MOREHOUSE GIVES PLAN TO PROTECT PEOPLE FROM WILD-CAT PROMOTERS

American Bankers Association Official Who Has Exposed Fraudulent Schemes for Robbing Savers Draws Up Set of Rules to Foil Crooks.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE,

Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association.

ARTICLE NO. IV

THE solution to the great problem of protecting savings depositors from losing their money in fraudulent schemes is largely in the hands of our bankers. If they will co-operate with those who save they can make it hard for these plunderers to continue business. Hasten the day when our bankers without exception will gladly welcome interviews with depositors who contemplate making investments, will urge an investigation or recommend in the stead of little-known securities investments of unquestioned responsibility. In every case where customers call at the bank excited and nervous over some scheme where by investing a few hundred dollars they expect to make thousands any banker will at once sense the situation.

W. R. Morehouse

The banker knows that the depositor is being rushed off his feet, with "Hurry, hurry and get in on the big clean-up!" and it remains for the banker to caution the depositor against such tactics. In order to prevent this all that our bankers have to do is to suggest that their customers make it a rule always to bring high-pressure salesmen to the bank to be interrogated regarding their promotions. This will break up sales nine times out of ten, for high-pressure salesmen invariably avoid being questioned too closely by bankers who know investments.

Rules to Follow

Our bankers should urge this investment slogan: "Investigate before you invest. Consult your banker first," and so indelibly impress it on the minds of their depositors that they will always be guided by their banker's advice in making investments. Salient points which should be kept before the investing depositor are:

- (1) There are three cardinal points to all good investments, namely safety of principal, certainty of income and solvability.
- (2) Safety of principal is more important than a high yield; the promise of big returns is usually a sign of a risky speculation.
- (3) It is like taking a leap in the dark to invest in promotions which are an unknown quantity and for this reason a thorough investigation should always be made.
- (4) It is morally wrong, if not criminally so, for any person to invest in any proposition he feels is a skin game, or which is tainted by trickery or fraud or opens the way for a favored few to "get in on the ground floor," clean up and get out from under before the scheme collapses. Usually the depositor finds he is not in on the ground floor, there is no chance for him to clean up before the scheme collapses and so he loses all that he has invested.
- (5) If a promotion is as good as claimed, it would not be necessary for high-pressure salesmen to resort to all sorts of questionable methods. It would not be necessary to rush a victim off his feet and sign him up before he could interview his banker, but he could be given time to consult others before investing.
- (6) The only reason high-pressure

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

A pinch of curry powder is sometimes liked with lima beans.

One of the easiest ways of preparing eggplant is to bake it in lengthwise halves with strips of bacon laid over the top. Gash the flesh so that the flavor will be well distributed.

Turn cakes upside down when they are taken from the oven, and allow them to cool partially. Remove from the pan before the cake reaches room temperature or has a chance to sweat.

Serve all lamb dishes piping hot, on hot plates, because so many people object to the texture of the fat that has hardened as it has cooled. Tart jelly and tasty sauces also "cut" the fat and tone down the pronounced flavor of the meat.

CAPITOL HILL

The meetings of the Capitol Hill Community Club have been discontinued until September.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Cleaves and family have returned from a week's vacation spent at Cannon Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Matthews are spending a few days at Cannon Beach. Accompanying them are their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Cleaves of Holcombe, Wisconsin, who are on a motor tour of the West.

Always a convenience—
Now a necessity

JUST A FEW YEARS AGO the motor stage began its career of convenience—convenience for the suburbanite and traveler who were at a disadvantage in traveling to and from out-of-the-way points. The stages started by linking up the hamlets and small towns with the big cities, and firmly entrenching themselves as a public convenience.

Now the motor stage has become an absolute necessity. Passengers find them so reliable, prompt and economical, that they cannot do without them. On the basis of both convenience and necessity, we invite your patronage, and we throw in, for good measure, a pleasant, enjoyable trip and economy in time and money.

BEAVERTON MAN HAS RARE PAPER

whereupon the watchman seized hold of him and walked him up to the watch-house—held to bail for his appearance at court.

"Harriet Shultz, charged with committing a violent assault on the person of Henry Shultz, one of her husbands, who appeared against her as complainant; he stated that his wife was generally pretty clever to him, but, by some means or other, she was more ill-natured than usual last night, and took occasion to give him something of a flogging—he stood on the defensive when his wife made the attack, but finding himself unable to cope with her in the matrimonial combat, he bawled 'murder,' which brought a watchman to his assistance.

The injured husband, with the assistance of the watchman, succeeded in capturing his tyrannical wife, and brought her a prisoner, to the watch-house. On their promising to live together peaceably for the future, they were discharged."

"Wm. Scott, from Centre Market, brought up for assaulting Charlotte Gray, a young woman with whom he lived. The magistrate, learning that they never were married, offered the prisoner a discharge, on condition that he would marry the injured girl, who was very willing to withdraw the complaint on such terms. Mr. Scott cast a sheep's eye toward the girl, and then looking out of the window, gave the bride-well a melancholy survey: he then gave the girl another look, and was hesitating as to which he should choose—a wife of a prison. The Justice insisted on an immediate answer. At length he concluded that he "might as well marry the critter," and they left the office apparently satisfied."

The rest of the paper was filled with various advertisements, a poem, "A Noon Scene," and a bank note table which indicated that not much of the bank currency of that day was accepted at par. An advertisement of the Globe Insurance Company, of which John Jacob Astor, the founder of Astoria, was a director, announced that it had a capital of a million dollars.

Such is the first issue of the first real newspaper in the modern sense of the word to be published in the United States.
