

SEA WIND

By

DERNE BRIGHT

It calls me in the night of my despair
Beckoning down the old familiar ways
Of beaches bright with foamy chrysope, and
Of wide seas caught in the typhoon's deadly snare.
Beauty has spread the net of her golden hair
To mesh my heart—over the misty bays
Deep in the magic midnight white stars blaze,
And the aureate moon climbs slowly her curving stair.

The laughter of the wind calls and the sea,
Dreams burn like living torches in my heart—
Oh, I was born for this, to always be
A wanderer, driven ever by the smart
Of Beauty's whip—Oh, I shall journey far
Out from this town where prisoning houses are.

SCHOOL HAS RECORD- BREAKING ATTENDANCE

Beaverton schools opened on Monday with a record-breaking attendance. Two hundred and forty-two showed up for registration in the high school.

The increase in attendance has necessitated the addition of two more school buses. There are now three buses working south and east, thru the Tigard district, and two north and west, through Cedar Mills, Bethany, Huber, Aloha.

The new teacher, Miss Frances Mills, a graduate of Oregon Agricultural College, will have charge of freshman and sophomore English.

This is considerably the largest high school ever assembled in Beaverton. The Union High School at Tigard will probably decrease the enrollment by next year but with the added population which is continually moving out this way from Portland it is not expected that the enrollment will decrease very much.

The prospects of a successful school year both as to academic work and athletic training, are very bright. It will be recalled that last year Beaverton carried off many more points in the county school track meet, than did either of the larger schools, Hillsboro and Forest Grove. People of this vicinity have reason to be very proud of their educational facilities.

HUGE TURNOUT GREETS NEW COACH

The greatest turnout in the history of the school was on hand to greet William Poulson, new athletic coach at Beaverton High School, after he had voiced his first call for football men. A total of twenty-five suits were issued to as many aspiring gridsters who will toil and battle for the honor of representing B. H. S. on the gridiron this coming year.

After the first week of practice Coach Poulson expressed his contentment with the material he has to work with, and predicted a successful year for the weavers of the Orange and the Black.

Although there are eight lettermen from last year's eleven there is such an abundance of new and experienced material that positions are to be gained only at the price of hard work combined with ability, and no one is assured of a berth on the team.

With such a condition prevailing the practice sessions are snappy, and each man is striving to his utmost to outdo his rival and gain a position for himself, but outside of the veterans of last year's team and the new men who have had some experience the green material has not had time to show their true worth to the team and will not come to the front for another week at least.

Line candidates are more numerous than ever before with only five candidates out for backfield berths the line is a hotbed for both the coach and the players as there is bound to be some fireworks with 20 line aspirants for seven positions.

With such a wealth of material, an ex-Oregon football man for coach, and a few of the breaks there is no reason why Beaverton High School should not have its banner year and crash thru the opposition.

NORMAL STARTS SEPTEMBER 27

The fall term of the Oregon Normal School at Monmouth will open this year on September 27th. All students entering for the first time will be in Monmouth Saturday, September 25 for their preliminary entrance examinations.

A large enrollment is expected, and school officials are busy during the vacation period making preparations for the fall opening. Records of the past year show an enrollment of approximately two thousand students with over seven hundred students graduating from the regular two-year course and three hundred from the one-year course.

County Fair To Be Next Week

Tuesday Will Be Beaverton-Sherwood Day: Wash. County Queen To Be Crowned

The four candidates for Queen of the County Fair will go onto the platform at the fair, the first day, with equal status. They will then draw lots to find which one will reign over the fair. The other three will be the attendants of the Queen.

Tuesday will be the Beaverton-Sherwood day. Wednesday will be Forest Grove day, and Thursday will be Hillsboro day. The County Program Tuesday evening will be composed of musical numbers from different parts of the county, as follows: 1 or more from Pacific University; male quartet from Sherwood; stunt by Hillsboro Rotary Club; Laurel-Scholls male quartet; number from Forest Grove, with community singing mixed in; followed by an old time dance with Toelle's orchestra.

The big event on Wednesday will be the baseball game between Banks, representing the north side, and Sherwood, the south side of the county. Stock judging will be completed on Wednesday, and a big parade of all ribbon winners on the last day at 1 o'clock.

In the horseshoe contest the winners of the first day will not pitch on the second day. The winners of the first and second days pitch the final round.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HOLDS MEETING

The Chamber of Commerce met in the Odd Fellows hall Tuesday night. Mr. John Gray, a student of the University of Oregon, extended to the Chamber, and everybody in the vicinity, an invitation to attend Oregon's semi-centennial celebration to be held this fall.

Several matters of interest were taken up and discussed, one of which was the purchase of a park. Negotiations are under way for the purchase of about eight acres of the Meier & Frank tract south of the schoolhouse.

Another location mentioned for a park was the west part of the John Henry tract owned by Mrs. Geo. Newman. This has a very nice grove and some cleared ground, and can be secured at a price which seems to be very reasonable.

Mr. Pinder spoke in favor of the Chamber of Commerce providing some sort of an escort for the Queen to Hillsboro on the opening day of the fair. He thought that a committee from the Chamber of Commerce as well as a chaperone should attend the Queen on her journey to the county seat. In other words, it was his opinion that the thing should be done right.

