TABOR IS A DARK HILL

By Derne Bright

Tabor is a high hill,
Mt. Hood is higher—
Mt. Hood is wreathed in snow
Like white fire.

In the quiet evening
And drawing down of night
Tabor is a dark hill,
Mt. Hood, wreathed in light.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY BRINGS THEATRE CROWDS

When the curtains were drawn from the stage Tuesday night at the Beaver Theater, a large crowd feasted its eyes on a vast array of groceries and other premiums. The feature of the evening, an over-night traveling case, was won by Olive Snider, who is now equipped to travel in luxurious style. Mr. C. F. Johnson can drink to his heart's content now that he has won such a refreshing prize as a pitcher and drinking glass set, although we can't vouch for the quality of the drinks he intends to serve. Anyone wishing to find Mrs. J. T. York will probably locate her at home inflating a new broom, the Twentieth Century's donation to the Country Store. The contribution of Charles Berthold, a fifty-pound sack of Sperry's Flour was proudly carried away on the shoulder of LeMoine Wisner.

Ten ladies were participants in a nail-driving contest, Mrs. Ingram coming out winner in short time.

Next week we have the promise of a surprise from the Sanitary Market and another floor lamp, this one even more beautiful of design than the other one previously given away, will be the feature premiums.

Mr. L. V. Gorham left Sunday to spend a few days at Astoria, on business.

Several from this community attended the "Fellowship dinner" at the First Church of Christ in Portland, Wednesday evening of this week. Among those from here we note, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Florence, of Huber; Mr. and Mrs. Simonton of Aloha with their daughter, Ruth; Mrs. F. L. Humburg and Mrs. D. Adams of Beaverton.

Don't forget to come to the Pie social given at the Grange hall this Friday evening, February 25. There will be a plenty of pies for all, so come prepared to eat your share.

Rehearsals are being held for a play by local talent, which promises to be very interesting. So come and bring your friends as there will be a good time for all who attend.

Beaverton Man Passes Away

Demise of Steve Vasileff
Mourned by Family
And Friends

Steve Vasileff was born on Christmas day, 1888 in Drenova, Bulgaria, the youngest son in a family of seven boys born to Mr. and Mrs. Steve Vasileff, Sr.

Little Steve's father was a farmer which must mean that he was a man of some means. When a boy of eleven he was apprenticed to a tailor and he followed the tailor trade all his life. This is the custom of the Europeans who in the majority of cases choose a trade when they are young or have one chosen for them and they stick to that trade. How different here where the young sort of drift along, sometimes never getting any training at all.

In 1911, Steve came to America, sailing from Amsterdams and coming direct to Portland by way of New York. Now he would hardly leave the ship put then it was thought best to come by train from New York but then they didn't have the Panama canal.

After a few years living in Portland by himself he became acquainted with and married a Beaverton girl, Miss Dena Claassen, to which union three children were born, Dorothy, 8, Florence, 6, and Laurene, only eight months old. The couple have lived in Beaverton ever since their marriage in 1915.

On arriving in Portland, Mr. Vasileff worked for a time in one of the big tailoring shops there but soon put in a shop of his own, first at Fifth and Main, known as the Crown Tailors, then moving to the Broadway building and later moving out to the corner of Fifteenth and Washington where he has been in business for the past nine years.

He has been ailing for some time past, and he died Friday, February 18. Since Christmas he had not been in the shop much but kept in close touch with what was going on in it.

He was buried Monday from St. Cecilia Church in Beaverton with interment in Mt. Calvary cemetery. Father J. P. O'Neil had charge of the funeral arrangements were under Peggy's Undertaking Parlors.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, his three children, all of Beaverton, his father and mother and four brothers in his native land.

Mr. Vasileff was well and even intimately known here and nothing we can say will add to or detract from the esteem in which his memory will be cherished. He was a loving father, a kind and indulgent husband, a warm friend and true, and a very good neighbor. He will be missed from our community.

BRIDAL SHOWER GIVEN HONORING MRS. FRED WEST

There were about thirty present at the bridal shower given Saturday afternoon at the Geo. Snider home by Mrs. H. A. Richards and Miss Ivy Snider, in honor of the recent marriage of Mrs. Snider's daughter, Esther, to Fred West. The afternoon was most pleasantly spent in social intercourse, interrupted by music on the Brunswick.

