

THE BEAVERTON REVIEW

Consolidated, December 28, 1923 with THE BANKS HERALD which was Established in 1910

Volume III No. 6

$1.50 Per Year

Beaverton, Washington County, Oregon, Friday, January 9, 1925

THE BANKS HERALD, Volume XV, No. 8

DESOLATE ORPHAN BECOMES CHILD PRODIGY

AZADOUNI PACHALIAN

"Do all the little girls in Armenia dress like you Zadi?" "Oh, boy! no, you ought to see how many clothes we don't have." This conversation in a Portland office is typical of the quick wit and ready response of Azadouni Pachalian, who was brought to America by her foster mother, Mrs. Pearl R. Gannaway, formerly of Medford and Seattle.

"Little Azadouni is no more lovable nor brighter than the majority of the 1,500 children over whom Dr. Gannaway has medical oversight in Beirut, Syria," states Mrs. Gannaway. "It was her utter helplessness during the six months we fought so hard for her life that endeared her to us so that we felt we could not give her up and I brought her to America to adopt her." In Judge Tallman's court in Seattle the adoption was carried out while she, four and a half years old, solemnly raised her hand and declared, "I adopt you as my mamma."

Azadouni was the first and only child of a young couple of education and refinement and was born shortly after the armistice was signed and because it was thought that freedom had come she was named Azadouni (daughter of freedom). But the close of the war did not bring peace to the Near East and during the last three years more than a million people have been rendered homeless. Many of these who are now homeless refugees were three years ago living in modern, steam-heated homes and were sending their children to foreign countries for an education. Azadouni and her parents were among those exiled. The father was driven into the Turkish army where he was killed. Azadouni and her mother wandered in the woods from the time she was nine months old until she was a year old when both mother and child were suffering from measles, pneumonia and dysentery.

They found refuge in a Near East hospital only to be discovered by the Turks, who two days later drove the mother out to die. Why they left the baby no one knows. Then began the longest and hardest fight of Dr. Gannaway's long medical career. The result speaks for itself in this happy, bonny girl, who in a test made at Gresham Normal School showed a mentality of eight years at the age of four and a half.

"There are thousands of children with all of Azadouni's capabilities, homeless in Greek and Syrian refugee camps today. They are beyond the reach of the Near East Relief simply because present funds are exhausted when we have cared for the fifty thousand children already in our care. Recently a benevolent mother gave me $60 to guarantee the care for a year of a child such as Azadouni. Her love now flows out to a child somewhere in the Near East," states J. J. Handaker, Regional Director of Near East Relief.

The Near East Relief offices are at 308 Burke Bldg., Seattle and 613 Stock Exchange, Portland.

Mr. Albert Brandt has been on the sick list, but is able to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn B. Alexander and son of Portland visited with relatives last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Swenson attended a party given at the home of August Warner in Portland Wednesday night.

Shirley Koch from the McKinley district is a new pupil in the grade school, her parents having just moved into a house on Peterson Ave. north of town.

The Editor called on Earl E. Fisher yesterday and found him planting strawberries, so he put in a bid for a piece of short-cake when the berries got ripe.

R. B. Denney, district manager of the Mutual Life Insurance Company attended the annual convention in Portland on Jan. 6 and 7. He reports a splendid meeting. These meetings are held for the instruction of the agents working for the company.

J. H. Chandler has purchased 55,000,000 feet of government timber five miles west of Colton Grove, and will build a 100,000-foot mill.

ARE YOU LOYAL TO YOUR COMMUNITY?

Are you reading the advertisements in your home paper? If not, why not? Certainly it isn't because you aren't buying anything. If you do read the advertisements do you ever tell your home merchant that you read his ad in the paper? Or if you don't find his ad do you ever ask him why he didn't advertise in the home paper?

Advertising is the backbone of the local country newspaper as much as it is of the city daily. The paper that doesn't carry advertising is necessarily short-lived, unless used as a press sheet by some big corporation.

Mr. Merchant, are the goods on your shelves advertised in the columns of your local paper? Do you ever stop to think that the canned goods you deal out are put up by a firm that is spending thousands of dollars so as to draw the trade to the centralizing department stores or do you want that advertising placed where it will help to sell your goods, the goods you paid your money for and that you expect to sell to your trade? Next time when the salesman comes in ask him why his firm isn't advertising their wares in the local paper.

