CONCERT AND DANCE WILL BE GIVEN SOON

The Oregon Agricultural College military band will give a concert and dance in Hillsboro, March 20, when it stops on its tour of the lower Columbia river valley. Forty men will be picked from the organization by Captain H. L. Beard, director for 20 years, to make this trip during the ten days of spring vacation.
The river boat "Madeline" has been obtained for the trip down the Columbia. This will save time and expense for the organization as the men will be furnished meals and bunks on the boat.
Stops will be made at Hillsboro, Glatkanie, St. Helens, Ilwaco, Longview, Kelso, Cathlamet, Astoria and Seaside. With the experience and training the band has had the last year it is expected to make a good impression on its twentieth annual concert tour.
Dances as well as concerts are given in the towns visited to help defray the expense of the trip. The band orchestra, which plays for most of the student body dances and many receptions in Corvallis, is considered one of the best on the campus.
Every member of this well-known organization has been prominent in band work over the state. H. S. McCurley, assistant director of the college band, is director of the Corvallis high school band that took first place in the annual high school band contest in Corvallis last spring.
The band has made several trips to the northern part of the state in the last two years with the athletic teams. It accompanied the football team to Boise, Idaho, on Armistice Day last year, to Portland for the Multnomah-O. A. C. game, to Pendleton for the Whitman game last fall and to Portland again this year for the University of Southern California-O. A. C. game. On each trip the band was well received.

The club voted to award a scholarship to the O. A. C. Boys and Girls Summer School to the Jersey Calf Club winner at the Banks Hog and Dairy Show this year.
Officers elected for the ensuing year are J. J. Van Kleeck, President; Wm. Putnam, Secretary-Treasurer, and Geo. Biersdorf, Vice President.

DRESSMAKING AND MILLINERY CLASSES

Vocational classes in Dressmaking and Millinery are proving so popular throughout the state that the state department for Vocational Education is not finding the weeks quite long enough to make the rounds and establish their classes as rapidly as requests come in.
In these classes women are taught to repair old and apparently useless garments in a most satisfactory manner; some make children's clothes; others make a new dress or tailor a coat. Now that Spring is not so far away many new problems confront the homemaker.
Classes in Dressmaking and Millinery are soon to be organized in Beaverton. Join a class, where, under the direct supervision of a skilled dressmaker, you may have help with your Spring Sewing.

HUBER CITIZENS CONTRIBUTE TO TUNNEL

A few representative members of the Huber Commercial Club attended the Tunnel meeting at Beaverton on Tuesday, Feb. 3rd. So great was their enthusiasm that under the leadership of their President, E. J. Mann, a committee was appointed to personally call on everyone living in the Huber vicinity for a financial expression of their favor of the tunnel and their willingness to see it built.
The following were the committee: Messrs. Buchanan, Neiperl, Britz, Newcombe, Shaw, Mitzel, Patterson, Rose and Mann.
With the exception of two well-known families all responded gladly and generously with the result that $105.00 was turned over to the Oregon Tunnel District No. 1.
Mr. Mann wishes to extend his appreciation to the committee for their efforts and to the people of Huber for their ready response.

Hobo—Some sport, you. Ain't been pinched for over 6 months, eh? Had all the cops fooled, I suppose? How'd ya do it?

PIANO TEACHER TO COME HERE

Mr. Roy Goodman, pianist of Portland, is planning on opening a studio in Beaverton.
He was a student of the noted Hungarian pianist, Alexander Raab, on whose principles Mr. Goodman bases his instruction. These are commonly known as the Principles of Weight and Relaxation. This technic eliminates all finger pressure, muscular tension, stiff wrists, rigid hand positions and inflexibility in general. It enables the pianist, without any feeling of strain or fatigue, to play with any desired velocity and to produce an infinite variety of tonal effects.
Mr. Goodman is also a graduate of the Chicago Musical College.

Auxiliary Organized To Huber Club

Huber Commercial Club Will Start Membership Drive to Increase To Two Hundred

At its regular meeting Monday night the Huber Commercial Club decided to stage a sixty-day membership drive with the view of increasing its membership to two hundred or more. There is no doubt about the success of the drive, as the club has done, and more than ever is doing, a lot of good for the community. With Mr. Mann as its leader, who, by the way, is a "rustler," and now serving a second term as leader, we can all rest assured of a bright future for the club.
At 9:30 the wives and daughters surprised the gentlemen in attendance at the meeting by appearing on the scene announcing their intention of organizing an auxiliary to their club, which of course met with a hearty approval of all present. Forthwith the ladies proceeded to elect the following officers: President, Mrs. C. F. Niepert; Vice-President, Mrs. E. J. Mann; Secretary, Mrs. F. W. Livermore; Treasurer, Mrs. J. E. Mitzel.
Charter members are Mesdames Neiperl, Shaw, Mann, Livermore, Mitzel, Patterson, Rose, Alexander, and Miss Gladys Rose. Meetings will be held the first and third Tuesdays of each month.
At a late hour refreshments were served, and on departing the Commercial Club as well as the ladies felt that they had accomplished much by joining hands in making the club grow. Just watch the Huber Commercial Club and its auxiliary.

TWIG MINER IS HARMFUL TO ORCHARDS

The peach and prune twig-miner is a serious pest of apricot, prune, and peach in Oregon. The larva tunnels down the interior of the terminal twigs and kills them. Lately the pest has been found to eat the fruit, and this worry fruit causes much concern.
The worm is of a pinkish or brownish hue, nearly one-half inch in length, found in the burrow at the base of a wilted tip or spur or about the pit of the fruit. The adult is a small greyish moth flying with a zig-zag motion.
Two types of injury occur. The first brood blights the buds, causing them to fall off, killing the terminal twigs, while the second brood attacks the fruit. In an unsprayed orchard the wormy fruit will often average 18 to 30 per cent.
The control for these insects is to spray trees with commercial lime-sulfur spray 10 to 100 (1 to 10) from late February up to the early pink stage of the blossom buds. This is the standard spray as used by the O. A. C. experiment station.
Lime-sulfur 8 to 100 plus lead arsenate 2 to 100 applied just before blossoming has given excellent results. Nicotines sulfate, 40 per cent, at the rate of one pint to one hundred gallons of water applied while the trees are in full blossom gave practically 100 per cent control in some recent tests.
