Chamber of Commerce Active

Men Help In Making A Clean City

Some people may wonder about what the Chamber of Commerce is doing and how it benefits the town. Probably you have noticed the garbage wagon gathering up rubbish and old cans. That is a result of the Chamber of Commerce activities.

But, you say, the Council is paying for having this work done. True, but had it not been for members of the Chamber of Commerce and the propaganda they circulated it is very probable that the old rubbish would still be firmly seated in its accustomed places.

Mr. Masters has been sweeping the streets. Well, some more Chamber of Commerce. This time the Chamber of Commerce hired the man and paid him, though they did ask that the Council request Mr. Wolf, the driver of the rubbish wagon to cart the material away.

Want to know something else? It wasn't the Chamber of Commerce who purchased the flags displayed on the street so nicely Decoration Day, but it was an active member of the Chamber of Commerce who got them out, so that they were unfurled to the breeze, and it is rather a safe bet that had there been no Chamber of Commerce meetings one half of the flags displayed would have reposed quietly in the back rooms of their owners.

By the way, have you paid your dues yet? If not the Secretary will give you a smile and receipt in case you tender him the money.

DO YOU KNOW

That 21,000,000 letters went to the dead letter office last year?

That 803,000 parcels did likewise?

That 100,000 letters go into the mail yearly in perfectly blank envelopes?

That $35,000 cash is removed annually from misdirected envelopes?

That $12,000 in postage stamps is found in similar fashion?

That $3,000,000 in checks, drafts, and money orders never reach intended owners?

That Uncle Sam collects $92,000 a year for the return of mail sent to the dead letter office?

That it costs Uncle Sam $1,740,000 yearly to look up addresses on mis-directed mail?

That this service is given to 200,000,000 letters?

With the week of June 1 to 7 designated as "Better Mailing Week" the Postal Department is putting on a campaign to bring to the attention of the public whom it serves the enormous loss and waste of money, time, and energy that is caused by the neglect of the senders of letters to place a return address thereon.

It is entirely true that the return card is a small thing, but the totals outlined above come from the very neglect of so small a thing. Many letters are undeliverable at original addresses, and where the sender is easily reached through his return address, he is apprised of this fact and assists the Service to reach the addresses promptly. Where there is no way of notifying the sender, the only recourse is through the medium of the Dead Letter Office, which is a slow and expensive proposition.

In view of this, then, the appeal is made for each and every person to put his return address on his mail. Everyone knows his own address, and the letter if undeliverable will surely find its way back. It is now compulsory to wrap and tie parcels with heavy paper and cord, and it is compulsory to place return addresses upon these parcels. While not yet compulsory for letters, it can not be urged too strongly, that greater care be taken in their preparation and that every sender include his address as well as that of his friend.

HOCKEN DINES WITH A CIRCUS

F. H. Hocken, Union Pacific district freight and passenger agent here, Saturday was given a "personal introduction" to Vance, the elephant owned by W. V. Hill of San Francisco. Mr. Hill, who is manager of the California Electric Railway Association, stayed over in Spokane to see a circus, in which he has interests, but none of them greater than Vance. Mr. Hocken for the first time had dinner in a circus dining room.—Spokane Chronicle.

HI-KERS CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Hi-Kers Club met in Mr. Cochran's rooms Tuesday evening for their regular bi-monthly meeting. After some time spent in visiting and telling of their various exploits, the regular business meeting was held.

This was followed by a "Flapjack" Carnival. We think "Carnival" is the right word. Each member had to fry his flapjack, flip it, and eat it. All succeeded in "flipping" successfully after much preparation and extraordinary captations.

Those present were Edward Day, Durward Fitley, Leland Cook, Cecil Emmons, Robert Hocken, Homer Wilson, and Gayford Wilson.

S. P. CUTS COST OF COMPARTMENT FARES

A one-fourth reduction in the cost of transportation for single passengers having exclusive occupancy of a compartment on Southern Pacific trains has recently been announced by J. H. R. Parsons, passenger traffic manager.