SECRETARY OF BOARD OF PENSIONS RETIRES

A. E. Hess, secretary of the Board of Pensions for the S. P. Company, retired January 1 from active service and is succeeded by James E. Cunningham, formerly assistant secretary of the Board.

The Pensions Department of the Southern Pacific Company is one of the first to be put into effect by a railroad. Since its establishment in 1903, nearly 2100 employees have been pensioned by the railroad. Of this number 1129 are still living.

More than 25,000,000 has been paid out by the Southern Pacific Company to its pensioned veterans since the system became effective.

In addition to pensioning its employees for faithful service the railroad also provides the "old timers" with free transportation for themselves and their families. A club room is also maintained for them at the company's general office building.

IMPROVED SEED SHOWS HIGH YIELDS

Growing tests, including 11 different strains of Burbank potatoes from the Willamette Valley and Washington County, were made by the county agent on Fred Sewell's farm at Hillsboro and Otto Brose's farm on Chehalis Mountain. These potatoes were planted side by side on the same date and harvested at the same kind.

Improved or selected seed potatoes in both of these tests outyielded unimproved seed. On the Fred Sewell farm certified seed from Wm. Peters yielded 210 per cent more marketable potatoes than unimproved seed.

In the test on Otto Brose's farm Washington County certified seed yielded as high as 169.7 sacks of marketable potatoes per acre against 71.5 sacks of marketable potatoes and 33 sacks of culls in the case of unimproved seed.

One lot of Burbank potatoes gave a total yield of 274 sacks per acre but on account of the spindle tuber disease the yield of marketable potatoes was 64 sacks less per acre than from certified seed.

NEW YEAR'S QUESTS ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cavanese entertained a number of friends on New Year's Day. Dinner was served to twenty-two guests, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. L. L. Walker. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. Roswell and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Goddard and family, Mrs. L. E. Holcomb, Miss Mrs. White, Mr. Wilbur Holcomb and Helen Cavanese.

In Revolutionary days the Patriots turned a little tea into some billions of gallons of water. The restaurant keepers are still following their example.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENTS

Interesting Little Notes from the Surrounding Country as Told by Our Active Special Correspondents Weekly

SCOFIELD NEWS

I. P. Bledsoe of Burrville was in camp on Monday forenoon.

Mr. R. Bledsoe is quite ill at his home here at this writing.

Chas. Myers was in Buxton on New Year's Day between the trains.

Dr. G. F. Via was called to Scofield Sunday morning on business.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Durham were shopping in Hillsboro Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Steel were in Hillsboro Sunday afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Richter and son were in Portland over Christmas Day.

Otto Schroeder was in Portland several days during the shut down here.

Mr. E. B. Whittlesey made a business trip to Portland on Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Buckbee and daughter made a business trip to Portland Monday morning.

Mrs. Joe Bellish and son visited New Year's Day at the John Bellish home in Buxton.

Mrs. Ed. Misner and children visited a few days this week with Mrs. Misner's mother in Banks.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Myers visited several days during the holidays at the W. T. Myers home in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Noack and children visited over Christmas and New Year's with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse West, in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gratton visited at Long Beach, Washington, over the holidays, returning to their home here on Sunday.

The case of the State against Peter Vandehey, discontinued on account of the outbreak of smallpox, will be resumed Jan. 12.

Mike Mirka, convicted of violating the Volstead act, has been granted parole from jail and ninety days to pay a $100 fine.

The Native Sons and Daughters listened to an illustrated lecture by G. H. Himes, organizer of the Oregon Historical Society.

Frederick Brenner, after serving four of his six months' sentence for prohibition law violation, has been paroled on good behavior.

A membership drive will be launched at a meeting of the Native Sons and Daughters on January 9. The meeting will be held in the grange hall.

The wedding of Harold Short and Svea Anderson took place at the home of the bride's parents, near Banks. The couple is well known around Banks.

The bridge between Hillsboro and Laurel, where the highway crosses the Tualatin River, was washed out, due to high water. Repairs were begun at once.

Miss Florence Snyder of Huber was married last week to Frederick M. Smith of Beaverton. The ceremony was witnessed by a few intimate friends of the couple.

Stills numbering in the neighborhood of 300 were reduced to junk Saturday in the court house. They represent two years' active warfare on moonshiners and bootleggers.

