Chamber of Commerce Meets

Frank Irvine Editor-in-Chief of the Oregon Journal Gave A Very Interesting Address

The Chamber of Commerce meeting held in the Beaver Theatre Monday evening was a decided success socially, financially, and in every way. Numbers of people who have been in Beaverton for years attended a meeting of that kind for the first time.

The picture shown had a very appropriate title for the occasion. "Let's Go" should be the slogan of every Beavertonian. "Let's Go" was a very good picture, well presented. Numbers of people visited the theatre for the first time and took away a very good impression both of the building itself and of the management.

The President of the Chamber of Commerce made a very appropriate address which was well received, and on motion of Willis Cady his recommendations were adopted as a part of the program of the organization.

When it comes to reporting the address given by B. F. Irvine, editor-in-chief of the Oregon Journal, our poor vocabulary fails to find vehicles of expression of the excellent feature. The address was all the more remarkable when we consider that it was made by a man absolutely blind.

A word of appreciation is due those who so generously supplied the Chamber with the refreshments served. Every person solicited gave freely and without stint of the materials that went to make the luncheon an outstanding success.

Attention should be called also to those who gave their time and work to the service of the luncheon. Again we can state that everyone who was asked to help responded joyfully and "Service with a smile" seemed to be the slogan of each of the workers.

HI-KERS CLUB MAKES TRIP

The Hi-Kers Club made a trip to Patton Creek Monday, reaching a point two miles above the lower falls. They camped for the night near the falls, and returned Tuesday.

Those making the trip were Homer Wilson, Durward Finley, Edward Day, and Mr. Cochran. Several of the members of the club could not make the trip on account of too much work. The boys reported the fishing poor, but the scenery simply grand.

A fellow living by the road a mile above Cherry Grove is making some money on the side by collecting fifty cents each from each car passing his house. Motorists are hereby warned that the fellow has no right to collect such a fee, as the road is a public road.

MOGLASSON FAMILY LEAVES ON EXTENDED TRIP

Mr. J. P. McGlasson and family left Wednesday for an extended trip throughout the East. They will visit most of the principal cities, including Washington, New York, Detroit, Boston, Chicago, and other points of interest.

They will make the trip in their car and expect to be gone several months. While the date of leaving was hurried on account of the National Educational Convention, which meets soon in Indianapolis, the trip has been planned for some time.

Six delegates from Oregon will attend the National Educational Convention held in Indianapolis in June. Mr. McGlasson is one of the six. The delegates are appointed by the President of the Oregon State Teachers' Association and will report back to the Association meeting held usually during the holiday vacation.

Beaverton is to be congratulated for having a man at the head of their school who is deemed worthy to represent the state at this gathering of the foremost educators of the nation.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT AT COMMENCEMENT

A large crowd of people were present at the High School last Friday evening when a class of thirty-four pupils received their Diplomas from Beaverton High School. This graduating class was a great deal larger than any which has previously graduated from the local High School.

The address of the evening was delivered by Prof. Roy R. Hewitt, M. A., of the School of Political Science at Oregon Agricultural College. Prof. Hewitt made a very interesting address.

Other features of the program were two solos by Prof. C. W. Lawrence, a solo by Miss Rhoda Shellenberger, and the reading of the class poem, "Fidelity," by Miss Dorothy Cochran.

The scholarship presented to the student attaining the highest average standing in his or her various subjects, was awarded to Miss Garna Peterson. This scholarship has a cash value of $50.00 in several of the local colleges.

WANTED: NEWS

Although the publishers of a home-town newspaper are primarily responsible for the quality and content of their publication, there is reflected in any such periodical the interest of every citizen takes in his home community.

The people who buy their bacon and bricks away from home when quality and price at home are equal, cannot be depended upon to manifest any overwhelming interest in the home-town paper. Therefore, the success of the country weekly is founded upon the interest of loyal readers.

The capacity of the country weekly, due to its lesser earning powers, is, therefore, limited to a great extent. The country publisher has not the financial ability to maintain a crew of snappy reporters, he is dependent upon his own energies, usually taxed to the limit in an attempt to serve his community to the best of his ability, and upon the spirit of cooperation which his readers display.

It is inconceivable that one man or any small number of workers, no matter how diligent they are, can get every item of news that becomes available every week. Therefore, loyal readers must assume some of the duties of the editor and make a point of seeing that the news in which they are interested is in the paper.

So far as the Review is concerned, it welcomes cordially any item of news, from the mere mention of the name of a visitor, to the most important statement of fact. We would like to believe that the Review has friends in Beaverton and Washington County who will see that every item of news interest to the community or any group within the community is submitted for publication as soon as it is available.

If that state of affairs can be brought about no one reader will have any complaint that the news in which he is interested is omitted. In other words, if the news in which you are interested does not appear in print it is partially your fault. The editor is anxious to use it. He asks your cooperation.

FAMILY REUNION HELD

A family reunion was held in the form of a picnic at the old home of W. B. Emmons, all but one of his children being present. After a big picnic dinner a baseball game was played, girls on one side, boys on the other. The result was a draw.

