Transportation to be Furnished Pupils

Bids Requested for Busses; Pupils from Outside Districts To Be Brought here to High School

The special election held on Friday evening drew out quite a large crowd due to the interest that was being taken in the election of a director and the matter of transportation of pupils.

Mr. V. A. Wood placed the name of Doy Gray in nomination practically as soon as the meeting was called to order. The nomination was seconded by R. B. Day, and no other candidate being offered, Mr. Gray's election was declared unanimous.

In the matter of the transportation of pupils, the board had it figured out that on account of the extra money the school would draw from the attendance of pupils outside of the district that transportation of the pupils from outside districts to the Beaverton High School would be a proposition that would pay the district, the extra tuition taking care of practically every expense that would be entailed in the transportation.

However, as there was a little hesitation on the part of the board on account of the additional expense of equipping the district for bringing in these pupils Mr. W. L. Cady offered a motion to the effect that a vote of confidence be tendered and this vote was made unanimous to the effect that the school board had a free hand in the matter.

It is expected that 2 school busses will be purchased by the district and that pupils will be brought in from Tizard, Kinton, Bethany, Cedar Mills, and other districts where the number of students will be thought sufficient to warrant sending a bus.

SODIUM NITRATE TIMOTHY FERTILIZER

Following requests from several farmers of the county as to what to apply to timothy in the way of a commercial fertilizer for profitable results, the county agent applied trials of soda at the rate of one hundred pounds to the acre on three farms with the following results:

Farm number one: A. J. Evers, Verboort section, nitrate applied March 21st, broadcasting at the rate of one hundred pounds per acre. Increased the yield of the hay per acre 2560 pounds. Valuing this increase at the rate of $15.00 per ton, there is an increased value of $19.20. Subtracting the cost of the nitrate, which is $2.50 per acre, there is a net value of increased yield of $15.70 per acre.

Farm number 2: W. J. Enschede, on the Hawthorne estate, 787 pounds increased yield per acre, with a net value of increase of $2.38 per acre.

Farm number three: Schmidt Bros., farm north of Oreneo, increased yield on nitrate plot over balance of field 2194 lbs. Value of the increase at $15.00 per ton $16.40. Again subtracting the cost of the nitrate we have net value of increased yield of $12.94 per acre.

These figures should be of interest to those growing timothy, but timothy growers should not take them as conclusive of what they might expect each year from the use of sodium nitrate. This was the result of one year's work only.

Next year the county agent plans to conduct more tests with sodium nitrate, and also to use sulphate of ammonia. It is believed that these fertilizers, to give the best results, should be applied not later than the latter part of March.

Mr. Frank Sherwood and son of Rainier spent Sunday with their wife and mother at the home of J. A. Sannar. Mrs. Sherwood is an invalid and is being cared for by Mrs. Sannar.

OBITUARY

Chester Lee Shearer was born near Goldendale, in Klickitat County, Washington, on December 14, 1888, where he lived continuously until five years ago, when he moved to Washington County, Oregon.

He was married to Miss Goldie Ward on the 24th day of November, 1910. To this union was born one son, Chester Raymond. His first wife passed away on July 24, 1913.

On the nineteenth day of February, 1916, he was married to Mrs. Alfredine Megard. One son, Walter, was born to this union.

He died near Beaverton on September 5th, 1925, being almost thirty-seven years of age.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and two sons; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Shearer; one sister, Mrs. Nelle Mettler, and one brother, Delbert, besides a host of friends.

(Editor's Note—Last spring Shearer moved into the house next door to that occupied by the Editor. For some time Mrs. Shearer was employed as nurse and he did his own cooking and worked at the rock quarry northeast of town. He didn't appear to be very strong and in a talk with him we learned that he was taking medicine for tuberculosis. We noticed one of the characteristics of the disease. That the present treatment is going to give him seems to be the idea of those suffering from the white plague.

Shearer was always a good neighbor, industrious, hard-working, pleasant and companionable. Late in the summer he moved onto the Gill place southwest of town and went to work for A. E. Hanson hauling wood.

We have noticed for some time that he seemed to be gradually failing, but the news of his death came as a severe shock. He had only been confined to his bed for a very short time. He will be greatly missed by those with whom he came in contact.)

OBITUARY

Jerome Van Hyning was born in Allegan County, Mich., Dec. 14, 1855. When about twelve or fourteen years of age he moved with his parents to the wilderness of what is now Grand Traverse County, Mich. His father had taken up a homestead in the dense hardwood forests about 12 miles from what later became Traverse City, and it was there that Jerome spent the early years of his life helping his father.

After his father's death he went into business for himself and worked around in different places, in a bank at Alpena, Michigan, and was in business in Kalkaskie, Boine City and Manistee. His sisters married and his brothers migrated to the west, and when he was 66 years of age, ill health obliged him to give up business. For three years he was practically an invalid in Alpena.

In April, 1924 he left for Oregon, arriving in Portland May 1st. He went to live with his youngest brother, Henry, near Tigard. He has been ailing ever since arriving in Oregon but to the last was able to be on his feet at least a part of the time.

He died Tuesday Sept. 8, of heart failure. He had been up and ate breakfast in the morning. Later in the morning he retired to his room and went to bed. He did not appear for lunch at noon, and soon after the meal Mrs. Van Hyning went to his room to see what was the matter. He had been dead for some time.

He will be buried today, Friday, Sept. 11 in the cemetery at Hillsboro beside his brother Warren.

He leaves a brother, Henry, of Tigard, and a sister, Mrs. Belle Myers of Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Brown and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Morelock, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morelock and baby, and Harold Miller motored to Netarts to stay over Labor Day.

Reverend Gray

Decides to Leave

He Has Spent 10 Years Here

As Long as Any Methodist

Minister on one Charge

People of Beaverton will be sorry to learn of the decision of Rev. G. A. Gray not to return to Beaverton for the coming year.

Rev. Gray has been for ten years pastor of the Methodist Church here, a length of time equaled only by one other Methodist preacher in Oregon at one station, Dr. Avison, at present in Forest Grove, put in ten years at Salem once. This is the only time a Methodist minister has remained as long as Rev. Gray on the same charge.

Rev. Gray has seen Beaverton grow and develop wonderfully. Just an instance of the growth: When he came to Beaverton the church spent during the year $187 in benevolences. The past year his church put $817 in the same fund, this money going toward the support of six native ministers in South America, Portuguese East Africa and in India.

Rev. Gray has taken for his motto the text found in Colossians 1:28, "Christ, whom we preach, warning every man and teaching every man in all wisdom that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus."

Having no children of their own, Mr. and Mrs. Gray gave all their time and attention to the spiritual needs of their flock. When they first came here there was a wide circuit to cover but the increasing demands of the locality on the time and strength of the couple made it necessary to confine their efforts entirely to the town.

Rev. Gray says that he will go to conference the last of the month entirely free and expects to go to any place to which he is assigned by his body.