Hobart J. Ely has been given a divorce from his wife, Edna Estelle Ely, on grounds of incompatibility of temperament. He was granted custody of their minor child, Hobart Woodrow Ely.

The estate of Wm. Mahon, who died here Dec. 29, has been admitted for probate. It consists of about $30,000. There are said to be two heirs, a son and a daughter, both living here. E. I. Kuratli is administrator.

Divorce proceedings have been filed in the Circuit court here by Frank J. Miller against his wife, Maude Miller. The complaint alleges cruelty and desertion. They were married at Stanley, Wis., Jan. 15, 1902.

The New Year was welcomed by Hillsboro citizens in various ways. Hundreds attended the dance in the Park Auditorium. A number of private parties were also held, at which the guests sat up to watch the arrival of the New Year.

The mayor-elect and members of the city council of this city were guests of the Chamber of Commerce at the Monday forum luncheon at the Washington grill. Members of the city

BURRVILLE

A. E. Rye was in Buxton on Tuesday afternoon.

Ernest Place and family were visiting in Burrville Sunday.

J. M. Mills made a business trip to Banks Tuesday afternoon.

The lumber haulers are back on the job after a two-weeks lay-off.

Frank Peepers and family spent Christmas at the J. M. Brown home.

Mrs. A. E. Rye was a Tuesday afternoon caller at the I. P. Bledsoe home.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Myers of Molise spent Christmas at the J. D. Rainey home.

W. Churchill and wife of Aloha were Monday and Tuesday visitors at the home of I. P. Bledsoe.

C. D. Wymore and family returned home Monday from McMinnville where they spent the Christmas holidays.

A. E. Rye and family and J. M. Mills and wife were Friday evening visitors at the Bert Vail home in Manning.

M. B. Everett and daughter Frances of Portland and Mrs. John Maynard of Hillsboro were Christmas guests at the J. M. Brown home.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

Final inspection of seed potatoes for certification was made this last week and the following growers have seed potatoes sufficiently free from potato mosaic, wilt and other diseases to be classed as certified seed. In other words they have passed the two field inspections and the bin inspection: Wm. E. Peters, Otto Brose, H. P. Strickler, of Sherwood, Rt. 3; Roy Jacquith of Laurel, Rt. 3 and H. J. Valentine of Beaverton, Rt. 3.

This year's certification rules provide for a grade known as Oregon Standard. This class includes potatoes which will not certify but which should make excellent commercial seed.

Growers having seed of this class are Roy Jacquith, Otto Brose and H. P. Strickler of Sherwood, and K. S. Tontz of Beaverton, Rt. 1.

Staff were called upon for short speeches following the dinner hour.

An inter-city contest between American Legion posts of this city and Forest Grove will be launched shortly. Both of these cities have recently staged drives for new members. Committees have been appointed to meet and arrange the details for the coming contest.

Wet pavement was responsible for a motor accident Wednesday in which Peter Jossy of North Plains received severe, but not serious injuries. He was coming from Beaverton. He attempted to swerve his car to the side of the road to avoid hitting a passing machine, and he skidded into the ditch.

BANDITS PLAN

BANK ROBBERY

Some time last week Ralph Huff and wife, accompanied by two others, arrived in Portland from Roseville, California, having made their way by selling Christmas novelties along the road. In Portland they made their home with Mrs. Nettie Grace, a former resident of Aloha and well known in that vicinity.

Friday afternoon Huff and Mrs. Grace, his sister, accompanied by Huff, visited Beaverton, it is claimed, with the intention of laying plans for staging a hold-up of the Bank here. Whether this is what actually transpired is rather difficult to determine. The concrete evidence seems to be only a rough sketch of a map of the Beaverton Bank drawn on the walls of the basement of the house owned by Mrs. Grace.

It is claimed that the plans were all made, that the positions the bandits here to take were indicated on the map, and that a site had been selected for the posting of an auto in which the hold-up men would make their get-away.

The question arises: "Why didn't the detectives let them start the hold-up?" Of course some claim it was because of the danger of someone being killed. At any rate there can be no definite charges laid against the conspirators.

The cashier of the local bank when interviewed was rather noncommittal. He thought there might have been something to the story of the conspiracy, as do some of the people in Aloha, who are acquainted with Mrs. Grace and some of her relatives.