Many useful gifts were received by the bride which she will put to good use in her Portland home, where she and her husband are already established.

Dainty refreshments were served, sandwiches, cake, fruit salad, pickles and coffee.

All wish the happy couple many years of happy wedded life. The young people in this community as well as from other places, gave them a charivari in the evening and enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

All extend congratulations.

The A. B. Smith Co. of Portland have rented the old Pacific theatre building formerly occupied by the motion picture show but more recently by the Marsh's garage.

They have put in a line of new and used Ford cars and will conduct a regular sales room.

Mr. N. G. Freeman will have charge of the branch here that will be operated in connection with their establishment in Portland.

It will be remembered that this company formerly rented the lot just east of the new Hedge building and were conducting a used car lot when Mr. Hempstead became the authorized Ford Dealer for this territory. The A. B. Smith Co. are authorized dealers for the Portland territory and are allowed to maintain a salesroom when there is no regularly authorized dealer in Beaverton.

HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Georgianna Malarkey was injured in an automobile accident and has not been in school since February 21.

Miss Malarkey and a friend were going to Corvallis when their car overturned. Both girls were taken to a hospital.

Mr. Boyd Sprague attended the convention at Corvallis and while there became ill. He and his mother are staying at a hotel in Corvallis until Boyd is able to return to Beaverton.

Beaverton sent four delegates to the convention at Corvallis on February 18-19. Elsie Elsie Whitworth, Gladys Shellenberger, John Livermore and Boyd Sprague with the faculty advisor, Miss F. Mills, were appointed to represent Beaverton high school.

The recent rains have brought the best water supply for years to Klamath Falls where there is a promise of good grazing and bumper crops.

BEAVERTON TO PLAY GRESHAM

(From the Beaverton Hummer)

At the rate the local team is now going, it should be an easy matter to trim the "blue and white" from Gresham when the two teams clash tonight in the Beaverton gym.

Those who have seen both the teams in action predict that the "orange and black" will have little trouble in avenging their one defeat of last year, out of the two games played with Gresham.

The Gresham team is coached by "Dutch" Kruger, an O.A.C. graduate while Beaverton is coached by Mr. Poulson, an "Oregon" man, so two different systems of play will probably be used when the teams meet.

The game will be officiated by Wade Williams of Portland who is recognized as one of the state's best basketball referees.

SENIOR PLAY

"All-of-a-Sudden, Peggy" is descriptive of the impulsive little Irish girl, who is the leading character in a play to be given by the senior class at the high school about April 1st.

The cast follows:
Anthony, Lord Cracken-
thorpe ..... Raymond Harrison
Major Archie Phipps .....

John Livermore
The Hon. Jimmy Keppel .....

Robert Wood
Jack Menzies ..... Eugene Bishop
Parker ..... Homer Allen
Lucas ..... Boyd Spague
Lady Crackenhorpe, Helen Stiles
The Hon. Millicent Keppel .....

Martha Woodruff
The Hon. Mrs. Colhoun .....

Myrtle Johnson
Mrs. O'Mara .....

Georgianna Malarkey
Peggy ..... Gladys Shellenberger

The play has an English setting and the plot is laid chiefly at the home of Lord Crackenhorpe, an eccentric bachelor, who is absorbed in science.

He is attracted to Mrs. O'Mara, widow of an Irish professor, and finding they have a common interest, "spiders," invites her, with her daughter, Peggy, to visit him at "Hawkhurst." This visit meets with the hearty disapproval of his mother, Lady Crackenhorpe, who fears that Peggy may supplant her as mistress of "Hawkhurst."

At the suggestion of her brother, Major Phipps, Lady Crackenhorpe sends for her younger son, Jimmy, who is expected to engage the attentions of Peggy. Jimmy finds this an easy task and has the unconscious aid of Peggy, who is anxious to leave Lord Crackenhorpe free to marry her mother, Mrs. O'Mara, the real object of his affections.

With Gladys Shellenberger and Robert Wood in the leading roles, Georgianna Malarkey as Mrs. O'Mara, and Raymond Harrison and Helen Stiles as Lord and Lady Crackenhorpe respectively, the play is assured success from the start.

