Three Prominent Couples Married

Cupid Has Been Working Overtime In Beaverton and Vicinity During The Last Week.

Ferguson-Roseman

The Rose confectionery and lunch was the scene of a pretty home wedding last Sunday afternoon when Miss Mildred Roseman, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Roseman, became the bride of Mr. Chas. A. Ferguson. Quantities of fir boughs, Oregon grape, and vine maple converted the dining room into an attractive setting for the event, and a mass of green banked in one corner furnished a fragrant background for the bridal party.

Just preceding the entrance of the bride, Miss Edith Watts sang "At Dawning" very beautifully, with Miss Harriet Coburn of Dayton, Oregon, as accompanist. Miss Coburn, who was a high school chum of the bride, also played the wedding march.

The bride, dressed in a gown of white silk and carrying a beautiful bouquet of delicate pink rose buds, was accompanied by her sister, Miss Helen Roseman, as bridesmaid, while for best man the groom was attended by Dean Collins, prominent staff writer of the Portland Telegram. Two little nieces of the bride, Charlotte and Marjorie Roseman, daughters respectively of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Roseman and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Roseman, very sweetly acted the part of flower girls. The ring ceremony was used and was performed by Rev. M. A. Marcy of Hillsboro, a former pastor of the bride, assisted by Rev. G. A. Gray, pastor of the local Methodist church. About forty relatives and guests witnessed the event and presented the bride and groom with a large number of beautiful and useful gifts calculated to facilitate the establishment of a home.

Following the ceremony ice cream and cake were served, during which time the bridal pair successfully made their escape with a Ford load of camping equipment. After spending a brief honeymoon at some coast resort the couple will make their home on Grand Island, about ten miles south of Dayton, Oregon, where the groom operates a productive farm. The bride will be a teacher in the public schools of Dayton during the ensuing year.

The best wishes of a large circle of friends go with the young couple as they join their fortunes on the matrimonial seas.

Losli-Wilson

Miss Mabel Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Frieda Wilson of Phillips was united in marriage to Mr. Ernest Losli at a charming home wedding Saturday, August 15, at 4 o'clock, at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Losli of near Cedar Mills. Rev. Wm. Grof of Bethany officiated.

The bride was attractively gowned in white crepe de chine, and carried a bouquet of pink and white gladiolus. She was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Tillie Losli.

The best man was Mr. Chris Eggers of Portland. After the ceremony a delicious dinner was served. About thirty relatives and friends were present.

Hughson-Fluke

Harrison Hughson and Mrs. Grace Fluke were united in marriage Friday, August 14, at Vancouver, Washington. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Mike Welter of Timber.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughson left for Tacoma where they will spend a few days with a nephew. From there they went to Seattle for a visit with Mrs. Hughson's foster-brother, George Meagher, and wife, and from there they went to Vancouver, B. C.

They expect to return to Beaverton Friday and will be found Friday night either in

OBITUARY

John Fredeen was born in Big Lake, Sweden, September 23, 1847. He attended school there. When 22 years of age he came to Minnesota and settled near Minneapolis.

In the fall of 1874 he married Miss Dora Olson of Minneapolis. To this union two children were born, one son, Edward, who survives the father, and one daughter, who died before the family came to Oregon.

The Fredeens came to Oregon in the fall of 1876, and settled at Sutherlin, in southern Oregon. They came to Washington County in 1878 and settled at Raleigh, where they have lived since.

The wife passed away June 14, 1881, and was buried in the Crescent Grove cemetery.

On December 1, 1889 he married again and to this union five children were born. This wife passed away January 28, 1920.

Mr. Fredeen was respected in his community and for over fifteen years was School Director and served his community in other capacities.

For three years he has been ailing, but was not sick enough to be confined to his bed until last Wednesday, when he was suddenly taken worse. He died August 19. The remains were brought to Pegg's Mortuary in Beaverton. He will be buried today (Friday) from the M. E. Church of Beaverton. Funeral services will be at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in the Crescent Grove Cemetery.

Three daughters, Mrs. Elsie Cocking, Mrs. Edna Muesig, Mrs. Hilda Seiffert of Portland, and three sons, Edward, Oscar, and Stanley survive, also a sister, Mrs. Emma Lovegreen of Los Angeles, and two grandchildren, besides a host of friends.

"BONEHEADS"

The slang word "bonehead" is much heard at baseball games and elsewhere to describe fellows who have slow wits. But up to a certain point a bony head is a good thing. If a ball player did not have a certain amount of bone at that point, he would not survive long when the pitcher hits him in the cranium with one of his swift balls.

