DOWN ON THE FARM

Beaverton, Oregon, Oct. 8, 1926. Dear Cynthia:—There is one animal on the farm I don't love, and he is two in number, a skunk and a weasel. A skunk is pretty to look at but his character is contaminating. He's sometimes called a polecat because he is best killed with a pole, and the longer the pole, the better. A weasel is as slim as a hot dog, and looks like one hot dog would fill him up but he can swallow a whole flock of chickens for lunch.

That's just what one of these thieving rascals did with thirteen half grown Plymouth Rocks I made up my mind what my course of action would be, should Mr. Weasel ever be so unlucky as to meet me. My opportunity soon came. I was late getting my chores done the other night. For some reason the cows failed to come up. As I feared they had broken out of the pasture and wandered off, I saddled old John and loped out among the stumps. In the dim light I saw a weasel nosing the ground. Jumping off I charged full upon the enemy, both of my feet striking him at the same time. I was mistaken. It was not a weasel. As I entered the barnyard with the cows, your Aunt Mary yelled at me from the back porch.
"Pa, for the love of your family, don't come near this house till you fumigate. You've been skunked." There was the dickens to pay at the barn that night. Old Ben despised John's company and lay back his ears at his approach. The cows switched their tails and rattled their stanchions nervously.
Brownie whined and took refuge in a shelter that lay in a direction contrary to the wind.
I dug a deep grave for my overalls and shoes. I have a good saddle for sale cheap.

Your loving
—Uncle Charley.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH HUBER?

(By Laura C. Mann, Chairman of The Ladies Auxiliary.) A very embarrassing situation occurred at the last dance given by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Huber Commercial club. But three families in Huber lent their support by attending. To the friends outside the club who so generously patronized it, we, the Auxiliary, extend our sincere gratitude.

Huber boasts, for a community of its size, one of the finest club houses in the state. How many of its residents appreciate it?

In the years gone by the Huber Commercial club pioneers worked hard, sincerely and effectively without any personal or financial remuneration to give to the present residents this fine club house.

The writer will not attempt at this time to relate all the club has done for the community during these years when it meant sacrifice of time, money and physical effort, not the least of its good work was the passing of the Hillsboro highway through Huber and the side walks laid through the district and other civic benefits too numerous to mention.

Are we who now reap these same benefits to stagnate and let them go unappreciated by our lack of support?

There are always the faithful few who after, and through the years refuse to give up the burden that the others refuse to help carry.

In numbers there is strength.
This is a community affair each and every one should take an interest in, and it is only through concentrated effort, each working for the interest of all, that great things can be accomplished.

Sane Tax Thinking an Oregon Need

Once believing, as many honestly now believe, that a state income tax was the solution of taxation problems, I favored it. When chairman of the Assessor and Taxation Committee of 1923 Oregon Legislative Session I assisted in framing and adopting a state income tax law.

It reached a few individuals who were making good incomes and paying little, if any, property tax, but it drove from Oregon millions of very badly needed investing capital, as everyone knows who has kept posted on this state's affairs.

A direct cause that forced me to know a state income tax at this period of Oregon's development is unwise, was a million dollar investment which had been planned for the city in which I then lived. This investment hesitated until the state income tax law was repealed. Then it proceeded to locate within that city's corporate limits paying municipal, high school and other taxes willingly. It also brought in a payroll of at least $20,000 a month.

That is but one instance of a large number thruout the state, which proves that no matter how pretty the theory of state income tax may seem to be, Oregon can ill afford to adopt such a business policy when no other western state has it, and our dire need is to secure more people with investing capital to develop industry within our borders.

Lowering taxes will never be done by an ambitious and progressive people. That has been demonstrated time and again when seemingly worthy projects of economy have failed of popular sanction. The demand of the public for improvements is so great that administrative economy effects only small savings.

These facts being of common knowledge and to a great extent, of record, how are Oregon people to obtain any tax relief?

Just one way: Attract more people and more investing capital to share the public burden.

No state secures new industry and new investing capital without offering some inducement.

That is why I introduced Senate Joint Resolution No. 5, commonly called the "Dennis" resolution, in the 1925 Legislative Session. That is why it was passed by the legislature and offered to Oregon voters for their consideration at this general election.

It provides that no income tax and no inheritance tax can be levied by the State of Oregon before 1940.

The Dennis Resolution is, simply a business proposition. It is all nonsense for Oregon to adopt an income tax law one year, repeal it the next and then adopt it again the following year. By such methods the state gives out-siders, and her own people, the idea that we are all confused and cannot think out for ourselves and adopt a fixed policy relating to our financial affairs. It leaves the commonwealth in an unsettled condition, and causes constant uncertainty, under which business and industry and the daily affairs of the people cannot prosper. The Dennis Resolution guarantees to investing capital and to all business generally a sane and safe policy until 1940 by assuring that this commonwealth will levy no state or inheritance, taxes on her people until that year.

Taking off inheritance taxes for that period is also a direct bid for investing capital. The state treasury, instead of losing any money by doing away with inheritance tax, will gain many times such amount by the increased wealth attracted to Oregon, which will pay its regular taxes.

Capital seeks the channels of greatest awards and least hazards.
We have everything to attract it in the way of resources and climate.

Now, let us all do some hard thinking, cease calling each other names for a time, and vote for Oregon's advancement and prosperity.

Vote 306 X YES—Dennis Resolution.
Vote 329 X NO—Off-set Income Tax Bill.
