

SEA-GULL

By

VERNE BRIGHT

My soul is a grey gull
Curving by—
Beauty aches in his Ocean cry.

Over dark waters
Eerily
My soul goes crying
The sea! The sea!

Mass Meeting Monday Night

Ways And Means Will Be Considered To Lower Passenger Fares To Portland

As we have obtained permission of the School Board to hold a meeting in the high school auditorium next Monday evening at 8 o'clock P. M., all the citizens who are interested in procuring a lower passenger rate from Portland to Beaverton, Huber, Aloha, and Hillsboro and returns will meet at that time to consider ways and means to procure lower rates so much needed.

A full explanation will be presented at that meeting of the way this can be done.

Come, everybody, invited by a few Beaverton business men for a greater Beaverton and vicinity.

WAY FOUND TO COMBAT ANTS AND MOSQUITOES

Ants and mosquitoes are two household pests that become troublesome even in some parts of Oregon this time of year as reports to the experiment station show. Control of the former may be an individual matter, while for the latter community effort is often necessary.

The best way to combat ants is to find their nests if possible and then fumigate them with carbon disulfide or kerosene. About two table-spoonsful of carbon disulfide is poured directly into the entrance of the colony and then the earth is pressed firmly around the entrance to hold the fumes inside.

When the nest cannot be located, ant poison made by mixing three grains of tartar emetic with about four table-spoons of a sugar syrup is very effective in controlling these pests.

This is smeared on wood and china and placed about on the shelves and the runways where the ants frequent. As it is easy to get this poison too strong it is advisable to have the druggist weigh out the tartar emetic in three-grain samples for you. This material is only very slightly poisonous so it is not dangerous to use about food supplies.

Methods of destroying mosquitoes fall under three classes—the drainage of bodies of water likely to contain eggs and wigglers, the application of oil to bodies of water that cannot be drained, and the introduction of fish into pools that cannot be drained or oiled.

Such measures usually demand a local or community project. However, a neglected rain barrel, small puddles of water, or even tin cans may serve as a breeding place for enough mosquitoes to cause discomfort in a number of households.

The screening of windows to keep out mosquitoes can be done none too carefully and even

"HEARTS AND BLOSSOMS" VERY SUCCESSFUL

The operetta "Hearts and Blossoms," given by the choir and orchestra of the Bethel Congregational Church on last Thursday and Friday evenings was a big success. The parts were well chosen, the theme had plenty of action and plot enough to sustain the interest until the last. It is safe to say that all who attended enjoyed every minute of the entertainment.

It would be difficult to tell all of the good things. Mrs. E. G. Webb as Mrs. Manning was very good.

Mr. Webb as Sampson Bonaparte, and Mrs. J. E. Davis as Malindy sure brought down the house.

We mustn't forget Janet Huntley and Jack Malarkey. They say that all the world loves a lover, and those two certainly were lovely as well as loving.

The tenor, Mr. Harris Hansen, and June, played by Mrs. H. M. Barnes, were two of the principal characters, ably acted and it is needless to say that their singing was excellent. It always is.

But Absent-Minded Uncle Matthew is a character that will live long in the memory of those who were so fortunate as to see the operetta. Mr. W. L. Cady filled the part to perfection, and the song, "The Absent-Minded Man," surely was a sensation.

Mr. Cady has had considerable training in music and directed the production. The whole cast should be complimented, and we hope they will be able to entertain us again.

EASTERN STAR ENTERTAINS QUEST

A reception for the Past Matrons, Past Patrons, and Charter Members was given by Beaver Chapter No. 106 O. E. S., in the Masonic Hall Wednesday evening. A large crowd was present at the meeting, including visitors from Washington, Idaho and California.

A Floral Degree was conferred on the guests of honor. Talks by representatives of the Past Matrons and Patrons, and by visiting members completed the program.

Delicious refreshments were served. The tables were very beautifully decorated.

BEAVERTON WILL PLAY FAIRVALE

There was no baseball game on the local diamond last Sunday on account of the failure of the visiting team to show up.

