Initiates Class

Prominent Men of Beaverton and Surrounding Towns Were Admitted to Class.

Tuesday evening of this week the lodge hall of the Silver Leaf Camp No. 8193 of the Modern Woodmen was the scene of great activity as there was a large class coming from all over Washington County.

Several prominent business men of Beaverton and other towns of this valley were there ready to take the trip on the lodge goat. There was regular Class Adoption put on for a goodly number of candidates who had been secured through the efforts of Deputy Glidden, who had been in this vicinity during the past few days.

After the initiatory ceremonies there was a regular feed served the members. All who were fortunate enough to be present report a very enjoyable evening.

Silver Leaf Camp is located at Aloha and a good many of the young men of our town are members.

Among those to take their degrees Tuesday night were A. E. Hanson, Wood and Coal dealer; Lambert Classon, of Stipe's Garage, and Joe Orselli.

THE SURE SIGN OF A DEAD ONE

It is wicked to dig up graves and disturb the dead.

It is almost as wicked to go into the place of a business firm that does not advertise in the weekly paper—for that also is equivalent to disturbance of the dead.

Why wish to disturb the dead?

There are plenty of live people in this old world without trying to resurrect those who have gone to rest both spiritually and physically.

A non-advertising man is a dead one.

Some folks may tell you that this statement is prompted by selfishness on the part of publishers of newspapers.

That is not true.—You point out a firm of any kind—little or big—that goes on a non-advertising policy and we will show you one that is dead in the shell every time. Its policies being wrong in this respect is pretty conclusive evidence that it is wrong in all others and that is an evidence that in time it will go down in failure. Not alone because of failure to advertise, but because of false standards and unsuccessful policies.

When a business firm is right in one great fundamental, it is generally correct in all of its policies—and that is what wins success. When it is wrong in one, it is usually found to be equally as far off in all others. We have yet to see this rule fail. There have been some apparent success by disregard of this rule, but the rare exceptions only prove the rule. Sometimes unusual conditions prevail which sweep them along to success in spite of their policies. If you fall into a swift current you are sure to be carried down stream whether you can swim or not. But it takes a swimmer to go up stream in either still water or swift current.—Swiss Journal.

YE MERRIE TIMERS CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Desinger and Miss Katherine Desinger entertained Ye Merrie Timers Club at the W. F. Desinger residence Saturday.

After an enjoyable evening of "500" a delightful lunch was served. Mrs. E. Farrel won the first prize and Mrs. Henry Desinger consolation prize.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jacka, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ringle, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Laswell, Mr. and Mrs. E. Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Hall, and Mr. Wm. Desinger.

He—Who is that fellow with the long hair?

She—A fellow from Yale.

He—Oh, I've often heard of those Yale locks.

SCHELLS FARMERS PURCHASE TRACTOR

Messrs. C. McClure and J. F. Quinn who live in the Schells territory have gone in together and purchased a new and tractor from the Otto Erickson Co. of Beaverton, through the Erickson salesman, Mr. C. B. Cox. Mr. Cox has recently joined the sales force of the Otto Erickson & Co., Ford, Lincoln, and Fordson Agents and has had very good success with this well established line.

Mr. McClure came recently from Idaho and purchased about 80 acres of land. He brought with him a large herd of Ayrshire cattle, many of which have been prize winners at some of the largest stock shows of the Northwest. We understand Mr. Quinn has been a resident of this county for some years.

NEWSPAPER CONFERENCE TO BE HELD IN EUGENE

With John Henry Nash of San Francisco, who ranks with the great American printers, as a headliner, the printing program will be an important feature of the seventh annual Newspaper Conference at the University of Oregon, March 13 and 14. The conference program is designed to attract all branches of the newspaper profession, and because of the presence of Mr. Nash the printing features will prove of general interest, according to the program committee.

The commercial side of the printing program will be presented by B. W. Bates, editor of the Roseburg News-Review; George K. Aiken, publisher of the Ontario Argus, and J. M. Bledsoe, publisher of the Southern Coos County American of Myrtle Point. Following these talks there will be a general round-table session on printing problems.

Another number on the printing program will be a stereotyped talk on the right and the wrong ways of setting advertisements and job work, illustrated by slides prepared by Mr. Henry R. Hayek of Portland and members of the advertising of the University school of journalism under Prof. W. E. G. Thacher.