So in daily life, people need a certain amount of head bone, both physically and mentally. If a man's skull was all tender tissue, he would not last long on those occasions when he hits the same on the low roof of the cellar door. The bone it put there to protect the sensitive brain structure.

So in relation to ideas, a person needs a certain crust of respect for his past experiences in order to protect the ideas he has formed. Some people are always taking up with some new notion, always changing around from one belief to another, frequently giving up their jobs and trying something else. They believe the last man they hear in any controversy. They need a little more bone in their heads, so that they can protect their incipient ideas and let them acquire some stability.

But too many people go to the opposite extreme. If you hit your head on that low cellar door, you will not probably fracture your skull, because you have some good honest bone put there for protection. But you feel it, nevertheless, and next time you are more careful.

In mental life, some people have a bony structure surrounding their ideas so impervious that they never sense new facts. It is almost impossible to show them the necessity of adopting some new ideas. There is great danger in such cases that the bone is filling the interior cavity which was meant merely to shelter thinking and acting grey matter.

NEW MILLINERY SHOP TO OPEN

Mrs. Summers, mother of Robert Summers, for several years employed in the millinery department at Meier and Frank's, has rented the store room in the Rossi Building, formerly occupied by Vinson's Electric. She will put in an up-to-date stock of millinery.

The opening of this shop will fill a long-felt need as there is now no millinery shop in Beaverton.

Barking doesn't always get a dog a bone, but growling usually gets a man a roast.

ERICKSON WILL IMPROVE TRACT

Ground was broken last week by Otto Erickson for the improvement of his tract of nine acres on the west side of Beaverton.

Mr. A. M. Hoeken has the contract for building a modern bungalow on the tract.

This house is the first of a series that will be constructed as rapidly as the demand for them calls.

For some time Mr. Erickson has been contemplating the improvement of this tract and he feels that now is the opportune time for the commencement of this construction.

STREET PAVING ALMOST FINISHED

The paving and macadamizing of the streets of the recently organized improvement district, is about completed. This job covers about a mile of streets that have been improved this year.

While the larger portion of the streets are in the residential districts and include some in the Mason Addition and the Fourth Hoeken Addition, the improvement of First Street is found a great convenience to the business portion of town. Formerly we were obliged to drive a considerable distance to turn around or else turn at the intersection, which is always a poor policy. The improvement of First Street has made it so that circling one block only is all that is necessary to come back facing the other direction.

CALIFORNIA PEOPLE VISIT AT HUBER

BURGLARS GET AWAY WITH LOOT

Saturday evening while the whole family were absent some one broke into the residence of J. W. Sprague on Watson Street and removed probably $60 worth of loot.

Part of this was in cash and some goods, including a camera, were taken. There is no clue to the identity of the parties.

The Bethel Aid Society of the Congregational Church will hold a Japanese Garden Social at the home of Mrs. Floyd Tefft Tuesday evening, September 1, for the benefit of the new church. Everybody is cordially invited.

Telephone Company Improves Service

More Than $12,000 Will Be Spent During The Next Year By Scholls Company.

Upwards of $12,000 in improvements in the budget of the Scholls Telephone Company for 1925 and 1926. This company has been making various extensions of service into different sections besides repairing and replacing with new lines where the additional demand required better service.

The line out the Walker Road toward Cedar Mills is one of the recent constructions and takes over territory that was formerly supplied from the Hillsboro office.

Another line down the Cannon road will take over some of the territory formerly supplied with service from Portland.

A line east of town toward Woodland Acres also serves territory formerly served by the Portland office.

A considerable amount of service has been added to the line on Chehalem Mountain. This district is practically covered by the Scholls Exchange now.

One of the contemplated improvements is the installation of what is technically known as the "common battery" system. This system will connect with Central by simply taking the receiver off the hook, as is done in many of the larger communities at this time.

The ordinary type of service and the sort the company now has installed, is what is known as the "magneto" system. This requires that the person wishing to call rings by means of the little crank on the side of the telephone box. This turning of the crank operates a miniature magneto which supplies the current to notify Central that you wish her attention. In the "common battery" system all that will be necessary is the taking of the receiver off the hook.

The "common battery" system requires the installation of what is known as "wet batteries" in the central office. The most common kind of wet battery is the "crowfoot" battery, and electric current is produced by the action of a chemical on different metals inserted in fluid.

We believe that this change will be welcomed by all of the subscribers to the system.
