Mr. Mike Pienovi, proprietor of Mike's Shoe Shop, who has been in a Portland hospital for the past two months is back in town. He says the doctors told him his trouble was in his head, at first, but that later they decided it was in his stomach. Perhaps it was only that they thought there was too much in his pocketbook.

Mrs. L. D. Schellenberger entertained the "500 Club" at one-o'clock luncheon Wednesday. The place cards were sketches of the guests showing them displaying a familiar characteristic. For instance one sketch showed a lady at a gas pump saying, "How many?" Another was tearing down the street in a Ford. Still another was flicking off an imaginary speck of dust, "Oh! this dust." Mrs. Schellenberger is always clever and interesting hostess.

ERICKSON LOSES FORD CONTRACT

This community is sorry to learn that Mr. Otto Erickson is no longer connected with the sales department of the Ford Motor Company. The name of Ford and Erickson has become almost synonymous in Washington county and for the past decade Mr. Erickson has worked most enthusiastically for the interest of Ford products. We venture to say that he has a host of friends who will regret the change.

A large number of friends have called to inquire his plan for the future, and they received the reply that he fully appreciated what his friend meant to him; that he intended to continue in business in the same place he has always occupied in this county.

Mr. Erickson has in mind several desirable automotive lines, tractors, trucks and car but has not as yet definitely decided on what line he will handle.

He has been offered several different lines for both Washington and Yamhill counties but he is seriously thinking of making a rest for a short time his friends tell him that he is showing symptoms of a nervous breakdown. He has been under the doctor's care for two months during the past winter.

The monument in Saxoniar square, at Warsaw, Poland placed there in memory of "The Unknown Soldier," is the gift of an unknown donor. It was unloaded one morning at dawn and when the city awoke to find it there, it was strewn with flowers and wreaths, but whence it came is a mystery.

CLUB MARKET HAS SUCCESSFUL OPENING

The Huber Commercial Club Community Market opened up for business last Saturday with J. E. Mitzel in charge.

The market offered everything in season even to delicious broilers, so the community housewives took advantage of the opportunity to get their Sunday supplies fresh, right from the farm. Also many travelers took advantage of this opportunity, as the booth is right on the highway.

Mrs. Mitzel reports that it was a very busy day. Everything was sold out.

No doubt the demand will increase rapidly, as the aim is "Quality and Service." Come again.

COUNTY GRANGE HOLDS SESSION

Washington County Pomona Grange met at Tualatin in all day and evening session April 22. Delegates from all but two Granges were present, with a great many visitors, and all were given a royal welcome by the Tualatin grange.

All reports showed a prosperous condition of subordinates in the County. Butte Grange, at Tigard, has the largest membership.

Mrs. Orlo Buxton of Mollalla, a former resident of this county, made a splendid talk on the relation of the school to the home.

Other speakers were State Market Agent Spence, who explained fully the changes in the laws, and other matters that affect his office; Rev. H. P. Blake, whose ninety-second birthday sermon was heard over the radio on April 19; and State Master Geo. A. Palmiter, who gave an interesting Grange address.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing the action of Union and Wallowa Counties in recalling Senator Dennis; favoring the exemption of all farm property and livestock from taxation; and an Income and Inheritance tax; also the reading of the Bible in the public schools.

The degrees were given at the night session after which a fine program was given by the members of the Tualatin Grange.

The next meeting will be with Butte Grange at Tigard in July.

HIGH SCHOOL

The Student Body voted that any one could go on the boat trip, Friday, May 8.

Friday afternoon the Inter-Class Track Meet was held on the Beaverton grounds. The Seniors won the Track Meet Pennant again this year. This makes the third time the Class of 1925 has won the pennant. The meet has been held for only the three years.

Friday, May 1, the Juniors and Seniors held their party at the Huber Hall. The hall was decorated in the Senior class colors, salmon pink and pearl gray, and balloons. Games were played from eight to ten o'clock, and there was dancing from ten to twelve o'clock.

The baccalaureate sermon will be given at the Beaverton High School, Sunday evening at eight o'clock, by Reverend J. J. Staub of Portland. He will be assisted by Rev. George Gray of the local Methodist Church, and Rev. C. A. Blanchette of the local Congregational Church. One number, "Just For Today," will be sung by the B. H. S. Girls' Glee Club. Also numbers will be sung by the choir of the Congregational Church of Beaverton.

DO NOT SEED ALFALFA IN LOOSE SOIL

"The most common cause of poor stands of alfalfa is seeding in loose ground," says E. R. Jackman of the Oregon Agricultural extension service, who has visited 50 Washington Co. farms where alfalfa was seeded last year.

Mr. Jackman reports: "There is a higher percentage of poor stands in last year's seeding than was the case in the 1923 seeding. This was to be expected, due to the unusual drought last year, but there are many good stands seeded last spring, and in every case the ground was firm when the seed was put in. There were a few total failures last spring, and in every case I have seen these were on land which was loose at the seeding time."

"The most important single point in getting the seed to come up is to get the seed bed firm. More alfalfa seed is lost by putting it into loose ground than by all other methods put together." A check up on over fifty plantings of alfalfa made in 1924 shows a few rather pertinent points regarding alfalfa in Washington County. These are enumerated below:

1. That many failures to secure good and even stands of alfalfa are due to seeding on soil which has been deeply cultivated up to seeding time, as with a spring tooth or a disc harrow.
2. That the better and more even stands were secured on fall plowed land which was prepared for seeding with such tools as a spike tooth harrow and drag. In this way only the top soil was made loose and a firm or solid seed bed is made.

3. That it seems best not to roll the land after seeding. Two or three men reported that rain on rolled land crusted the soil so that the young alfalfa plants could not get through.

4. That where seed is to be broadcast, excellent stands have been obtained by rolling the ground with a corrugated roller or cultipacker just before seeding. The seed is then covered by using a spike tooth harrow with the teeth slanted back. The seed is tightly covered in this manner and the soil is packed but the top left loose.

5. Alfalfa seed drilled in showed more uniform stands than did those broadcasted.

6. Examination of poor appearing fields, in many cases, showed a lack of proper inoculation. Without inoculation of the alfalfa seed by artificial means or otherwise, the crop is nearly always a failure. Follow the directions given on the package of inoculating material you buy or use the soil method of inoculation. Complete directions may be obtained of the county agent at Hillsboro.

7. Fields manured heavily showed a much more thrifty growth and even stands. Naturally this is to be expected.

8. Fields on which lime has been used appear to be more thrifty, provided the fields have been properly inoculated.
