

Former Shedd Resident Dies

Shedd, Nov. 28.—Funeral services for the late Solomon S. Myers were held at the Methodist church Sunday. Rev. Filbert was in charge of the services. Burial was in the Pine Grove cemetery. The services at the grave were in charge of the Masons.

Mr. Myers was born in Ohio January 13, 1861, and died in Los Angeles, California, November 20, 1928.

After coming to Oregon Mr. Myers made his home between Peoria and Shedd for many years. He was one of the founders of the Shedd State bank. Three years ago Mr. Myers went to California in the hopes that a change of climate would benefit his health.

Mr. Myers was never married. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Ruth Howell and a brother at Cottage Grove and a brother in Portland.

This Is Thanksgiving Day

The Pilgrim with his blunderbus
A turkey shot in snow-bound wood,
Then bent the knee in thanks because
His stunted family had food.
Now trainloads of the royal birds
Go rushing, roaring to the East
From mid-west plains or from this coast
To grace each year's Thanksgiving feast.

This realm now spreads from shore to shore,
Beyond the Pilgrims wildest dreams,
And wealth beyond all other lands
Here trickle in Pactolian streams.

The radio, telegraph or phone,
Electric juice or railroad train
He knew not, nor conceived that man
Would travel by aeroplane.

If Pilgrim sires on bended knee
Gave thanks for blessings that they had,
A thousand times more cause have we
To raise Thanksgiving psalms glad.

—Wm. H. Wheeler.

CHARLIE FRY

No Longer Unappreciative of Art, Says Leader

New York City.—The not infrequently heard accusation that Americans do not appreciate good music is absurd, Americans do like good music but it must be translated for them into their own American rhythm. They do not understand it in French, Italian or German phraseology.

It is Charlie Fry, musical director of the Million Dollar Pier at Atlantic City, who is authority for this theory.

Fry has played to twelve million people in the last few years. In fact, he holds the greatest attendance record of any musical director in this country.

All Native
"Examine the good music of any land," he insists, "whether it be that of Italy or the South Sea Islands, and you will see that it is native music. It speaks the language of the people for whom it was created. America is a new country politically and musically speaking. We have no record of its music before the English and Spanish settlements, except in rare cases of Indian tribes. While America was creating and evolving its own music, alien artists presented us with the works of their native masterpieces.

"Because we did not respond to it as did their own countrymen, we have frequently been accused of not appreciating 'good music.' But now that America has a music all its own, the absurdity of this idea is proved.

Music-Mad
"Today as a nation, America is music-mad but highly discriminating. In fact, all the civilized countries of the world are borrowing this rhythm which we have created. Many of our popular numbers will be classics of the new generation.

"I am playing a foxtrot this year, 'You're A Real Sweetheart,' which I predict will live as long as the folk dances of Hungary and the coal-miner songs of Wales. It has 'it'."

Charlie Fry has a vivid family background for his own career as a foremost interpreter of modern American music. His grandfather was first violinist for Jenny Lind and one of the first foreign artists to take native American music seriously.