Newspaper circulation managers will present their views to editors when the two groups meet in joint session at the conference. The Pacific Northwest Circulation Managers' Association is to be in convention at the Oregon conference for the first time since its organization.

While the circulation managers will have a separate session, with a program of their own, they will join with the editors the afternoon of March 13 for a discussion of the following general subject, "What Does the Subscriber Say? How Do We Find Out What He Wants and What He Needs? Some Things the Circulation Men Have Discovered About Newspaper Editing."

Mr. W. D. Lyness, circulation manager of the Tacoma Tribune, will open the subject supported by two other circulation men not yet selected. The editorial point of view will then be presented by A. E. Voorhies of the Grants-Pass-Courier, George Aiken of the Ontario Argus and J. M. Bledsoe of the Myrtle Point American.

The challenge to the editors by the men who come most in direct contact with the subscribers is expected by the program committee to be one of the most interesting features of the Conference.

PARIS, FRANCE AND BEAVERTON

Through the efforts of the Beaverton Realtor, E. E. Swenson, Beaverton is recognized in Paris, France.

Swenson received a cable from Paris Monday morning regarding the sale of certain real estate in Beaverton.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this opportunity to thank the kind friends and neighbors for their sympathy and help in our time of sorrow. We feel under special obligation to the longshoremen for their help and for the floral offerings.

A CORRECTION

Beaverton, Oregon, Feb. 25, 1925. To the Editor, Beaverton Review. Dear Sir:

Will you kindly correct an error in the article in the last number of your paper, concerning the last Grand meeting. It should have said the "66th anniversary of the birthday of Oregon" instead of the Oregon State Grange. It was just 66 years that day since Oregon was admitted to the Union as a State.

Thanking you, I am,
Mrs. B. K. Denney.

Tuesday afternoon the delegates which included Mr. McGlasson, Mrs. Dewhirst, John Gray, Jean Jackson, Homer Wilson and Joan Stickney, gave interesting reports on the exposition. Much good material was brought back.

NEW GARAGE ESTABLISHED IN TOWN

J. S. Bell, better known in this vicinity as Scotty, former foreman for Otto Erickson and Co., and C. A. King, who was some time with this company have formed a partnership and have opened a garage in the Frohmaner Bldg. on Front St. Mr. Bell has been in this vicinity about three years, about two and one-half of which he was with Otto Erickson and Co.

When Mr. Erickson disposed of his Hillsboro holdings, he let the shop crew from Beaverton go with the Hillsboro shop and those who were at work in Hillsboro came to Beaverton. These two young men felt that they could do better in Beaverton working for themselves than they could in Hillsboro working for the new owners. These young men will do general automobile repair work and are negotiating with oil and accessory companies for the provision of supplies.

We have wondered how Bell came to be called "Scotty." He told us yesterday morning that the name had been given by "Rusty" Carr because the S. in his (Bell's) name stood for Stewart, a Scotch name.

These young men are too well known in this vicinity to need any words of commendation from us.

Romeo (below balcony with saxophone)—Hist, woman, open the window, or I'll play this darned thing.

OBITUARY

David Reghitto was born in Genoa, the Province of Genoa, Italy, Feb. 2, 1842, the third child of Felix and Maria Reghitto. His education was limited to the teaching given him by his uncle, Rev. Fr. Reghitto. On July 9, 1871, he was married to Miss Lucy Balbi, to which union two children, both girls, were born, in their native home in Italy, Annunziata and Rosa.

June 17, 1875 Reghitto left Genoa en route to America, traveling by way of Paris and Louvre by rail and thence by steamship to New York where he landed about July 4th, coming almost immediately from there to San Francisco. Young Reghitto early realized the opportunities of America and took out his first papers soon after reaching his destination. As soon as possible he took out his second papers and always took great pride in the fact that he was an American citizen.

For a time he worked on a ranch in Santa Rosa, Calif., and came to Portland in 1881 and did gardening near where the car shops now stand. About 1884 he moved to Cedar Mills but returned to Beaverton soon and bought the place where his daughter Rosa Merlo now lives.