SPECIAL PRIZES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

A special set of prizes for a potato grading contest for boys enrolled in potato club work is made possible by C. E. Spence, state market master, who offers $10.00 in this event at the county fair to be divided into prizes of five dollars, three and two, in order of winning.

The contest is under the supervision of the Agricultural Committee of the Washington County Pomona Grange, with Frank C. Fluke, C. R. LaFollett, and O. T. McWhorter in charge, and will be held in the Agricultural Building at the county fair at 10:00 A. M., September 22nd.

The contest will be awarded on the basis of the thoroughness of grading potatoes. The state rules and regulations for potato grades will be followed by the contestants, and their work passed upon by judges.

A special prize of five dollars, given by E. L. Moore to the Agricultural Committee of the Pomona Grange for livestock club work, will be awarded to the club winners in the Jersey classes with one dollar and fifty cents going to the first prize winner of each breed, and one dollar to winner of second place.

Mr. Moore, who is interested in boys' and girls' club work, announced these special prizes at the recent Pomona Grange meeting at Kinton.

BEAVERTON INVITED TO SEMI-CENTENNIAL

At the recent Chamber of Commerce meeting John Gray, Greater Oregon committeeman for Beaverton extended the citizens of Beaverton an invitation to attend the University of Oregon's semi-centennial this fall, Oct. 18th to 23rd. This invitation, thru the efforts of the Greater Oregon Committee, has been extended to all citizens of the State, and Eugene is expecting and preparing for a mammoth crowd. Thru this semi-centennial the University is endeavoring to show what it has accomplished in its fifty years of existence, and what they have to show will be of interest and of educational value well worth the time of everyone who attends.

Oregon is having its big homecoming celebration as the climax of the semi-centennial. The football game the 23rd between Stanford and Oregon is a battle worth going a long way to see.

Let's show our loyalty to our state by backing this centennial. It's a state institution, and you are paying for it. Come and see what you have helped to do in making this state the best in the Union. We rate the best in the Union. Beaverton students at the University will be looking Beaverton at Eugene that week end. Let's go!

Mr. Tobin of Cornelius has rented the Koch place north of town. Mr. and Mrs. Koch have moved onto their farm west of Cedar Mills on the Cornell Road.

Beaverton Queen Has Been Chosen

Florence Brown Selected To Represent District At The County Fair Next Week

The Queen of Beaverton is elected. Miss Florence Brown received the largest number of votes cast during the entire contest.

Miss Brown is the daughter of W. M. Brown, who is employed at the Beaverton Market and Grocery at the corner of Front and Angel Sts.

The contest was under the auspices of the Beaverton Chamber of Commerce, Messrs. Raynard, Wilson, and Freeman were the committee directly in charge of the voting. For a time after the ballot boxes were placed, one in Dean's Drug Store, one in Wilson's Jewelry Store, and one in the Beaver Theatre, there was little interest shown, but as the different candidates were announced, and the number of votes each had received became known, interest waxed to a fever heat.

The last day of the voting numbers of persons were out soliciting for their favorite candidate. Relatives were pressed into service and friends got out and solicited every source where there were votes not yet cast.

Those who counted the votes say that the box at the drug store was literally crammed with votes at the time of the last count.

The contest produced $152.80 which was collected by the Chamber of Commerce. Of this sum, $103.00 will go to the Washington County Fair Board to help defray the expenses of the County Fair which opens in Hillsboro next Tuesday, Sept. 21.

The total number of votes received by each candidate is as follows: Florence Brown 64,400; Mildred McLeod 26,250; Gladys Benson 24,610; Lutina Hulett 6,770; Ruth Haulenbeck 2,800; Gladys Sollers 690; Clarice Law 180; Mary L. Miller 120; Helen Schultz 170; Gertrude Winisky 120; Velma McAllen 120; Margaret Graves 70.

Miss Cleo Parmley was elected queen for the Banks district, Mrs. Bessie Hathorn for the Scholls and Laurel district, and Miss Mildred Lindholm for the Hillsboro district. These will meet and select from their number the one to be crowned the queen of Washington County. The others will act during the county fair as the Royal Court.

"PRINCE OF PILSEN" IS FAMOUS COMEDY
It is probable that no musical comedy in the annals of the American stage took so firm a hold on the theatre-going public as "The Prince of Pilsen," delightfully written by Frank Pixley and Gustav Luders. The constant inquiry of Hans Wagner, its central character—"Was you offer in Zinzinnati?" became a by-word throughout the country, and it was so firmly fixed in the mind of the public that it still serves to preserve the memory of "the comedy with the funny old German who fell in the fountain."

"The Prince of Pilsen"—fountain and all—has now been made into a lavishly produced motion picture, with Anita Stewart and George Sidney in the featured roles, and a supporting cast which includes Myrtle Stedman, Allan Forrest, Rose Tapley, and other film favorites. It will be shown at the Beaver Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 21 and 22.

The picture is a distinct novelty in that it combines an elaborate background of the pomp and ceremony of European court life, with an uproarious farce comedy centering around the character of Hans Wagner, a Cincinnati brewer who visits the scene of his childhood, is mistaken for the Prince of Pilsen, and goes thru a series of adventures which nearly brought about the disruption of two kingdoms.

Several members from Portland attended the Odd Fellows meeting last Monday evening. Among them were Grand Marshall Lawrence; Mr. McCaslin, and Mr. Zwifer.
