Charters Boat

Steamboat Madeline Makes Trip to Multnomah Falls and back; Picnic Eaten At Falls

The student body of Beaverton High School chartered the steamboat Madeline for a trip up the Columbia River as far as Multnomah Falls. Practically the entire student body and faculty and many of the parents and relatives took advantage of the excellent opportunity for an excursion and accompanied us on our picnic.

The steamboat left dock at the foot of Alder Street at 8:45 A. M., carrying as a cargo as jolly a group of people as ever embarked for such an excursion. The cabin was practically filled with lunch baskets while on the lower deck stood three large tubs of ice cream. A graphophone and a piano afforded music for entertainment while school songs and school yells told many a deck hand and passenger of passing boats of the joy and enthusiasm of those on board the Madeline.

Captain Hosford, a man who has traveled the river since 1888 honored us with his presence and told stories of the early life on the Columbia River. He also pointed out to us many places of interest and told us of changes in the river's course and did all in his power to make the trip an educational one as well as one of pleasure.

The boat arrived at Multnomah Falls at 1:30 and while many lunch baskets had been opened before this hour, yet in general they still remained intact. After landing the entire group made a hasty retreat to the picnic grounds at the foot of the falls where they spent an hour in satisfying the inner man by consuming the contents of the lunch baskets and the fifteen gallons of ice cream.

After lunch a couple of hours were spent in hill-climbing, taking pictures, exploring the cave back of the falls and taking a good cold shower bath at the same time. Then lunch baskets retreat made to the boat. The were gathered up and a hasty return trip to Portland was indeed a very pleasant one also and at the same time was made in much less time owing to the fact that we were going down stream. The officers of the boat were very considerate for our curiosity for we were permitted to investigate every nook and corner of the boat and our questions were answered with painstaking detail. While many enjoyed the chaps on the upper deck, the engine room seemed to be a great source of interest for many others.

Taking it all in all, there was something of interest for everyone on board and when the boat arrived at the Portland harbor, all expressed the same sentiment in that the trip had been the best ever.

SPRING IN THE BACK YARD

An old joke ran to the effect that many fine houses had a Queen Anne front but a Mary Ann back yard.

Many people clean up a front yard as they go along but their back yards will go along all gradually accumulating, until by May it looks like "a last year's crow nest," as the old timers say.

There is something rather fine and sincere about the family that hates disorder so much that they keep their back yard just as shiny as their front. You could pin faith on people like that. If you bought apples of them, you could feel sure that the bottom ones would compare favorably with those on the top.

The best thing is to have a grand cleaning at this time of year, and resolve that from now on you will have a back yard which you could use for a parlor if the house gets too crowded.

A scathing rebuke to the motley army of jazz babies—good guys—sweet mamma—hot doggies—and all the rest of the steaming array that masquerades in the fair name of Good-fellowship. You won't want to miss it. "Alimony" at the Pacific Theatre Saturday and Sunday.

BEALS FOR FAIR PLAY

The Residents of Tillamook County are endorsing Arthur G. Beals for the primary nomination for joint senator from the district comprising Washington, Yamhill, Lincoln and Tillamook Counties. Asking fair play at the hands of their sister county, who has able senatorial representation.

This District has an assessed valuation of Ninety Million Dollars. Tillamook County representation in the Senate with this condition would be to a large extent, taxation without representation. At the present time neither Lincoln or Tillamook counties have a coast man in the Senate, except as they are represented by a joint senator. Both Yamhill and Washington Counties have an individual senator. Would it not be fair to give the coast counties senatorial representation, and Mr. Beals is the only candidate for senator from those two Counties.

