MY ARCADY

by Verne Bright

Sing not to me of places far,
Ten thousand miles away;
Of Samarkand and Bish-na-par,
Gipango and Gathay.

Sing not to me of cities grand,
White Athens, golden Rome;
But sing to me of my own land
And the little towns of home.

Beaverton and Cherryvale
And Bandon-by-the-sea,
Aloha, Bellwood, Hazeldale--
This is my Arcady.

"RESURRECTION" NOT A BIBLICAL STORY

Widely read as Leo Tolstoy's classic novel, "Resurrection," has been in the past thirty years, Edwin Carewe, director and co-producer with Inspiration pictures of the picture-theatre tonight, continuing thru Sunday, discovered innumerable film fans in rural districts and even in bigger cities of America who believed any film or novel entitled "Resurrection" must be a tale of the Christ. Carewe wrote more than three thousand letters in reply to filmgoers who queried him while he was directing "Rod La Rocque and Dolores del Rio in the film, made in California. To each he explained that "Resurrection" is not a religious story, not a biblical tale--and that Leo Tolstoy's flesh-and-blood drama makes splendid reading in any language.

Carewe said that "Resurrection" is simply a very human study of bare souls under the lash of selfish passions, and of great sacrifice to which a higher, cleaner love of man for woman and woman for man lifted prince and peasant. He told his unlightened correspondents that the title "Resurrection" referred to the spiritual and moral rebirth of the souls of Prince Dmitri and Katusha Maslova, deadened in sin. The American director declared that he had faithfully preserved the spirit and letter of Tolstoy's great novel and that the ending (Continued on back page.)

To Accommodate the Objectors County Court Adjourns to Circuit Chambers

A very large number of Beavertonians and those living to the east of Beaverton appeared at the County Courtroom in Hillsboro Wednesday when the County Court met for the purpose of acting on the resolution to improve the Canyon road from the Multnomah county line to Beaverton. Several who could not appear in person were represented by attorneys. The State highway commission was represented at the meeting by their engineer and their attorney, J. M. Devers, counsel for the commission. A number of the attorneys had filed objections previously, but on motion of Mr. Devers these objections were allowed to be withdrawn and others substituted which are more in accordance with the legal requirements of such papers.

The Court adjourned to the Circuit Courtroom on account of the crowded condition of the regular meeting place, and read the report of appraisers who had gone over the ground and had prepared an itemized list of all property owners, together with the amount which the Board of Reviewers considered just compensation for whatever damage would be done. This report contained about 72 names. The amount of damage varied from that named for A. B. Clement, proprietor of the Beaverton Loop Service station, $5,500, to three others with no damage.

The amount next to Mr. Clement's was awarded J. F. and Anna Keller, who own a large residence just at the edge of Beaverton, and also a large tract of valuable land on the north side of the Canyon road extending from the residence across the drainage ditch.

The Court then requested that those who were willing to accept the verdict of the Board of Review come forward and signify their willingness. About 14 responded, Bernard Loh being the first one, and Mrs. Filley second. Mr. La Horne, who owns the West Slope Service station was third. Among those who signified their intention to accept the award of the appraisers were H. E. and Margaret Weed, $836.80; William Gaskill, $429.60; Kate Sittou, $318.80; E. C. Austin, $448.48; J. T. Williams, $134.90.

H. A. Ekstrom's award was $423. He thinks he should have $500. Some of the other awards were as follows: August Rossi, $430; Joseph and August Rossi, $87.70; Mary Billstein, $494.90; Lela Brown, $363; Marie Pike, $153.40; J. and Lena Giedrich, $532.20; Cash Johnson, $330.48; R. A. Brown, $310.70; William Hulbert, $110.50; John Roe, $40.05; Mary Roe, $39.45; John and Mary Barry, $126.80; Julia Cooper, $223.75.

LOCAL MERCHANT IS ACTIVE RESERVE OFFICER

F. J. Dietsch, one of our leading merchants, who holds a commission as second lieutenant in the 382nd Infantry reserve, now in training at the Vancouver barracks, was unable to attend camp this year because of business necessities demanding his personal attention. This is the first encampment Lieutenant Dietsch has been unable to attend, heretofore doing and taking considerable interest in observation flying.

He is a live and progressive citizen, the kind of a man who would say, "What I purpose, that I perform." During the winter months Lieutenant Dietsch takes special work on military intelligence at a private government school in Portland maintained by Uncle Sam for the advancement of his reserve officers.

RETURNED MISSIONARY HOLDS CAMP MEETINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sayre and daughter Ethel of La Grande Sundayed with Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Doering on their ranch on South Watson street. Mr. Sayre is school superintendent of Union county.