Mr. Gray also called the editor's attention to the fact that the Bank of Beaverton carried burglary and robbery insurance several times the amount of the cash and securities in the vault.

CADILLAC SEDAN

ROSE INTO CREEK

A good many of our citizens were exercised Saturday morning by the report of a new Cadillac sedan swimming in the creek just east of town.

The sedan was the property of A. S. Ellis of Portland who we believe has recently purchased the Hulbert farm just east of town and who is a nephew of J. W. Barnes.

He and his wife had business in Hillsboro and had just started for the county seat in the dense fog. He was driving probably a little closer to the edge of the pavement than he intended and had to sneeze. The wheel jerked a little bit and the side of the auto slid off the pavement.

Thinking nothing of it, the driver tried to run back on when suddenly glancing ahead he noticed the cement railing of the bridge. He pulled the car, intending to go down the bank and into the field but the steering apparatus didn't work as he expected and he got off the bank all right but stopped in the creek.

It was lucky, at that, as only a few feet further and the car would have been totally submerged in the flood water. It is said that the water came up over the cushions of the front seat.

A garage was called and the sedan rescued about noon. Neither it nor Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, the occupants of the car were little worse for the adventure although there were probably some rather damaged upholstery and maybe blistered varnish.

JOHN SPIES SELLS

BREEDING STOCK

John Spies well-known breeder of Guernseys, reports the sale of his eight months old bull calf which took second prize in his class at the International Stock Show this fall, to H. Reinikki of Quincy, Oregon, for the tidy sum of $200.

Just a few weeks ago he sold a four months old calf to J. Rejmus of Malin, Oregon, for $150. He says it pays to breed purebred stock much better than to raise any other kind.

"Whatever induced you to build your house in this dismal looking place?"

"Oh, man, can't you see how handy those two tall trees came in for stringing my aerial?"

THIS PORTLAND GIRL WON A $15,000 PRIZE

Miss Julia S. Groo, an 18-year-old Portland, Oregon, high school girl is the winner of the $15,000 modern electrically equipped home in the National Lighting contest in which over 1,000,000 school children participated.

Miss Groo also won the $200 cash grand prize in the Portland lighting contest. Her essay of 600 words was worth over $25 a word to her.

REGULAR COUNCIL MEETING HELD

The Beaverton Council held the first regular meeting of the year Monday evening in the city hall. Several matters were taken up and discussed but as this was the time for swearing in and organizing the new Council there was hardly time for sufficient consideration being given to warrant action.

C. C. Beach, H. J. Hughson, and Hugh Lewis are the new Councilmen, and W. E. Pegg the new Mayor. The following committees were appointed: Finance, Beach and Hughson; Streets and Walks, Hughson and Lewis; Sanitary, committee of the whole Council.

A. C. Allen was appointed as City Attorney, Floyd Allen, City Engineer; A. E. Story, Marshall and Dr. C. E. Mason, Health Officer. The Recorder's report was read and accepted and will be published next week.

George Thyn, Recorder, and A. Rossi, Councilman, are the only elected officers who are held over this year.

ODE TO ANNA

By Bill Shakyspeare

Oh Anna, how can I
Say just how I feel
When reading your stuff
As it comes from the reel?

It's razzzy or jazzy
Or maybe it's both,
But to tell you the truth
I'm a little bit both.

Your meter, oh, Peter!
It sure gets my goat,
And it's quite hard to tell
If ashore or afloat.

Take leisure and measure
Your lines a wee bit
And save all the people
From throwing a fit.

All you need is to heed
A few rules of the trade
And write some real stuff
And your fortune is made.

So hurry—don't wroly
And you'll win out yet;
Disappointments will come
And must always be met.

Effusions are illusions
Unless wrought with care,
So take my advice:
Of effusions beware.

A CALL FOR NEW LIFE

The Beaverton Chamber of Commerce has been very inactive for the last six months. Nothing has been done and in fact not much could have been done during that time.

But now that a new year has been ushered in it is to be hoped that the Chamber with the new year will revive, and do things. There are many very important things that will come up doing this year for the benefit of this fast growing town, and an active Chamber could do a great deal of good for the greater Beaverton.

One thing that can be mentioned is the necessity of having the road connecting the Beaverton Highway with the highway at Tigar as a market road. If that can be accomplished the State will furnish tar to surface the rocky road already established. This would make a better and more substantial road with less upkeep.

Blowing Bubbles

