Water and Fish Bills Opposed

Until the last month, the water and fish bills received little attention among the initiated measure on the ballot to be submitted to the voters of the state at the coming election, says Frank Eddy who is campaign manager for the league in opposition to water and fish bill. Since then, opposition has been lining up against them strong and fast. It was a case of treading on too many toes and now the group in the state game protective association, which sponsored them, find opposition lining up on all sides. The bills would close to all uses except fish propagation and recreation, the Deschutes, McKenzie, Rogue and Umpqua rivers and their tributaries, with unimportant exceptions. When it was realized that this meant no water for use in irrigation, lumbering, mining, manufacturing, power and possibly for domestic use of municipalities, Bend, Redmond and Prineville in the Deschutes water shed and Eugene and her large interests on the McKenzie were aroused to place negative arguments in the voters pamphlet. Later, the chamber of commerce of Eugene called a conference on the bills at Portland at which a league in opposition to the water and fish bills was organized. Both the state farmer's union and the state grange are opposing the bills, says Mr. Eddy.

License Fee Reduction Promised

Senator Ed Bailey of Junction City, member of the senate commission on license fee revision commented as follows at the meeting of that committee held in Portland last Friday, at which time the committee went on record as definitely assuring the people that measure reducing license fees would be presented at the next legislative session which convenes in just ninety days.

Women Workers Back Hoover For a Full Week's Wages

Women's Trade Union Leader Declares He Alone Can Prevent Lowering of Living Standards Throughout the Nation.

By Alice Fox Pitts

Whether or not the average American wage-earner can take home a full week's pay envelope every Saturday night in the next four years depends on the election of Herbert Hoover, according to Mrs. Raymond Robins, who will spend several weeks at Republican National headquarters directing campaign activities among industrial women of the nation.

Mrs. Robins was president of the National Women's Trade Union League for fifteen years, president of the International Congress of Working Women for six years, and also served on the committee on education of the American Federation of Labor.

The abolition of poverty has always been the hope of dreamers but never before, Mrs. Robins points out, has a practical statesman set out to prove how, to a very large measure, that idealistic state can be attained. As Secretary of Commerce, Herbert Hoover has stimulated our foreign trade. Commissioners have gone abroad with samples of goods and brought back orders. This has meant more work for our factories, more jobs for our men and women. By showing manufacturers how to eliminate waste in production, he has put their business on a sounder basis, once more increasing the wage-earner's chance of getting a job and keeping it.

Since one woman in every five in this country works, Hoover's activities affect millions of women directly in this way. People as a whole do not realize the extent to which women are employed in factories today, Mrs. Robins says. When carpentry was done by hand, women could not engage in that occupation because they did not have the physical strength for it. Now doors, window sills and other parts of houses are turned out by machinery, and such machines are run by women. The same is true of many other occupations.

To these factory women, the election of Herbert Hoover is of prime importance, for it means the preservation of their jobs, according to Mrs. Robins. They must vote for him to prevent their standards of living being lowered to European levels. That is the argument Mrs. Robins will have her workers hammer home.

Senator Bailey, "first, last and always, and am interested in the completion of the highway program as originally adopted. I realize, however, that there has been a desire that the license fee be reduced and that this desire has accumulated until it amounts to a demand on the part of the public that some relief be given.

"Particularly is the demand centered on a lower license fee for used cars and I believe that this relief should be given if it is at all possible. The committee believes it has ways and means to accomplish this result."

Livestock Exposition, Nov. 3 to 10

The Pacific International Livestock exposition to be held November 3 to 10 at Portland, gives promise this year of being one of the most outstanding shows in our entire history, which is saying a great deal. In the beef section, the Shorthorns are particularly strong; the Angus and Herefords about as usual. Over in the dairy division, quality and quantity of Holsteins as usual. The Jerseys will probably show more quality than ever before in their history, with a splendid number. The same thing may apply to the Guernsey division, with a largely increased showing. The Brown Swiss people are going to be very happy over the good increase, while the Ayrshires will outnumber 3 to 1 any previous exhibit.

