Is it a League of Nations or of notions?

"Don't worry" makes a better motto when you add "others."

It's too bad Mr. Coolidge did not notice the war in the name of Warren.

It isn't a stable government just because its statesmen insist on stalling.

The things that eat up the taxpayer's money never go on a hunger strike.

In the country life is what you make it. In the city life is what you make.

Dr. Brady says cabbage is healthful in any form. Guess Doc doesn't smoke.

According to Borgium, he who sculpts a bust may also bust a sculpture.

Scientists have found a skull half an inch thick in Arizona. But why go as far away as Arizona?

The action of the wheat market suggests that the supply is not as short as some of the speculators.

Uncle Sam, contrary to the cartoonist's conception of him, is a gentleman with an unusually large waste.

In modern stories the girl's face at the pane has become less noticeable than the girl's finger at the trigger.

There can be no question that Prohibition is a success when a dry agent whose salary is $2,400 saved $38,000 in one year.

Nowadays when the person with a bottle says, "Take a drink of this; it will straighten you out," it is possible that he is right.

Some persons brag about their ancestors as if they had invented them. And as a matter of fact, we suppose many of them have.

In announcing that he will padlock 1,000 saloons in New York, the new District Attorney has sounded what might be called a keynote.

To some people it seems to be perfectly plain that the crossword puzzle was invented by the rubber trust to promote the demand for erasers.

It is now asserted that human intelligence reaches its maximum at sixteen years. After that there is nothing left to do but learn how to use it.

A bulldog at Macon, Georgia, has been given two baby tigers to raise, and some day that bulldog is going to feel just like most American parents do now.

While the Supreme Court gives the pedestrian the right-of-way at a street crossing, do not rely too strenuously on it. It is possible to be right and dead too.

It would be just like the Senate to propose that Vice President Dawes' picture be put on the new one-half-cent postage stamp, in recognition of his services to date.

A rumor is afloat that "Europe is trying to lure away the best jazz band talent from America." If Europe will agree to lure as hard as possible we are willing to push.

The month's award for Unconscionable Irony is herewith given Congressman J. W. Byrns of Tennessee for his reference in a recent speech to "unavoidable savings in governmental costs."

100 PER CENT MAN DEPOSED

The following "want ad" was clipped the other day by H. G. Berg, manager of the Packard Service & Sales company, employing his ideas of a 100 per cent employee:

Man Wanted
 Wanted—A man for hard work and rapid promotion, who can find things to do without the help of a manager and three assistants.

A man who gets to work on time in the morning and does not imperil the lives of others in an attempt to be first out of the office at night.

A man who is neat in appearance and does not sulk for an hour's overtime in emergencies.

A man who listens carefully when he is spoken to, asks only enough questions to insure accurate carrying out of instructions.

A man who moves quickly and makes as little noise as possible about it.

A man who looks you straight in the eye and tells the truth every time.

A man who does not pity himself for having to dig in and hustle.

A man who is cheerful, courteous to everyone, and determined to "make good."

If interested, apply any hour, anywhere, any place, to anyone.

APPRECIATION FOR EFFORT

There are some folks who admire greatly things located far from their homes, but they have but little appreciation for efforts that may be put forth by their next door neighbor.

The lack of appreciation is something that holds back many communities. People may work hard to carry on public causes and then find that the good things they do are rarely praised.

Meanwhile, if they make some little slip, it may be generally ridiculed, and they may not hear the last of it for weeks or months or years.

When people give honest effort to carry on the organizations of their home town and promote its causes they should get some very generous recognition. If they make mistakes they should be passed over very lightly.

If more of this spirit prevailed, it would be easier to carry on community efforts.

The novice gardener will find a great many helpful hints for the control of insect pests in O.A.C. Extension Bulletin No. 325, "Insect Pests of Garden and Truck Crops." This bulletin will be mailed free on application to the college.

All wild flowers fade very quickly, except the blooming idiots.

YET THEY WONDER WHY PAPERS MAKE MISTAKES

The next time anybody yelps about a typographical error in our paper think of this: In an ordinary column there are about 10,000 pieces of type, there are 7 possible wrong positions for each letter, there 70,000 chances to make errors, and millions of possible transpositions. In the sentence "To be or not to be," by transpositions alone, 2,759,022 errors can be made. —Labelle (Mo.) Star.

GRIMM ALFALFA HARDY

Plantings of Grimm alfalfa a Morrow County withstood the cold winter far better than the common variety, according to a survey made recently by R. W. Morse, county agent. He says that Grimm sowed by I. Skovbo of Boardman a year ago was not damaged while common alfalfa all around it was nipped. Garnet Barratt of Heppner reports that Grimm he seeded 2 years ago is the only alfalfa left on his place. Many other growers report similar comparisons, according to Morse.

Grimm is the variety recommended by the state and county agricultural economic conferences, because as compared with other varieties it lives longer, resists cold better, starts earlier in the spring and yields more hay per acre.