Beginning June 20 a passenger wishing to have a compartment for individual use need purchase only one and one-half fare tickets instead of two as required now. The cost of the Pullman ticket for use of compartment is not changed. The reduction of the fare will be effective on all Southern Pacific and its connecting line trains carrying compartment cars.

Mr. Adams is Manager of the Adams Co. of Dubuque, an iron foundry and manufacturer of various iron products.

C. E. Allen has traded his property at the end of Main St. for property in the Westdale tracts. Mr. Allen feels that he is getting a new home, built according to his own plans, and getting a very reasonable price for his old home. He thought that the amount of repairs he would be obliged to make annually on his old home would be probably more than enough to take care of the additional payments he would have to make on a new house. His is the last house to be broken ground for in Westdale, situated on the highest point of the tract. He certainly will have a splendid view, an excellent drainage, and a fine home.

LETTERS

From Our Readers

The Beaverton Review, Beaverton, Oregon. From F. H. Johnson, Radioman 26, U. S. 8 Mississippi, in care of Postmaster, San Francisco, California, Box 10R.

Dear Sir: Inclosed you will find a ship's paper with quite a little news that ought to be of interest to the people of Beaverton, that you could print in your paper.

I lived in Beaverton myself since I was six years old up to the time I joined the Navy. My father takes the Beaverton Review and after he has read it he sends it to me and I sure enjoy it.

Yours truly, F. H. Johnson.

LIBRARY NOTES

The Library has been complimented a number of times on the fine appearance of its bookcases and tables. It is only fair to state that we are indebted to Mr. W. A. Smith for this fine work, much of which was donated in addition to his cash subscription of a dollar a month for a year.

Thirty feet of new shelving is being made to accommodate the growth of the library, also a commodious magazine rack is being made.

We have received notice of the shipment from Salem of 200 books from the state library. These will be about half and half for juveniles and adults, and will include fiction, travel, history and biography. We expect them to be on the shelves for our patrons' accommodation by Saturday.

We occasionally run across a person who has not heard of the library yet. All patrons are earnestly asked to spread the good news of the library as widely as they can and invite everyone to call and make application for a library card. The only test of a library is the service it renders to the community. Help us make it more useful.

Donations of books since last week are by: Dr. C. E. Mason, "Wing and Wing," "The Spy," "Red Rover," "Martin Chuzzlewit," "Nicholas Nickleby," by Mr. J. F. Bennett, "The Real Siberia," by Mrs. J. C. ## OFFICE BUILDING BEING ERECTED

Ground was broken last Friday for a new office building immediately east of the C. A. Haulenbeck building occupied by the Yeager Bakery.

The building will be about thirty-two by fifty feet, and of frame construction. Mr. Haulenbeck expects to occupy it for an office and warehouse. It is being constructed by Mr. A. M. Hocken, who is doing so much of the building in and about Beaverton.

RUNAWAY AUTO IS RESTORED TO OWNER

P. A. McPherson and wife are visiting with Mrs. McPherson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bishop.

They drove to Portland Sunday night to call on some friends and left the car near the post office on Yamhill St. They then went to a show, and when they returned for their car it had eloped.

McPherson reported it to the police, who located the car early Monday at the corner of 50th and Main, only a few blocks from where it had been left and not much the worse for its escapade, though Mac says that he shy a few feds.

If they had brought their friends to Beaverton to show the car probably would have been found where it was left. Editor.

BEAVERTON

All day the streams of traffic flowed.

Around Terwilliger Dr. whizzed around the Canyon road.

Encasing, as it were, And both roads led, when all was done.

Into the town of Beaverton. Two rail lines cross in Beaverton.

And mills and brickyardscram.

And onions blossom one by one.

On the old Beaver Dam, The richest onion crops are sown.

From the black soil round Beaverton.

The lovely Vale of Tualatin Boasts—Beaverton is his heart. Where everyone brings daily in Their garden truck to market. And right near by, in gorgeous charm, Weed grows peonies on his farm.

—Dean Collins' Column, Portland Telegram.
