Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bridges left Wednesday morning for Seattle where they have been called by word stating that Mr. Bridges' mother was dangerously ill.

K. W. Wildman of Wyoming is employed in the 20th Century here. He says K.W.W. stands for Kid of the Wild West. He used to ride in the Round-Ups, but don't tell him we said anything about it.

THINKS OF FRIENDS AT CHRISTMAS TIME

AT CHRISTMAS time more than at any other season of the year my thoughts turn to the old friends. Memories and recollections of the old home circle come thick and fast; father—how grave and serious he was—and the older boys and my sister, and dearest of all—mother. They are nearer to me at Christmas than at any other time of the year. It was mother who told us the Christmas stories and filled our stockings after we had all been sent off to bed. I never see a box of raisins today without recalling all the Christmas joys of childhood—and mother. How far away these old friends are! Most of them are lying silent and still in the little country cemetery near which we lived, and all that are living are scattered.

The college community in which we live is nomadic and shifting. The friends of today pass on rapidly and are gone tomorrow to the remotest parts of the earth. The old friends are everywhere. No matter where I go—New York or San Francisco, Minneapolis or New Orleans, Naples or Edinburgh, Paris or London, I happen upon them. I met one in Pompeii; I had hardly been ten minutes in Toronto, where I thought I knew no one until I almost ran head-first into an old acquaintance.

Where are your old friends? "Gone, scattered," you say. Ten years ago at Christmas time, I was with twenty young college friends gathered about the fireplace, hilariously celebrating before they should go home for the holidays. Where are they now? One has been far beyond the Canal zone; another is making a home for himself on the Pacific coast; three are in New York; two are in England, and others are in various and remote parts of this country. One of these, wrote me this week: "Time has not made me forget the Sunday evening we spent about your old fireplace when we were served with sponge cake and milk. I should like to be there just once more, but I should want to come back to my work the next day." What a child he seems to me!

My experience is only the common experience of us all. Time breaks our closest associations and scatters our companions of a few years ago. But it is the old friends and the friends who are far away of whom we are thinking most these days—those that have gone, and those that are going.

There are a few of us whose thoughts and whose prayers are not with our old friends at Christmas time—those who are near and those who are far away. Living or dead—wherever they are—God bless them and keep them all—Thomas Arlie Clark.

LOCAL MAN ON STAFF OF COLLEGE PAPER

Aurion Weed of Beaverton, sophomore in commerce, has been appointed a member of the O. A. A. Daily barometer. The barometer is a daily paper published by the students of Oregon Agricultural College. From more than fifty aspirants sixteen were selected on the staff.

Factors taken into consideration in making appointments were: dependability of the students in following instructions, barometer class work, and the number of hours devoted to the barometer. More aspirants tried out for the barometer this year than in any previous year.

Weed is a member of Tau Delta fraternity.

THE STINGIEST MAN

A man who was too economical to take his home paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $1 stand of bees. In ten minutes he looked like a warty summer squash. His cries reached his father, who ran to his assistance, and failing to notice a barbed wire fence which he ran into, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a $4 pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence, got into the cornfield, and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket, the wife ran, upsetting a four-gallon churn full of rich cream, drowning the whole bunch. In her hurry she lost a $7 set of false teeth. The baby, left alone, crawled thru the spilled cream and into the parlor, ruining a brand new $20 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man; the dog broke up eleven setting hens, and the calves get out and chewed the tails off of four fine shirts.

BEAVERTON GIRL ON Y. W. C. A. COMMISSION

Mrs. Elva Ekstrom of Beaverton, freshman in commerce at O. A. C. and a pledge to Delta Omicron sorority, has been appointed on the freshman commission of Y. W. C. A., composed of outstanding girls from the houses and halls. This commission of first year co-eds will plan and carry out the freshman "Y. W." work. The rookies will elect officers and the president will be a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet. Inaegne Windnagle, sophomore in home economics will be the freshman group adviser.

BEAVERTON MAN AMONG CANDIDATES FOR TEAM

One freshman at the University of Oregon from Beaverton is among the forty-three first year men who are daily practicing under Coach "Spike" Leslie for the frosh quintet.

Although a larger number of men are expected to turn out next term, Coach Leslie has divided the squad into two sections, and is teaching his men the fundamentals of the game. New coaches are to be obtained next term when more freshmen turn out, in order to give each player individual instruction.

Every school child in Chicago will be given an A.B.C. song book containing "Always be careful" songs and colored safety-first illustrations.

INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION IN PORTLAND IN 1939

Mr. C. J. Lytton, salesman for the Pacific American International Exposition to be held in Portland in 1939, was in town Monday.

He said that the Tualatin Valley, of which Beaverton is the gateway, was the logical place to hold the Exposition, and would be one of the locations considered by the organization.

This Exposition is being promoted in the form of a corporation, for which Mr. Lytton is selling stock. We understand that several of our townspeople invested. This stock is sold on a basis of $10 down for the $100 share. Mr. Lytton expects that the Exposition will pay for itself and bring back returns in the way of advertising this section of the Pacific Coast.

Mr. George L. Hutchins, who promoted and staged the first Rose Festival ever held in Portland, is Secretary of the organization.

DON'T DRIVE ON THE SCHOOL YARD

It is reported that several individuals have been in the habit of driving up on the school yards with their automobiles. This practice should not be allowed to continue, as it will make the place unfit for a playground, dig holes in the yard, allow the water to settle and otherwise damage the premises.

The yard may not be in such condition as to suit the most fastidious tastes, but driving over it will certainly not better the condition.

LETTERS

From Our Readers

Huber, Oregon, December 14, 1938. To the Editor of the Beaverton Review: Here's a little article to let the person who lives around around know that the poison he gave my dog was a complete success.

It is one of the meanest and most cowardly tricks that can be done, and if I find out who did it some damn way I'll get the best beating of his life, he will also find that his neighbors will treat him like the rat he is, for he's a parasite. He has no manhood. And if his brains were T. A. T. and a match was lit to them the explosion couldn't be heard thru a microphone.

What I can't say here can be read between the lines. If I catch him it will be a pleasure to tell him personally. There is about one chance in a thousand that he ever will be caught, but I would like to know what his answer will be when he faces his Maker and is asked why he does these dirty tricks.