His industry and energy were recognized by all who came in contact with him. For years he was known as the Onion King of this district. It is said that he drove the finest horses and rigs seen in this vicinity. He went to Sherwood about 1892 and specialized in onion growing.

It was early in 1898 after he had been in America about 23 years that he sent for his family. His girls were married by that time but he brought them and their husbands and children to live with him.

Annunziata with her husband purchased the Beaverton Hotel. She and her girls run it yet although her husband is dead. Rosa always lived near and was the favorite child of her father. Part of his later life was spent on the farm he purchased near Santa Rosa, Ore.

For some months Reghitto has been ailing and the last talk the Editor had with him he said he had "no pain, felt all right, no appetite. Just too much old man." He died on Tuesday morning at one-thirty. He was buried Thursday from the Catholic Church in Beaverton, of which he had been a member.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, two daughters, nine grandchildren, and one great-grandchild, besides a host of friends.

He was greatly loved and respected by all who knew him. He was a good neighbor, a kind and loving father, and will be greatly missed by his many friends and neighbors.

BEAVER THEATRE STAGES ADVERSHOW

The "Advershow" (Country Store) at the Beaver Theatre brought out a big crowd and seemed to have been much enjoyed. Sam Sneake was the first one called to the stage with a lucky number. He got a whole armful of groceries and a ten-pound sack of flour on top. He lost the armful and only succeeded in getting all his packages off the stage when some more numbers were called. Cash Johnson and wife drew a good supply of groceries and some fine house plants. We did not learn the names of the lady and gentleman who drew each a gold watch.

Automobile Park To Be Established

Wm. Boyd to Open the New Park South of City on Watson Street With Service Station.

At last Beaverton is to have what has long been needed, an auto park. Mr. Wm. Boyd has decided to put in such an enterprise on a part of his holdings just south of the "City Limits" on Watson St.

This park is to be fully equipped with all the latest in park paraphernalia, gas, electricity, wood furnished, stoves on which to cook, lots of water for everybody to use and in fact everything that goes to make such a place popular with the traveling public.

People hereabouts have long felt the need of just such an institution and it is very commendable in Mr. Boyd to put in this institution.

In connection with the park, there will be a modern automobile service station, a small store where confectionery and light groceries will be offered for sale. Let's get in and help make this venture the success it should be.

FILMING OF PICTURE WILL BEGIN NEXT WEEK

A large force of men are busy this week building sets at the Premium studio for the picture to be filmed in the near future. We understand the filming of the picture is to begin next week.

Al Ferguson will have the leading part, with Miss Lucille Kraenick playing opposite him. Miss Kraenick was the winner of the movie contest held recently in Portland, which was conducted by the J. J. Fleming Production Co. The winner of the contest was to be given the leading feminine part in the next picture filmed here.

We understand that the picture is to be called "The Fighting Parson."

ALOHA-HUBER SCHOOL

Little Rose Loesche of the first grade is quite ill with the "Flu."

A recent letter from Elsie Hazelwood says she is now living in Tacoma, Wn.

The pupils of the fourth and fifth grades made posters and in other ways observed Good English week.

An attempt will be made on Thursday afternoon to organize a Parent-Teachers' Association in this district.

Queenie Schilling is out of school again as she has to go to Portland every day for X-ray and radium treatments.

The children of the three lower rooms united in giving a program in honor of Washington's Birthday Monday morning.

The little victims of the auto accident at the railway crossing Feb. 13th, are slowly improving. Louise Fulk is now able to walk; Helen Fulk and Ralph McCauley are sitting up in bed but will not be able to walk for about five weeks.

J. E. Calavan, Industrial Field Worker from the State Superintendent's office, visited school Tuesday in the interests of the club work. He succeeded in persuading Mr. Luhney to take the charge of the Boys' Poultry Club. He seemed pleased at the number of pupils interested in the various clubs.

Mrs. Schultz entertained one of the Sewing Clubs at a birthday party at her home Fri., Feb. 20 in honor of one of its members, Roberta Marvin. Many games were enjoyed after which light refreshments were served. The most exciting event was when Roberta blew out all the candles on the cake. Those attending were Mildred Binstone, Roberta Marvin, Laura Belle Peterson, Helen and Barbara Schultz. The girls surely appreciated and enjoyed the party.