Mr. Beals has been a resident of Tillamook County for 33 years has taken an active interest in the development of the County, is one of its foremost citizens. He has been a member of the Methodist Church for a period contributed liberally of his time of 24 years, and has at all times and money to its support, and has endorsement of the Ministerial association of his county. He has been identified with the dairy business and owns and runs one of the largest dairy farms in the county, sending one-third of the above amount or $30,000,000, and ranking as the 6th richest county in the state. The main industries of Tillamook are cheese, trees and fish. Unlike our sister counties of Washington and Yamhill, our fishermen annually contribute $25,000,000 to the State. Tillamook County, being a coast County, also has its interests largely along the same lines as Tillamook County and Lincoln and Tillamook together, including the contributions by the fishermen, pay more than one-half of the state taxes which are paid in the entire District. To deny them direct representation is to deny them direct representation.

Few Attend

Fire Meeting

Mayor Erickson and Council Call Fire Meeting; Only Nine Beaverton Citizens Attend

In regard to the matters of which I am about to write, I only wish to say like the father tells the little boy when he takes him across the paternal knee and administers the new dusty slipper, "It hurts me more than it does you."

The Mayor and the City Council at the regular meeting held Monday evening May 4 passed a resolution calling for a meeting to be held at the High School auditorium for the purpose of organizing a fire department for the town. While it was not possible for "ye editor" to be present on account of having a picture show running that evening, he had hoped that there would be a big attendance and that some sort of an organization might be formed.

Those who were present tell us that only nine persons were present and that there was no use of trying to make any sort of organization. This is too bad for this town needs a fire department.

The apathy that is manifested by numerous of our citizens is lamentable. They subscribe liberally enough when a paper is passed asking for money for a worthy cause. That is very commendable so far as it goes. But it does not go very far. Money cannot and does not buy many of the better things in life.

We take it that it is not amiss to inquire into a few of the reasons of the state of affairs above mentioned. What is your point of view in regard to the matter of being willing to give one's money, just simply cash, cold and heartless here, when it is human sympathy and understanding that is asked? Supposing that your nearest beloved was dying, and some one came and offered cash, how would you like it?

Any city has a community spirit, a life that is the City separate and distinct from any other, a composite of the spirits of its citizens. Such a life must be built up in a community that comes anywhere fulfilling its destiny. It is the duty of every citizen of a community to add his mite to that life which is essential to his community.

For the upbuilding of such a life and spirit we maintain clubs, churches, schools, fraternalities, have a city government, do many of the things that enter into the life of every citizen. If we love our city, let it be if you gave only of your money to its support? Do you think that our pastor would come to a church and preach every Sunday to empty pews? Are your teachers so unfeeling that they would like to teach in a room without any children? And yet you do not come to meetings that are called for the betterment of your community. Cross your heart, hope to die, are you giving to your community what you should if you offer hard cash as a sop for your non-appearance at the places where only human beings can hope to accomplish anything?

If some one takes exception to the statements above, we will be pleased to hear from him or her. Do we need a fire department? I say we do.

DR. VIA APPOINTED

CAMPAIGN MANAGER

All of the Banks alumni of the University of Oregon have begun work on their campaign to raise a large share of the million dollars alumni fund which will be used to erect new buildings.

Guy F. Via-09 of Banks is local chairman of the campaign which will be completed May 30. University of Oregon alumni all over the nation are organizing for this work which is a part of the University's $5,000,000 gift Campaign which is to finance its five year building program. Students on the campus have raised $219,000 to build Students Union and the people of the city of Eugene have proposed to issue bonds to raise $5,000 for the University's auditorium. The alumni's share will be used for a library, a men's gymnasium and a war memorial court in honor of the University of Oregon men who died in the World War.

The Gift Campaign has been organized because increased enrollment has made it necessary to use most of the University's income for instruction, leaving small margin for buildings. The University is determined not to "boresale" education and to keep its standards high despite increasing numbers. It looks to its alumni throughout the country and friends of higher education in Oregon to supply funds to care for its immediate building needs. This is not a new departure for State Universities; many of them have found it impossible to adequately finance rapidly growing work from state appropriations alone. State universities have received over fifty million dollars in private gifts, the University of California alone received over $13,000,000.
