All hair is silver to the barber.

Wealth paves the way for a great deal of grief if you lose it.

Saying it with flowers does not do the corpse very much good.

Tell the people that they can't have something and watch them get it.

Hint to husbands: One way to have the last word is to say it with flowers.

Keeping the old folks is never a burden if the old folks are keeping their cash.

"My, how you have changed!" said he to the cashier, who was twenty cents short.

If he says that the courts are corrupt, he means that he has just lost a case.

An important engagement at the office and the golf itch usually attack one on the same day.

Sign in cemetery: "Persons are prohibited from picking flowers from any but their own graves."

If dad is worried when the daughter is out with a boy it is usually because he has a good memory.

More conclusions have been arrived at through a stray blond hair than through the might of pens and swords.

In this day and age a person either has to advertise his own business, or else he has to advertise it for sale.

Fable: Once there was a woman who wasn't indignant when a driver tooted his horn to make her move faster.

Old maids, bachelors, and the people happily married are greatly alarmed over the spread of the divorce evil.

An editor declares that much of the fiction of our day is grossly immoral. But why do they limit the criticism to our day?

After waiting for twenty years for the return of her absent husband, a Maine woman seeks divorce. Some people are so impatient.

If this hygienic craze keeps up, the love-making of the future may be quite sanitary, but there won't be much of a kick in it.

We have it from accurate sources that the pleasant part of buying a vase at a ten and fifteen cent store is that the clerk doesn't call it "vaws."

A prosperous English club is maintained by fines assessed against members when they swear. There is also a Dam Club at Wilson Dam, Alabama.

A Hoboken woman recently broke her teeth on a bolt in a piece of pie, and so she is suing the bakery. Well, some folks just persist in bolting down the food.

A bank cashier confessed that he stole over $40,000, but pleaded that he used the money to aid needy friends. Strange to say, several of these needy friends happened to be chorus girls.

He—Are you aware, my dear, that it takes three-fourths of my salary to meet your bills?

She—Good gracious! What do you do with the rest of your money?

VALUABLE HOUSEHOLD RECIPES AND SUGGESTIONS

Boston Lemon Cake Pie—One cup of sugar, two heaping tablespoons flour, butter the size of an egg (melted), two eggs, a pinch of salt, one cup milk, juice and grated rind of two lemons. Only one lemon may be used. Mix the sugar, flour, butter, egg yolks, and lemon thoroughly, and beat to a cream. Then add cup of milk and stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake 30 minutes in a rather slow oven, using one crust, as for custard pie. When you cut it you will see that a delicate cake has formed on top. This makes one large pie, and is delicious. Do not cook the filling before you put it in the crust.—Mrs. H. A. Alexander.

Chicken Fricassee—After the chicken has been singed and throughly cleaned, cut off wings, legs and neck. Separate the breast from the chicken, leaving it whole. Cut the back into two pieces. Prepare a mixture of salt, ginger, and a very little pepper in a saucer and dust each piece of chicken with this mixture, and if possible let the chicken remain salted over night before using. When ready to cook take all particles of fat you have removed from fowl and lay in bottom of kettle, also a small onion, sliced, some parsley root and celery. Lay chicken upon this, breast first, then leg, etc. Then lay on top one or 2 tomatoes or two spoonfuls canned tomatoes, then cover up tight and let steam slowly on back of stove, adding hot water when necessary. Just before serving, chop some parsley fine, rub a teaspoon of flour in a little cold water, and add. Let it boil up once. Shake the kettle back and forth to prevent its becoming lumpy. The best ever.—Mrs. H. A. Alexander.

Creamed Potatoes—Put one tablespoonful butter in frying pan. When it bubbles add one tablespoonful flour, one cup of hot milk, with salt and pepper to taste. Add one pint (2 cups) of cold boiled potatoes, diced. Cook until thoroughly hot, and sprinkle with chopped parsley or chives and serve.—Mrs. H. A. Alexander.

Steamed Chicken with Oysters—Fill the inside of a spring chicken with oysters, seasoned with salt, pepper, and butter. Rub seasoning on outside of the chicken thoroughly; steam in o pan set in another pan of water and boil one and one-half hours. Then add one-half cup cream, one egg, and sufficient butter and flour to thicken the gravy in the pan. You may add oysters to the gravy, if desired.—Mrs. H. A. Alexander.

Furnaces Installed

By me are backed up by 25 years' experience in this line of work. When I install a furnace it will be one guaranteed to give satisfactory service in your particular case.

An outside furnace salesman is interested in getting your money and would just as soon sell you a furnace with only half capacity for heating your rooms.

I install the famous MONTAG furnaces, an Oregon product, made in Portland, and built especially for the needs of this climate.