However, there will be a game here this Sunday, when the local boys will cross bats with the Fairvale team.

Everyone is invited to come to this game. The diamond is on South Watson St.

then the mosquitoes may have a tendency to work through the wire. In such cases the wire screen may be occasionally painted with oil of citronella or kerosene.

DR. OLSON TO GIVE LECTURE

Dr. David Eugene Olson, noted scientist, lecturer, author, and evangelist, will deliver his celebrated lecture on "Geology, Mineralogy, and Paleontology," in the Beaver Theatre Friday night (tonight, June 25th).

You might think from his name that Dr. Olson is an Irishman, but he isn't. However, he has all the Irishman's wit coupled with the Swede's depth of insight and clear thinking, and forceful courage.

He believes that Oregon has not begun to develop her natural resources, that we live above "rivers of flowing gold."

Come out and hear him, Beaver Theatre Friday night, June 25. The lecture is free to all.

CHARIVARI HELD FOR KINTON MAN

There was plenty of noise down Pleasant Valley Road last Friday evening, the occasion being the home-coming of Geo. Snider, who has made his home in lone, Ore., during the past few years.

School Meeting Draws Crowd

Largest Gathering of the Kind In Several Years Adopts Budget Unanimously

The school meeting at the high school Monday evening was the scene of one of the largest gatherings that has met on an occasion of this kind for several years. We have been told that before the Review was established there were occasions when more people gathered at the school meeting when there was a ruction in the district.

When the clerk's report came up for adoption it was accepted unanimously in spite of the fact that a great many had asked questions about various items, and the inference was that many were not entirely satisfied but the report was adopted unanimously.

Several persons spoke in regard to different phases of education and the conducting of the school here as well as schools held in other places.

Miss Oma Emmons, critic teacher for the Oregon State Normal School, was present and expressed a feeling of pride that she had her home in a district as progressive as Beaverton.

Mr. E. E. Swenson inquired about the price paid for wood, and seemed to be under the impression that the school board had paid something like 85 cents more for wood than the same fuel could have been bought for. He also seemed to infer that we had paid about $14,000 for the support or education of pupils which do not belong in district No. 48, and questioned the advisability of maintaining school for the purpose of taking care of outside pupils.

Mr. Hedge stated that his taxes had been raised 1500% in the last few years, and seemed to believe that a considerable part of the increase in taxes was due to the cost of maintaining the present Beaverton school system.

Mr. Rudolph Schuepbach was another one who spoke, more on the general phases of education, and was of the opinion that we were paying a great deal for our schools, and doubted whether we were getting value received on our investment.

He, however, said that he was in favor of education, was not especially objecting to the amount of taxes he had to pay, but thought that many of the things in the school could be dispensed with.

Dr. Mason quoted statistics which he had obtained from different sources, showing that of the high schools of the state, the cost of maintaining Beaverton's high school was much less than many other cities of its size and class throughout the state both as to the actual money spent and as to the assessment of taxes in the district.

He proved conclusively that our school was run on an economical basis, and considering its efficiency (there being only 14 other schools in the state having as high a rank according to the reports of the U. of O. agents who inspect the schools) it was managed in a businesslike manner. He has promised to supply us with some of the data he has gathered in regard to the different high schools of the state.

Dr. Mason, present member of the school board was re-elected by acclamation, he having no opposition so far as candidates were concerned. J. B. Kamberger, clerk, was also re-elected.

LOCAL SCOUTS ATTEND SPECIAL MEETING

Scouts Helen and Thelma Tefft, Harriet Venn, Rose Kamberger, and Barbara Cady attended the Camp Rally and Special Song Meeting at the Garden Theatre, Washington Park, Portland, last Tuesday. Camp applications were given out at that time.

The new Camp "Wildwood," which will house the third annual Encampment of Girl Scouts of Portland and vicinity, will be located on the Metalla River near Canby and will be open from July 11 to August 22. It is hoped that Beaver Troop No. 8 will be well represented.