TYPING CONTEST

The Washington County typing contest has started a great deal of competition in the typing classes at B. H. S.

There are four second-year students who are eligible for entrance but the school is only allowed to send three from each class. Helen Mills's average speed is 66 words a minute and she is trying to increase it to 70 words. Helen Stiles's average is 60 words, C. Lingman's average is 57 and Alice Bloomquist's is 55. These four are trying hard to surpass each other in speed, the goal of the class being 70 words a minute.

The first-year class also has four eligible contestants and are allowed to send only three. Lillian Berg's average is 40 words a minute while Elsie Whitworth, Muriel Taylor and Vivian Harris all have an average of 38 words. This class is showing a great deal of rivalry to see what three are to be sent to the contest.

The school is interested in having the best exhibition possible as it wishes to be represented at the state contest.

The piano recital to be given by the pupils of Mrs. Jean McBroed of Reedville has been postponed. It was scheduled for this week, Thursday, but is going to be given next week, Thursday at the Congregational church, March 3.

New Social Club Stages Party

Cards and Dancing Enjoyed by
The Rainbow Social Club
Members and Guests.

The Rainbow Social club, the new organization of Odette and Rebekahs, held their second bi-weekly party in the L.O.O.F. hall Saturday evening, February 19. A very large crowd attended, so many that over twenty tables of cards were playing at one time besides the large number present who do not, or did not play "500" that evening.

The first of the evening was passed playing "500" but a little after ten the floor was cleared, refreshments were served and then dancing was enjoyed.

There has been a lot of discussion about the hall as it is divided off being large enough to accommodate a dance. Well there were between sixty and seventy people on that floor dancing at one time and they did not seem to be very crowded, for a number more could have been accommodated at the time.

A number from Tigard and Aloha were present as well as a few, probably from Portland. The prizes for the card game were awarded, first prize to Mrs. Fetzer of Portland, second prize to Mrs. Richardson of Aloha, first gentleman's to Andrew Denholm of Aloha and consolations were presented to Mrs. H. J. Cox and Mr. O. E. Humburg.

The next of this series of parties will be held Saturday evening, March 6.

PARENTS LISTEN TO VISITORS' DAY PROGRAMME

There was a very good attendance of the older ones and parents at the Visitors' Day program given at the school-house Friday Afternoon.

The program was in keeping with the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln, and also of St. Valentine's Day. The children received many valentines from a box which had been prepared.

The following is the program:
Song, by all, "America;" recitations by Eugene Van Kleek, Ivan Bierly, Glen Pringle and Bobbie Tenfel; song by the primary pupils; recitations, Lois Bierly, Evelyn Richards, James Holbake and Gladys Dallman; song, "How Betty Made the Flag," Gladys Dallman, Dorothy Tenfel, Evelyn Richards, Yuma Dallman and Lilly Ludwig; recitations, Harry Ludwig, Yuma Dallman, William Van Kleek and Margaret Vandersmost; paper, "Life of Washington," by Dick Tenfel; song, primary boys; recitation, Evelyn Young; paper, "Life of Lincoln," Frank Richards; song, primary girls; music by jazz band, Dorothy Tenfel, Yuma Dallman and Evelyn Richards; paper, Mabel Van Kleek, "The Little Cook;" recitation, Francis Holbake; song, Eunice Ellen Snider and Mabel Anna Gembella; recitation, Evelyn Young; song, Robert Richards and Charles Kubbel; music by the jazz band; song by Leo Young; song by Amos Bierly and Lucille Van Horn; song by all, "The Star Spangled Banner."

GIRLS HURT WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS NEAR DALLAS

Miss Ruth Kearns, accompanied by Georgianna Malarkey was motoring to Corvallis to attend the educational exposition at the O. A. C. when, near Dallas, in attempting to cross a railroad track, they saw a train coming and made a sharp turn which overturned the auto.

They were taken to the Dallas hospital where Miss Kearns will have to stay for a week with an injured spine.

Miss Malarkey sustained a broken rib but was able to be brought home Monday.

Mrs. J. E. Davis attended a luncheon at the Sovereign hotel in Portland Tuesday, given for the Past Matrons' club of 1927. Mrs. Maude Danrell and Miss Ada Overstreet were hostesses. They attended a matinee after the luncheon.