Those present were M. K. Emmons and family, Mrs. L. Borning and family, Victor Emmons, Mrs. R. G. Kelley and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Emmons and family, and Cecil Emmons, Mrs. Ida Jones, Mr. and Mrs. E. Borning, Mrs. Billy Boyd, J. D. Wilmot, of Beaverton, Miss Bonner, of Monmouth, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ritchie, of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Smith, and son of Corvallis, Mr. J. B. Emmons of Capitol Hill, Oma Emmons of Monmouth, Alton Emmons, J. O. Emmons and wife of Portland.

Laurel Team Takes Laurels

In a Thrilling Baseball Game Here Sunday Laurel Won to a Tune of Fourteen to Sixteen

The Laurel ball club came to Beaverton Sunday to cross bats with the Aloha M. W. A. aggregation and walked away with the Laurels. The score stood fourteen to sixteen in favor of the visitors.

The game at times was rather dull and errors were numerous, but on the other hand many brilliant plays were made. Probably the outstanding play was when the Laurel first baseman, Lester Davies, ran outside the base line and caught a hot fly with his extended bare hand. Another good play was a double made by the manager of the M. W. A. team, Lee Carr.

Muessix, who easily walked away with the laurels at the former game, seemed to be in a slump at times and made two or three rather disastrous errors. However, at other times he got into the game and made some excellent plays.

With one exception a run or more was made in every half inning.

The exception was when the M. W. A. pitcher didn't allow a single man to reach first base.

One of the bubbles was called on the Laurel pitcher when after recovering a rather hot grounder he turned to third, second, and first bases in quick succession as though to throw, but failed to deliver the ball to either of the basemen.

Taking it all in all, it was a good game, with a good many thrills. The outstanding lesson which should be drawn is that both teams were sadly in lack of practice though each had good players and at times each showed wonderful headwork and excellent individual playing.

NEW CHIROPRACTOR OPENS OFFICE

Dr. E. R. Jordan, Chiropractor, has opened an office in the Rossi Buildings, in Beaverton.

Dr. Jordan has been a resident and practitioner in Portland for several years. He is now a resident of the Beaverton district.

Dr. Jordan comes here well recommended.

OREGON STATE NEWS

Construction has begun in Eugene on the Paine theater and a new apartment building.

Albany building permits so far this year total $56,970.

Three thousand men are at work on the Southern Pacific Natron cut-off.

An $89,000 contract has been let for a Union High School to be built in Molalla.

LOCAL MAN IN COLLEGE CONTEST

Thurlow Weed, son of Howard E. Weed of Beaverton, is one of the entrants in the infantry exhibition drill contest which will be one of the fifteen competitive features of the annual military tournament to be held at O. A. C. on Decoration Day, the 30th of May.

The military department of the college is sparing no effort to make this the largest and most interesting tournament ever held there, though previous ones have ranked as major events in the college year. The night sham battle feature has been displaced this year by an afternoon program of spectacular contests and demonstrations, in one of which Mr. Weed has entered.

Military training for the students closes for the year with the tournament, hence this annual event takes on the nature of a celebration as well as a military exhibition. This is Mr. Weed's first year of training in the infantry unit.

The opening event of the tournament will be an air service demonstration by army planes under command of Lieutenant Oakley G. Kelly, consisting of formation flying by nine planes, aerial acrobatics, dropping an aerial smoke screen, and a 3000-foot parachute jump.

Special Memorial Day exercises will follow in the college stadium, after which the contests will be held. These include a mounted tug of war, a skirmish race, girls' musical ride, artillery drill, cavalry drill, barrel fight, Roman riding and jumping, the infantry exhibition drill, jumping in pairs, machine gun race, polo pony stick bending contest, rifle squad relay race, mounted musical chairs, and an engineer and tank exhibition.

Special rates are being offered on all railroads to Corvallis as crowds approaching those of football days are expected there.

From every nook and corner we hope to receive some splendid ideas for simplifying household tasks. If you have never written, do so this week, won't you? Don't be timid, for your hint or recipe may be just the very one that will help some housewife somewhere to solve her problem. If you have already sent in a hint or recipe, come again. For the best hint or recipe we publish every week we will pay 50 cents. Address Household Department, Beaverton Review.

THE BEST WAY

"Well, I finally got into the movies."
"How did you do it?"
"Paid them a quarter."

NOTICE

A good many people will be interested to know that the petition for the Tunnel is printed this week on page 8 of this paper. Turn over to it and read it.

Library Will Open Saturday

City Library Will Be Open Every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday From 2 to 9 P. M.

Saturday, May 23, will be Beaverton's Library Red Letter Day. The Library will be open from 1 P. M. to 9 P. M. Everybody is invited to visit the Library rooms in the Cady Building, upstairs, and leave application for Library Card, free to everybody. There are hundreds of interesting books, fiction, history reference, poems, essays, etc.

