Somebody must fill the big places—why not you.

Women dream in courtship—but in wedlock they awake.

A telephone girl who can't cuss certainly has a bad memory.

Just as some folks get on the right road the engine goes dead.

"A familiar place," said the girl as she looked at the davenport.

Many a man's failure has been spoiled by his wife's success.

Allimony is simply the payment made on a liberty bond.

Most hard luck is composed of laziness and poor judgment.

The best polish is acquired by the rubbing of shoulders with men.

It's a sign that a girl likes to be kissed if she says that she doesn't.

The fellow who "just eats up work" very seldom suffers from indigestion.

Our oldest laws are the Ten Commandments. What the world needs most is simply a respect for old age.

What we are most anxious to find out is where business men hang out when they are not in conferences.

They used to tell the farmer to "Make hay while the Sun shines." Now they say "Make moonshine in the hay."

Cloth manufacturers must live. And so the material taken from the skirts of the girls is added to the pants of the men.

Noticing the rush for partners at a dance, we are wont to recall that antique proverb: "The more waist, the less haist."

Static is just like some children. It has had its own way for so long that it is probable that it will never be really controlled.

Five per cent do the thinking for the other ninety-five per cent while the ninety-five per cent do the working for the other five.

A blind peddler tried to sell a pair of socks to a legless jeweler in Andarko, Oklahoma, and was offered a pair of spectacles in trade.

"Good girls" are like a traffic boulevard," thinks our "Shiek." "You hafta stop when you reach a certain point, whether you want to or not."

One jury has decided that women have keener minds than men have. And every woman is insulted because the jury didn't make it any stronger than that.

It is said that to get a divorce in Russia a man and his wife have only to agree. But they could agree they probably would not want the divorce.

The Office Boy says that he is tired of getting up every morning and washing dog tracks off his face. He has decided that he will either have to lock the dogs outside of the house or else quit whistling in his sleep.

OBSTINATE
 Mother—Now children, don't quarrel. What's the matter?
 Willie—We're playing airplane and Mamie won't jump out the attic window with your umbrella.

VALUABLE HOUSEHOLD RECIPES AND SUGGESTIONS

To keep sandwiches fresh for another day, place them on a large plate and cover with another, then wrap in a towel that has been wrung out of cold water. This method keeps them moist without being soaked in any part.

When making layer cake bake three layers. Cut one into half and use with a filling made of whipped cream. Put the other two together with a boiled frosting, chopped raisins and a few nuts. This will keep quite fresh for several days and you have two cakes with the work of preparing one.

In most homes there will be an occasional slice of dry bread which may be soaked, added to sour milk and used for griddle cakes.

Pineapple Sandwiches—These are nice to serve with a cup of tea or an iced drink. Take one cupful of shredded pineapple, three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, and the juice of half a lemon. Cook until thick, and when cold spread on sponge drops cut into halves, put together sandwich fashion.

Gelatin Pudding—Take a half cupful or more of any fruit juice left from canned fruit, measure, and when making the prepared jello add the fruit juice instead of water, dissolving the jello in boiling water, an finishing the pint with the fruit juice. Pineapple, peach, or plum juice is especially good with lemon jello.

A little of the juice from your pickled peaches or pears adds much to the mince pie which we all enjoy.

Very small baking powder biscuits broken open, buttered and spread with jam and served, make a tasty hot sandwich to serve with a cup of tea or of cocoa.

IT CROPPED OUT
 Jenks raised a large family. He raised the rent for them every month.
 He raised a moustache.
 He raised no objection to washing the dishes, handing over his salary to his wife, supporting his mother-in-law for six months in the year, or allowing Archibald, the Pekinese pup, to park in his Sunday chair. But when his wife used his new razor to peel potatoes—
 He raised thunder.

CARELESSNESS WITH FIRE INEXCUSABLE
 The fire demon is taking an increasing toll every year in this country, on account of careless folks in the mountains. They ride in comfortable automobiles, throw smoking stubs of cigars and cigarettes into the brush and leave live coals in their campfires. Such habits are dangerous, even in the city, where there are paved streets, tiled floors, and electric stoves; but they are fatal to the future of our forests.

Fires swept over thousands of acres of timber land last summer and fall. The time of year is approaching again when such fires may be expected. Every citizen who goes into the mountains should have impressed upon his mind in some manner the tremendous fire responsibilities that rest upon him along the roads, trails, and in the camps.

The flaxen haired Scandinavian called at the court house and stammeringly asked for a license.
 "Hunting license?" inquired the clerk.
 "Oh, no," said Ole, "I ban hunting long enough. I wanta get married."
