across the street was an old slave market. On the same grounds was a big, three story, white house in which Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy, was married. A bachelor and his old maid aunt live there now, too poor to even have electric lights and too proud to earn a dollar."

"At Bristol, Virginia-Tennessee, I saw Herbert Hoover and Mrs. Hoover and Henry Ford. In St. Louis, Missouri, we got into a Smith parade but Al Smith had already passed by, so we did not see him."

"In Washington, D. C. I heard and watched the supreme court in session. It surely was interesting. We could have seen President and Mrs. Coolidge if we had only been a bit faster and I am sorry."

"Washington is surely a wonderful and interesting place. I cannot begin to tell you anything in a letter but will mention some of the places we visited. We went through the Capitol, also the President's room, which is really the most wonderful room in the Capitol. They will have to enlarge the House of Representatives and in order to do so the President's room will have to be destroyed or moved away. The French artist who painted the room is dead now and people from Europe and all over the world say that it is as good or better than they have seen anywhere. It surely will be terrible if they have to destroy it. The table that was first used by Lincoln is still used today."

"We rode to the top of the Washington monument, 555 feet high, in an elevator, and looked around over the city. Quite a sensation. We visited several Smithsonian Institutes and in the National Museum was Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis" on display. Then there was the Lincoln Memorial, part of the White House; Arlington Cemetery; Pan American Union Building; Mt. Vernon, Washington's home; Zoological Park; Library of Congress, and a lot more, too many to mention."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamer and family spent Sunday at the Chancy Sickels home near Charity Grange.

The Halsey Study club members are planning to celebrate the signing of the armistice with a program at the city hall.