Subscriptions since the last published list are J. C. Huntley, Mrs. J. A. Lagerfeld, J. A. Haulenbeck, and J. W. Raynard, $1.00 a month for twelve months; M. H. Metcalfe and Mrs. Irene Wolf, 50 cents a month for twelve months.

The Beaverton Library Board held its first meeting Thursday evening. Mrs. H. L. Hudson was chosen Chairman of the Board, and D. U. Cochran Secretary-Treasurer. Mrs. W. C. Roberts was chosen to fill the position of Librarian. It was decided to have the library open from 2 P. M. to 9 P. M. on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays of each week.

Schulving and tables were installed in the library rooms on Thursday afternoon.

Don't forget that the library will be open Saturday afternoon, May 23, from 2 P. M. until 9 P. M.

Whatever of virtue belongs to the establishment of the library and whatever it may accomplish for the welfare of the community will be largely due to the efforts of D. U. Cochran, who has given so generously of his time and effort to make the institution a success.

We may pat ourselves on the back for our own generosity in contributing to the support of the library, but when we consider the value of weeks and months of time and effort freely given we must consider our contribution much like the widow's mite spoken of so frequently.

What Beaverton needs is not so much contributions in the way of legal tender as people who give of their time and energy for the good of any worthy cause. The money will come if we put our shoulders to the wheel whole heartedly and everybody does all he can. We are not belittling the value of legal tender. We are commending the spirit that puts the individual into the ring to do everything within his power to win.

Mr. R. D. Weills and son, Mrs. W. H. Boswell and children, and Mrs. R. G. Kelley and son picnicked at the City Park in Portland one day last week.

MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES MUST PAY TAX

Employees of municipally operated and owned public utilities of a non-governmental character, such as water and lighting systems, street railways, public school cafeterias, who in past years failed to file income tax returns, are under recent rulings of the Internal Revenue Department required to file delinquent income tax returns and pay a tax for the years 1918 to 1924, inclusive.

The rulings of the bureau accept the distinction between essential governmental functions of a state or municipality on the one hand and its proprietary or private activities on the other as determining the question of the taxability of compensation received by the officers and employees, and hold that the implied exemption from Federal taxation applies to compensation of officers and employees engaged in essential governmental functions and not to compensation of employees engaged in proprietary, non-essential and non-governmental functions.

TELEPHONE TALK

"Are you there?" says the Englishman when he answers the ring of his telephone, and presumably, if you are not, then you don't talk.

However, the more familiar "hello" is used to some extent throughout the British Isles, while on the continent it is seldom used at all. The nearest approach to it perhaps is the "Allo" of the Frenchman.

In Germany and Switzerland and several other countries, when a person answers the telephone he simply says "M r. ...." giving his own name. This follows the practice which is being encouraged in this country.

If you are in Japan and hear the term "Moshi moshi," don't be startled. It sounds like a popular drink, but it is not. It is simply the Japanese way of saying "hello" over the telephone.

In Spain the telephone salutation of the subscriber is "Oiga," meaning, "I hear," to which the operator responds "Diga," which means "I say."

The Italian, when he is called to the telephone, grasps the receiver in his hand and shouts "Pronto" over the wire, while in Sweden the usual salutation is "Hallo."

Wedding Announced

Harry C. Johnson of Salem and Edna May Hulbert of Beaverton Married Last Week

As a culmination to a cross country trip some years ago by two families who were motoring from the East to make their homes in Oregon, a very pretty home wedding was solemnized Saturday, May 16th, 1925, at 4 P. M., when Edna May Hulbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hulbert, was united in marriage to Harry C. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson of Salem, Ore.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Blanche of the Bethel Congregational Church at the home of the bride's parents in East Beaverton in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

The residence was tastefully decorated in roses, peonies, and ferns, and the wedding nuptials were read under a canopy of yellow roses and ferns to the strains of the Mendelssohn Wedding March rendered by Miss Lucile Cummings at the piano and Mr. Wm. Vanslyke on the violin. Mr. Wm. Wright sang two pretty solos to suit the occasion.

Miss Clara Johnson, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Ralph Hulbert acted as best man.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white georgette crepe and lace, trimmed in pearls, over white satin-backed crepe, and her veil was held in place by a large band of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The wedding trossau was a gift to the bride from her aunt, Mrs. Chas. Conklin of Chicago. They were also in receipt of many beautiful presents from relatives and friends.

The young couple will leave on a motor trip to Chicago on about June 1st, expecting to be away about three months, after which they will be at home to their many friends at Salem, Oregon.

NOTICE

Several people have approached me lately with the inquiry whether I would accept and qualify as Director on the High School Board. The reply has invariably been that if there was no other who wanted the position I would, that I was not an office seeker and was not asking for the office but that I have the interests of the school at heart and would do my best.

It may be of interest to know that I have spent about fifteen years in grade and high schools as teacher or principal. I have a fair idea as to what constitutes a good school but do not wish to force myself in.

Should there be another candidate in the field and he be elected, I can promise to give him whole-hearted support in anything which will make for the good of the school.

Respectfully, J. H. Hulett.
