General Gasoline Distributing Plant

H. M. Barnes Has Purchased Lots From Mrs. Hocken, Building Already Under Way.

Beaverton is to have a new substation. The General Petroleum Company's products will be dispensed from this one. This is the third substation located in Beaverton.

Mr. H. M. Barnes has purchased a sixty-by-two hundred foot lot from Mrs. Emma Hocken directly adjoining the Standard Oil Company's ground and the Southern Pacific right-of-way. A new side track is to be laid and an up-to-date substation installed. A. M. Hocken has the contract for putting in some of the buildings. The contract for the warehouse has not yet been let.

Ground was broken Monday for some of the buildings, which will include warehouse, pumping station, tanks, loading racks, sheds, and other structures necessary to make this one of the most complete and up-to-date substations in town.

Mr. H. M. Barnes, an old-time resident of this vicinity, who for some time was with the Standard Oil Company, but did general trucking and contracting, is proprietor of the new plant, which will be totally under his management.

This will be a distributing station for the General Petroleum Company's gasoline and lubricants.

HIRE A HALL

If you were to hire the largest hall available in this section of the state and packed it to the brim you would not begin to gather within the range of your voice as many people as read the advertising columns of the Review.

If you were to give a talk in that hall the most interesting thing you could talk about would be your business. It is interesting to you and careful preparation of the subject matter will make your business interesting to others. Talk about your business in public print. Your faith in your business will beget faith in others. Say something every week. If you had a hall where you could at such slight expense talk to more than a thousand people you would not neglect to say something, even if you did no more than tell them that you are in business for service and in business to stay.

Advertising has made your business, whether it has been newspaper advertising, personal soliciting, or any other means of contact. Newspaper advertising is one of the cheapest means and not only that, but one of the best means of getting your message before the people whom you wish to serve. It will help you to get more business and it will help you to keep the other fellow from getting the business you already have.

LOCAL MAN HIT BY AUTO

Mr. George Newman was run over and seriously injured on Wednesday morning in front of Stipe's Garage by Dr. Debedahl, formerly of Beaverton.

Dr. Debedahl was returning to Portland after calling on Mr. Thurston.

MARIE RING HOME

Miss Marie Ring returned home from Monmouth, where she has been attending Normal School. She left last Saturday as a guest of Mrs. Pearl B. Heath, who is chaperone of a group of Oregon Normal School students on a five weeks' trip through Yellowstone National Park, Salt Lake City, and the Grand Canyon. The girls are traveling by automobile.

CHINAMAN LEAVES SUDDENLY

Judge Fry reports the disappearance of one of the Chinamen from this vicinity with $600 belonging to others of his race. The Chinik had gotten into this country by way of Canada and had been here several years and the immigration authorities had just previous to the Rose Show, learned of his residence here.

LOCAL PLAYERS

CAPTURE GAME

Lovers of the national game who were not out to the ball grounds Sunday missed the best game of the season. The score, 6 to 2, doesn't tell half of the story.

The local team had a considerably different line-up than any it had before, Morris and Al Emmons being two of the new men presented by the local manager.

The K. C.'s of Verboort, judging from their line-up, seem to have been merged with the Roy Cubs. At least the battery the K. C.'s brought down looked very similar to that of the St. Francis parish. Those who have seen Meeuwesen and Moore in action know that they are a battery that will put up a good stiff fight.

The M. W. A. boys were at no time threatened with loss of the game except during the first half of the game when at the end of the fourth inning the score stood 1 to 0 in favor of the visitors. However, in the fifth inning Barron, Vic Emmons, and Wilson managed to get safely across the home plate. Morris scored in the 7th inning and Wheeler and Desinger in the eighth. Of the two scores made by the K. C. bunch Moore made the first in the second inning, and Meeuwesen scored in the sixth.

Everybody should turn out to the game next Sunday on the local diamond back of the Studio when the fast McMinnville team comes up to cross bats with the Aloha M. W. A. team here at Beaverton.

SCHOLLS SWIMMER

Joseph Whitford, aged twenty-two years, was drowned in a swimming hole of the Tualatin River near Scholls Monday afternoon.

He and two others, a boy and a girl, were swimming in the river near the Whitford farm. Whitford called for aid when in mid stream. The two others were unable to help him and ran for assistance, which arrived too late.

He is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters. He was buried in the Mountain Side Cemetery near Scholls Wednesday. Funeral exercises were held at 2:30 at the Scholls Community Church.

A FEW RULES

FOR SWIMMING

It is easy enough to stay on top of the water if you want to get ashore. Just reach for shore, first with one hand and then the other. That's all that swimming is, but if you want to drown yourself and get to Heaven, reach for it with both hands. This statement accounts for a large number of the preventable drownings every year.

The human body is lighter than water, and very little effort will enable anyone to lie on his back and paddle easily with the hands. In this way one can stay up for a long time. If over-turned from a boat or canoe, stick to the boat. If the rest of the body is kept submerged a wooden row boat or wood and canvas canoe will hold up the heads of a number of persons for hours.

Most swimming fatalities occur during the months of May and June, because the water is still cold from the winter ice and snow, and people are still soft from their indoor inactivities of the winter. Those who have been swimming all winter in swimming pools have kept up their endurance in the water and are more nearly ready for emergencies.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

Cal—Why don't you make up with Helen?
Pal—I will, but not till next week.
Cal—Why not?
Pal—I might as well spend a little of my money for some new clothes while I've got the chance.

The structure will be of the hollow cement tile type, with plenty of window space. The cost when completed will be several thousand dollars.

AIRPLANE PATROL OF FORESTS TO START

Airplane forest fire patrol will start on July 1, with bases at Eugene, Oregon; Vancouver and Spokane, Washington; and Mather Field and Ross Field, California, according to an announcement made to-day by the District Forester's office at Portland. Ten planes will be assigned to the five bases, and will be available for the forested regions of Oregon, Washington, California, Montana and Idaho.

Plans do not contemplate regular patrol, but rather the use of the planes for special flights during periods of great fire danger, and for reconnaissance work on large fires. At the request of the War Department and in active cooperation with the Air Service of the U. S. Army, the Forest Service will supervise all forest air patrol activities.

The patrol is made possible, it is said, through the efforts of Senator McNary of Oregon and other Western state and private forestry associations and interests, whereby a congressional appropriation of $50,000 was made available for the work this season. State and private forestry interests are also said to be cooperating in financing the project.

Air patrol has proved its value as an auxiliary of other methods of forest protection, according to foresters and timbermen, and they approve its reestablishment by the Federal Government for the protection of our forested areas.
