Provides Short Course For P.T.A.

Any one interested in child study or child psychology should attend the meeting of the Parent-Teacher association at the school house, tonight at 7:45. The University of Oregon provides short courses on these subjects for groups organized by the P.T.A.

The extension service of O.S.C. sends out suggestions for nutrition and health programs for local associations. The outlines are prepared by Mrs. Jessamine Chapman Williams, professor of foods and nutrition, and are sent out free on request.

Guiding principles for the P.T.A. are:

- 1.—The welfare of children is the objective.
- 2.—Financial support of the schools is a public responsibility.
- 3.—Policies are decided by the organization as a whole.
- 4.—The work of the association is shared by mutual agreement.
- 5.—Entertainment and money-making are of minor importance.
- 6.—Personal grievances are adjusted in private conferences.

The Parent-Teacher association is:

- 1.—A volunteer organization free from individual or group control.
- 2.—Democratic in objects, membership and form of government.
- 3.—Non-political, non-sectarian, non-commercial.
- 4.—Organized constructive cooperation of parents and teachers.
- 5.—Cooperative always but does not join other organizations.
- 6.—A national and international movement. Nation wide cooperation safeguards the welfare of all children everywhere.

President Coolidge Speaks on Farm Relief; Favors Cooperative Methods

In a recent address President Calvin Coolidge spoke at length on the marketing of farm products by the farmer. "The lesson which has not been so well learned," the president said, "is that of marketing. One of the handicaps of agriculture is temporary overproduction. The world is hungry to consume all that the farmer ever raises. His difficulty arises from attempting to sell at the wrong time or the wrong place."

"In meeting this difficulty, perhaps the most successful method has been through cooperative associations. They have enabled agriculture to take better advantage of all the agencies of distribution and unify all the agencies of production distribution and consumption so that they can function as a coordinated whole, to sell at the right time and at the right place."

"This movement toward cooperative marketing is still in its infancy. It has sometimes failed through lack of management, but it is sound in theory, and when conducted in a businesslike manner offers the most promising solution to the great marketing problem. It avoids any attempt at price fixing or putting the government

SOCIETY NEWS

From Our Regular Correspondents

One of the pleasant social events of the fall was the annual dinner of the members of the Study club with their families as complimented guests last Thursday evening.

The dinner was given in the dining room of the I.O.O.F. hall which had been prettily decorated for the occasion. Later several hours were spent socially.

Tuesday evening Mrs. J. W. Hussey was hostess at a six o'clock dinner at her home in East Halsey, honoring Miss Adah Nelson and Miss Gladys McCormack. The prettily appointed table was centered with a vase of flowers. In the evening the hostess and her guests formed a theater party at "King of Kings."

PINE GROVE

Wednesday afternoon fourteen members of the You Go I Go club enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Russel Githens. PROCLAMATION

At all times and in all places, men have gathered together at the close of the harvest to give thanks to the Divine Power which has blessed their labors and made them to prosper. Deep rooted in the heart of mankind is the instinct to make grateful acknowledgement to a guiding Providence which is above and beyond the work of human minds and human hands.

Our national observance of an annual day of Thanksgiving is a heritage from the Pilgrim Fathers, who assembled at the turn of the year to offer prayer and praise to Almighty God from whom came their strength to endure daily hardship and to face unknown danger. It is fitting that we should reverently continue in this day of prosperity and security the institution they founded amidst adversity and peril.

Now, therefore, in conformity with the proclamation of the President of the United States which comes as a recurring reminder of our national unity in the perpetuation of this American custom, I, L. L. Patterson, Governor of Oregon, do proclaim Thursday, November 29th, 1928, as Thanksgiving Day, and do hereby set it aside as a public holiday.

Let us on this day give thought to man's fellowship with nature in achieving the fruits of the harvest. Let us confirm and strengthen the ties of family life and renew the bond of hearth and home. Let us express our gratitude for peace by extending the spirit of good will to all the world and for prosperity by lending generous and kindly aid to those in sorrow or need. Let us give thanks for manifold material blessings by turning our minds and hearts to the things of the spirit.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State of Oregon to be hereunto affixed this 19th day of November, A. D. 1928.

L. L. PATTERSON,
Governor.

4-H Club Organized

A Girls' 4-H club was organized at Peoria Thursday by Mrs. Nora Coleman, instructor in the public schools of this city. There are now two divisions, first and second year, and the membership is nine. Arlene Lamar was elected president, Ruth Bayne vice president, and Marjory McPherson secretary. Mrs. J. W. Lamar was selected club leader and Miss Agnes Chandler assistant leader. The club members are Ruth and Mary Frances Bayne, Doreen Githens, Selma Logan, Viola Stroud, Veneta Prady, Marjory McPherson, Esther Carothers and Arlene Lamar.

The club will commence work soon after Thanksgiving.

SCHOOL NOTES

MURIEL LAKE, REPORTER

The different classes enjoyed slides showing subjects which are being studied and they prove quite helpful.

Miss Nelson's English III class which is studying journalism have been receiving copies of other newspapers among which was the Monroe Hi Flash with Miss Iris McPherson, a former Halsey girl, as editor in chief.

Next Wednesday, November 28, at 2 p. m., the school will give a Thanksgiving program at the city hall to which all patrons are invited.

Monday afternoon a special student body meeting was held to decide on a program for the year's work. A committee was appointed and their plans accepted at a regular meeting held Wednesday.

Many students of Mrs. Coleman's room received fine grades in the county spelling and arithmetic tests. Those receiving above 95 in spelling and 90 in arithmetic are Kenneth Warkinger, Cedric Moody, Linden Bramwell, Elaine Straley, Leroy Wade, Donna Moss, Jean Sturtvant, Jimmy Smith, Junior Wade. Those above 95 only in the spelling are Rene Alford, Charles Reeves, Lucille Jackson, Donald Neill, Mary Ann Perry, Phyllis Holt and Fern Rossman. Those above 90 only in arithmetic are Joralea Moody, Frederick Robins, Harry Chance, Billie Kirk, Blanford Moss.

The seniors are working very hard on their play which will be given December 14th at the city hall.

Editorially speaking we need pep! Some good high school spirit. Let's show the rest of the county that something can and is being done in old H. H. S. Don't let's hold back but rather let each of us do our part cheerfully and make it worth while. Don't let us make it a drudge.

Mrs. Bert S. Clark who has been quite sick the past week is able to be up now.

The Perfect Tax Would Be a Tax On Inaction, Says Noted Writer

Theoretically, the perfect tax would be a tax on inaction, says the Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin Journal, in commenting on the unjust method of taxation as practiced today and ever since this county was recognized as a free and independent nation by the rest of the world.

Commenting further the Journal says, "the proper man to tax would be the loafer, not the worker; idle land, not used land; inactive capital, not active capital; lack of enterprise, not enterprise. Such a tax would not be practical, but it would be a just tax. Our present taxes are based on an opposite theory. We tax thrift, action, capital, enterprise. We levy taxes in proportion to ability to pay, which means that the harder a man works the more we tax him; the more thrifty he becomes, the more we soak him; the more efficient he grows, the more we knock him down.

"If a man saves his money and buys a house, he is taxed; if he wastes his money in extravagant living, he is not taxed. None of our taxes encourage production by the simple process of discouraging idleness, shiftlessness, inefficiency. The devil himself could not do a neater job of hobbling the race."
