WHAT'S THE USE?
What's the use of loving?
It cannot last always.
What's the use of loving?
You'll tire of him some day.
What's the use of eating?
It makes you fat.
What's the use of sleeping?
It makes you a bat.
What's the use of pleasure?
You have to pay a price.
What's there to treasure?
It always ends with life.

Treatment of Color of House Important

It is rare that a house should present more than two colors, and there should be nothing facetious or faddish about their choice.

A house is lived in too long, and under too many conditions of weather and season, to say nothing of other circumstances, to be extreme in any way. It need not be so neutral as to forego all individuality, but it should on the whole be rather conservative than err on the other side.

The exterior should be neutral enough to serve as a peaceful transition between the surroundings and the interior furnishings and to sit harmoniously and quiet in its own grounds.

If the house is finished with smooth siding, such as wide boards or clapboards, it takes paint, but if it is covered with rough sawed siding, such as shingles or rough boards, stain should be used.

Stain is a thin material and will not successfully tint smooth woodwork, but it does penetrate deeply into the surface of rough wood. These are technically known as shingle stains, although they may be applied just as well to any wood or rough surface whether shingles or boards.

Paint should be used on smooth siding and trim where it will produce a film of weather resisting material on the outside of the boards, penetrating slightly into the wood fiber.

Planning Adopted by Kansas City Praised

Probably the most successful work of city planning, as well as one of the most extensive and beautiful residential communities in the United States, in the Country club district in Kansas City. The story of this remarkable achievement of its originator, J. C.
Nichols, has often been told—among other places, in this magazine. But it deserves an occasional remembrance, says World's Work.

Mr. Nichols has demonstrated that beauty and good taste can be made to pay for he has been consistently successful over a period of 15 years.
The community is growing in population at the rate of 2,500 a year.

Automobile parking spaces that do not look ragged, accommodations for the unloading of motor trucks at retail stores without having the trucks harass traffic or be in sight at all while standing still, gasoline stations that are not ugly or loud—these, and a dozen other things that ordinarily contribute to spoil the most desirable neighborhood, have been brought under the control of art and robbed of their power to destroy the beauty of the scene.

Explaining Increase in Individual Homes

The average American man with a family is either living in a home of his own, or is looking forward to the time when he can do so. A rented house or a city apartment in most cases provides a temporary home only until such time as the head of the house can afford the privilege of firing his own furnace, mowing his own lawn, and patching his own back-door steps.

This explains the constant increase in individual homes. Nobody needs to read up on building statistics to learn that there is a constant increase in sturdy, well-built houses. Go into any large city and ride around the fringe and one will find the landscape cluttered with partly completed houses.
A little further out will be found subdivisions waiting for the building wave which will soon engulf them.

Luminous House Numbers

New innovations or adaptations to new uses of existing ones are without end in the building industry. An interesting application of luminous material to house numbers is one of the latest additions to the home owner's convenience. This is a number deeply embossed in an aluminum plaque 2 1/4 by 3 1/4 inches, the upper surface being coated with black enamel and baked, the lower surface being given a scratchbrush finish. Then the center portion is coated with a good quality of "Undark" radium-luminous material. This is then inclosed in an aluminum frame with clear glass.

VALUABLE HOUSEHOLD RECIPES AND SUGGESTIONS

POSSIBILITIES IN DRIED FRUIT

(This is a continuation of an article published in this department last week.)

Apple Roll—Prepare the sauce in the manner described last week. Make a rich biscuit dough, roll it thin, spread the fruit on, putting crumbs of butter on the fruit. Make three or four rolls and lay them in a bake pan just large enough to hold them. Scatter a cup of sugar and dots of butter over them, and pour in enough boiling water to cover them. Bake half an hour. Peaches may be served in the same way. Serve with hot sauce.

Apple Pudding—Put a layer of dried apple sauce seasoned and mashed fine in a buttered dish, adding a few lumps of butter, then a layer of cracker or bread crumbs, then a layer of fruit, and so on until the pudding is thick enough, making the last layer of the crumbs.
Bake in the oven and serve hot with whipped cream. Stewed prunes from which the seeds have been removed may be used in the same way.

Peach Pie—Take enough of the peach sauce to make two pies, mash fine and add one-half a cup of cream. Bake with two crusts.

Peach Conserve—Soak one pound of dried peaches in four cupfuls of cold water over night. Add the juice of one lemon and one orange, one or large thinly sliced, one pound sugar, and one cupful of seeded raisins cut in small pieces.
Bring to the boiling point and simmer slowly for two hours, or until the peaches are thoroughly done. Stir occasionally to keep the fruit from sticking.

Date Pudding—Cut one-half pound of dates into small pieces, add four tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one-half cup of molasses, one-half cup of sweet milk, a little salt, a level teaspoonful of soda dissolved in hot water, spices to taste, and flour enough to make a stiff batter. Steam one and one-half hours in baking-powder cans set in a kettle of boiling water.

Sauce—Cream one-half cup of butter and one cup sugar together, add one well beaten egg, and stir all into a pint of boiling milk. Flavor with vanilla extract.

Raisin Puff—Two eggs, one-half cup butter, three cups of flour, one cup milk, two tablespoonfuls sugar, one cup raisins chopped fine, two tablespoonfuls baking powder, one teaspoon lemon extract. Steam one-half hour in cups. Serve with cream sauce.

Duff—One cup sugar, two-thirds cup butter, one egg, one cup of milk, one teaspoon of soda, one cup raisins, a little salt, three cups flour, one-half teaspoon cloves, a little cinnamon and nutmeg. Boil two hours. The pudding dish should not be more than two-thirds full. Serve hot with a pudding sauce.

Beaver Social Club,
O. E. S., will give a dance in Huber Hall Saturday
evening, Feb. 13. A good time is assured. Everyone is invited to attend.

CLASS NOTES

(From the Beaverton Hammer)

Junior Notes

The Juniors are all excited over the arrival of their rings and pins, which they will be wearing soon.
We have survived the mental strain of final examinations and have made firm resolutions not to receive any F's on our cards in the new semester. The Juniors have a promising semester ahead of them; full of activities and hard work. Here's to their success!

Sophomore Notes

The Sophomores evidently have done nothing in the last month, as they claim they have no class notes.—Editor.

Freshman Class Notes

We Freshmen started the New Year out with a shout heard around the world. The glint of battle is gone from our eyes as the mid-year exams are over with. We all did well in those. And now the Freshmen are all rejoicing in the glorious cause of being Freshmen it's instead of F's.
Before the mid-year we were considered "green", but since that crisis in our lives the green has faded almost entirely away, and now no one ever stops to dazzle their eyes with the beautiful coat of green we used to wear.

There is something yet that you should do if you are not a subscriber to your Home Town Paper.