Relieving Themselves

With the farm relief question being bumped from first one side to the other of the political fence, farmers are doing some relief work in different parts of the country that is really constructive and is truly farm relief.

A Kansas farmer, John D. Brader of Oswego, rented out three-fourths of his land seven years ago and devoted the rest to dairy cattle and poultry. From 17 cows and 350 hens he cleared $2,600 last year. Fifteen years ago he was a renter; now he owns his farm and is president of a bank.

A. E. Nelson of Gonvik, Minnesota, found a few dairy cows profitable, so he increased his herd, likewise his monthly milk check to something over $300.

An Iowa farmer got out of the beaten path by raising 30 acres of beets which brought him $3,600.

Many other incidents could be enumerated where by changing their methods success has been attained. This change is rapidly taking place in this part of Oregon where climatic conditions are ideal for dairying, sheep and poultry raising.

The democratic nominee for county commissioner having declined to enter the final race, the Democratic Central Committee has approved the candidacy of A. W. Lawson, the independent aspirant for the position. Mr. Lawson is well qualified, and without doubt, would make an efficient official.

Dr. Mansfield Robinson, British psychic devotee, has just returned from a trip to Mars and has quite a good story on what he saw while spending the week end at that resort, but failed to mention what make of car was most popular with the Martians.

Charles Dawes was honored by a standing cheer at Madison Square Garden the other night which proves him to be popular even if the republican convention did give him the cold shoulder last June.

A bread war is in progress in Portland. Evidently the net proceeds of the business are getting too large and the prospects of a husky income tax is looming in the distance.

SAYS FARMERS NEED HOOVER AND TARIFF

Congressman Dickinson Warns Against Past Records of Democrats.

PLATFORM IS EVASIVE

Iowa Leader Declares Hoover Knew How to Handle Agricultural Problems.

WOODSTOCK, Ia.—Herbert Hoover and a protective tariff was the specific recommended for the curing of farm ills by Congressman L. J. Dickinson of Algona, Ia., a leader of the farm bloc in the House, in an address here this afternoon at the farmers' meeting and Republican rally.

"The record of the Democratic party has always been for a tariff for revenue only," Congressman Dickinson said, "and they have never been converted to a tariff for protective purposes.

"Herbert Hoover, in his acceptance speech, declared 'an adequate tariff is the foundation of farm relief.' He further declared that 'the domestic market must be protected. I will use my office and influence to give the farmer the full benefit of our historic tariff policy."

"Protection of dairy commodities has greatly increased under the protective tariff policies as carried out under the present Republican administration. We increased by executive order the tariff on dairy products from eight to twelve cents a pound. This domestic market can be preserved for the American producer under the Republican policies, and it can be lost under the policy outlined by the Democratic platform.

"Apparently, to satisfy a certain group of farmers, a cleverly devised sentence was written into the Democratic platform whereby the party pledges that an honest endeavor will be made to formulate a legislative plan whereby the losses in the control of surplus crops will be charged back against the unit of the product. This is a faint effort to describe the equalization fee. After the adoption of this platform, Governor Smith was quoted in the newspapers as saying that he was opposed to the fee, but that he pledged that the mechanics would be devised through conferences with the friends of agriculture to formulate a legislative program to carry out his platform pledges. This is the same problem over which a dispute has been raging for eight years. The Democratic platform simply adds more confusion to an already confused situation.

"The pledge of Herbert Hoover is definitely certain. He knows in advance how this problem can be handled. Any conference he calls will be merely for the purpose of arranging specific details. His pledge creates the experimental stage of such a program. He believes agriculture can be organized to where it will be self-sustaining, and by reason of his knowledge and experience, he is in a position where he can head that organization."

Responds to Cheers

Herbert Hoover responds to the cheers of the vast throngs that greeted him on his tour through New Jersey. He was greeted with enthusiasm everywhere, especially in the so-called Democratic strongholds of Mayor Hague in Hudson County.

Tariff Came First

The first of our policies which have given security and expansion of employment has been the enactment of the protective tariff. - HERBERT HOOVER in his Newark speech.
