An editorial in the Ripley, New York, Record gives excellent advice to towns that want to get on the road to progress. "One of the best ways for community growth is of course the attraction of new industries," the Record says. "New industries bring new people and new life and more prosperity to the community. A great many cities and towns point with pride to their excellent location, their railroad facilities and the wealth of the surrounding country when they seek to attract new industries. This is all well and good. But another thing which is and should be taken into consideration is the tax rate."

"High taxes are a serious handicap to industries. As the center of population changes industries are constantly shifting but they will not go into cities and towns which are burdened with excessive tax rates. There are too many live communities where such a condition does not exist. The city or town which wants to grow will start in by running its government efficiently and keeping its tax rate to the minimum consistent with progressive government."

Operation of daily north bound and south bound through interstate motor coach service between San Francisco and Portland, to be commenced November 18 by the Southern Pacific Motor Transport company, has been announced by T. B. Wilson, vice president and general manager for the company.

The run between the two cities will be made in 29 hours and 40 minutes.

"Motor coaches used in this service," Wilson said, "will be modern and commodious. As the operation will be interstate only passengers from Oregon to California points, or from California to points in Oregon, will be carried."

Farmers' co-operative business associations transacted business to the amount of $2,300,000,000 in the 1927 marketing season, says a report by the department of agriculture, for the 11,400 associations listed by the department. The business credited to each of the several groups was as follows: handling grain, $680,000; dairy products, $620,000,000; livestock, $220,000,000; fruit and vegetables, $200,000,000; cotton, $97,000,000; poultry and eggs, $10,000,000; nuts $4,600,000; tobacco, $22,000,000; wool, $9,000,000.

Critics are giving Oregon a slight edge in the coming Oregon-Oregon State game, November 17. Oregon's fine showing against California caused the critics to turn the edge to Oregon. The same California team that won from Oregon 13 to 6 tied Southern California who defeated the Orangemen 19 to 0.

Both Oregon and Oregon State defeated Washington by nearly the same count. Oregon gathered 27 points and Oregon State scored 29 to the Huskies 0. The difference in the score is a safety as both teams scored four touchdowns and converted three kicks.

Paul J. Schirler head coach of the Oregon Staters, has won three of the four games played with Oregon since he took charge of the Orange grid machine.

Eleven hundred additional seats have been moved into Bell field for the Oregon-Oregon State game. These seats which are selling for $2 each are directly in front of the west grand stand and are nearer the field than any others. Several hundred seats in the covered section of the grand stand are still available to the public. Carl Ledell, graduate manager, expects to have every seat sold for the game with Oregon.

The road district meeting of district No. 4, called for the 17th of this month at the Pine Grove school house, for the purpose of accepting or rejecting a proposal to levy a special tax to raise money with which to buy a road maintainer or grader, is made confusing by the wording of the notice published elsewhere in the Enterprise reading in part as follows: "to determine whether or not said road district shall vote a special tax of $3,000 upon all the taxable property within said road district for the improvement of the roads therein as follows, to-wit: grading, graveling, draining and repairing said roads."

Mr. Charles Nichols informs us that some opposition seems apparent for the reason that it was well understood the money was to be for a maintainer or grader, which the notice does not mention, and wishes us to state that notwithstanding the wording of the notice as published by the county court, the $3,000 proposed special tax is for the purchase of a maintainer or grader and for no other purpose.

A statement showing nearly a half million dollars invested by new settlers attracted to this state through the work of the Oregon state chamber of commerce is revealed in the October report made recently by W. G. Ide, manager. The exact amount is $429,700 invested during October by the newcomers who purchased 3230 acres of land. Letters were received from 73 families stating they had decided to move to Oregon and they would have $171,700 to invest.

Mr. Ide further notes that inquiries about Oregon are increasing particularly at this season of the year when the cold winters are beginning to set in back east.

Our musical education has been grossly neglected, our sense of rhythm, harmony, technique is a flat tire and we know nothing of what is termed music now. We've arrived at this conclusion after trying to figure out why it is necessary to have the fellow who makes the static by halving the valves of a cornet.

The federal radio commission picked an inappropriate time for the re-allocating of broadcasting stations and Armistice Day programs over the radio were spoiled more or less by the inability of fans to pick up their favorite stations.

There's Nothing Like the Bridge-Beach WOOD SUPERIOR CIRCULATOR

Built Like a Warm Air Furnace
The cold air enters at the bottom, is heated and humidified between the fire pot and the outer casing—and passes out through the top, CIRCULATING the warm, moist, healthful air to the most distant corners of the adjoining rooms. Has wonderful heating capacity—will heat several rooms comfortably in the coldest weather. Burns cord wood, chips, blocks, knots—is easily regulated and heats up quickly in the morning. Comes in beautiful Walnut Enamel finish and also in plain black with Wellsville polished steel body.
