A Christmas Carol

By

Verne Bright

Out of the land of the East they came,
Three holy kings and wise—
Oh they have come to Bethlehem
Wherein the Christ Child lies.

A shining star it led, it led
Their questing from afar—
Oh many gifts they bring of gold
And frankincense and myrrh.

The star stands still o'er Judah's stall
Oh thither the wise men fare—
Upon His mother's throbbing heart
Gleameth His golden hair.

Merry Christmas

Given Banquet

A. V. Hemming Presents Silver Loving Cup to Team for Winning Majority of Games

The boys of the football team belonging to the Order of the B were served a banquet in the domestic science department at the high school Thursday night, December 16.

Besides the members of the football squad, Coach Poulson, Superintendent Metzler, E. G. Webb, belonging to the faculty of the high school; L. R. Dean, Dr. C. E. Mason, Boy Gray, the members of the school board; J. H. Hulett, J. H. Stiles, J. W. Sprague, A. V. Hemming, were among those present.

It seems that last fall, Mr. Hemming, father of George Hemming, one of the students in the high school, had promised the football team that he would present a silver loving cup in case the team won a certain percentage of their games.

The percentage of games was won, and Mr. Hemming took this occasion to present a very fine, large cup to the team. "Baldy" Baird, captain of the football squad, made the response.

The head of the domestic science department, Miss J. Annabelle Ishister, was in charge of the service, ably assisted by Lilly and Marie Leahy, Irene Warfel, Irene Stalder, Roseanne Rankin, Elva Dery, Florence Brown, and Helen Schultz.

The dining room was attractively decorated, the color scheme being red and green, and the decorations consisting of mistletoe and holly. Everybody reports a very enjoyable time.

Eugene Bishop, a senior, remarked that he guessed he'd start in as a freshman again next year if they were going to have cats like that every year.

CITY OFFICIAL IS CALLED TO HILLSBORO

The proprietor of Bobie's Barbecue Inn, and Town Recorder-Treasurer Thynge were called to Hillsboro Saturday, where they are held by Sheriff Reeves. The charges placed against them were operating punchboards.

They are reported to have been tried on the charge Monday but we have not been informed what sentence, if any, was passed.

STRANGERS' ACTIONS CAUSE SENSATION

Quite a sensation was started Monday when Mrs. R. Hanna of the Whitehall found a vial which was thought to contain "knockout drops," beside the cup of a patron who had been dining with three other men.

They were all strangers in town. However, the one name, "Pete," seemed to be often repeated in the talk of the quartet. "Pete" seemed to be enjoying what used to be known as about "three sheets in the wind," and while two of the party took "Pete" to the distant end of the room to show him something, the other one remained and was seen assisting in the preparation of "Pete's" coffee by the addition of some unrecognized chemical.

Mrs. Hanna stepped into the back room and called Deputy Kamberger, who went over to the Whitehall and found the party in their auto just leaving. He stopped them and, as his understanding was that they were suspected of having intoxicating liquors in their possession, he examined the car and their persons for bottles, but finding none, turned them loose.

At the time he let them go he didn't understand that it wasn't whiskey, but the administration of "knockout drops" to "Pete," who seemed to have a considerable roll of money on him.

The car, bearing a Washington license, left town in the direction of Portland, and we haven't heard any further details. We don't know whether "Pete" was picked up or not.

PEACE OFFICERS HAVE BUSY DAY

Saturday was rather a busy day for peace officers around Beaverton. The Silver Star Inn conducted by Ben Perlmano and son Fred was visited and a quantity of booze confiscated.

The Beaverton Confectionery, owned by George Thynge, town Recorder of Beaverton, and Bobie's Barbecue were visited and a large load of punchboards, candy, and prizes were taken.

Deputies Duley, Weckert and Kamberger found a cache of moonshine in the woods opposite the Premium Studio, and camped nearby. They arrested Ben Huckleby, Carl Brier, R. Tolffson, Mrs. Cecile Goodwin, Mrs. Grace Cole and a young girl whose identity was not made public.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Timm of Oakland, California, arrived on Wednesday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sprague. Mr. Timm is Mrs. Sprague's brother.

Christmas Triolets

By

Verne Bright

Underneath the mistletoe
Stood a dainty miss,
Roguish eyes a-sparkling so—
Underneath the mistletoe—
Blue, blue eyes with love aglow,
Two sweet lips to kiss,
Underneath the mistletoe
Stood a dainty miss.

I clasped her struggling in my arms,
I kissed her dainty lips.
How could a man resist such charms—
I clasped her struggling in my arms—
And full soon quelled her wild alarms.
Ah, nectar that love sips!
I clasped her struggling in my arms
And kissed her ruby lips.

Now, by the Yule-log's friendly glow
While Christmas bells are ringing,
We two sit, as you may know,
Before the Yule-log's friendly glow—
Outside the wintery winds do blow;
Inside two hearts are singing,
Before the Yule-log's friendly glow
While Christmas bells are ringing.

B. H. S. TRAMPLES REED FROSH

The local high school quintet met the Reed college freshmen in the high school gym and handed them a trouncing.

The Frosh were defeated by a 24-19 score after a hard game that showed that the Beaverton team was superior in all departments of the game.

A wonderful show of teamwork was evident on the part of the Beaverton team.

The Frosh were handicapped by the low ceiling in our gym, as the one in which they practice has a very high ceiling.

The game proved that no matter how good individual stars a team has, it must have teamwork.

The Frosh had some former Portland high school stars but they were unable to combat the strong teamwork of the local squad.

The next game to be played on the B. H. S. floor will be Wednesday, the 29th, when the team meets the Alumni from this school in a double header game.

The lineups:
B. H. S. Reed
L. Gray F Peters
M. Jones F Wienstein
V. Johnson C Johnson
B. Sprague G Malarkey
A. Barron G Small

Thirty dollars worth of seals were sent for the Beaverton schools to sell. When the contest ended eighty dollars worth had been sold, which speaks pretty well for the enterprise of the children and the generosity and cooperation of the people of the community.