They came to these parts principally to attend the Free Methodist camp meetings on the Canyon road between here and Sylvan, where an older daughter, Geneva, on leave of absence as a missionary to China, is taking a principal part. Miss Geneva is accompanied by a small Chinese girl whom she is educating. To defray expenses they sell hand embroidery, done by themselves and other Chinese students and missionaries, offering many beautiful and elaborate designs at very moderate prices.

Because of the present unsettled conditions in China, Miss Sayre will remain at home for a year or so, and as principal, will be a member of the Somerville public school faculty during the 1927-'28 year.

Mr. and Mrs. Doering with their guests attended the Sunday afternoon meeting.

POMONA GRANGE MEETS AT SCHOLLS

Washington County Pomona Grange was held last Wednesday in the new hall at Scholls. Mr. H. L. Hudson was one of the speakers. He gave a very interesting talk on the shipping industry. State Master G. A. Palmier and wife of Hood River were present.

Those from Beaverton were Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Denny and son Bruce, Mrs. Doy Gray, Mrs. W. R. Peich, Mrs. H. L. Hudson, Mrs. J. E. Davis, Mrs. J. R. Dobbin, Mrs. J. D. Wilmut, Mrs. Sammons, Mrs. Metowan, Mrs. Ayers.

Painters have been busy for some time repainting the wooden projections of the Cady building, adding much to the appearance of the structure. At the same time the interior of the Halsten hardware store, occupying space in the Cady building, was renovated and repainted. The building is owned by M. W. Manning.

Don Woodman is spending a two-week vacation near Amity.

What Do You Know About Beaverton?

What do you know about Beaverton? Can you give intelligent answers to the numerous questions that might be asked of you? Here is a mild test of what you do or do not know.

Who was the first settler?
When did he settle here?
When was Beaverton incorporated as a town, under its own government?
Who named the town, and how did it get its name?
Who was the first town executive?
When was the first school established?
When was our post office established, and who was the first postmaster?
What is a fair cash valuation of all of the real estate in town?
What is our present population?
How is our municipal government supported?
How is our public school system governed?
Who is the oldest male resident?
Who is the oldest female resident?
Who was the first child born here?
Who is the most persistent town booster?
Who is the most chronic objector?
What have you done for the town?

If any citizen can answer any or all of these questions correctly the editor will be glad to publish the answers in the paper. Such an article would be extremely interesting and of peculiar historical value.

Let's have a few letters on the subject, and while we are at it we may as well extend our efforts to all of eastern Washington county. Send in your letters and share your knowledge with your neighbors. This information should be interesting reading.

City Council Approves Street Improvement

Pass Ordinance at Last Meeting Providing for Payment of Lombard Paving

LOCAL MUSICIANS TO APPEAR IN REVUE

N. G. Freeman, owner and active manager of the Beaver theatre, has been busy the past week locating local musical talent, and tells us he has discovered some real gems--hidden treasures equal to the best of Portland's most noted artists. In fact, scouts for KGW have already offered two of them radio engagements. But they feel they owe it to Beaverton to be first presented locally.

They will appear in a revue at the Beaver theatre Friday and Saturday, August 19 and 20. This will be given as an added attraction to "Alaskan Adventures," supplemented by "Our Gang" comedy, and will take one hour.

The revue will consist of orchestra numbers, violin solo, vocal and string trios, and a popular song contest, with the possible addition of a French accordion and a Scottish bagpipe.

The revue would like to see the local citizens get behind this movement which Mr. Freeman has so successfully initiated, as it will not only tend to bring out local talent, but develop confidence for wider achievements.

Street Improvement, Including Both Paving and Sidewalks, was the main order of the evening, and much was accomplished for the betterment of Beaverton's thoroughfares. Ordinance No. 117, providing for the paving of Lombard street from the north side of the Bertha-Beaverton highway to the south side of the Canyon road was read, re-read and adopted in the regular manner. Alderman Raynard reported action in the preparation and circulation of petitions agitating the matter of a crossing at Hall street.

TIME IS PROPITIOUS FOR LOCAL CANNERY

For a long time the Review has been advocating a cannery for Beaverton, and a general survey leads us to believe that the time never has been more opportune than now, or conditions more propitious.

Tons of fruit of all varieties will be and are going to waste of a crossing at Hall street. Facilities, the plants in neighboring towns being sadly inadequate to absorb the supply, even were it practical to make such delivery, the distance being considerable for such highly perishable products.

Besides caring for local needs such an institution would add an additional payroll in support of the general sustenance of the community.

We understand the old mill building can be purchased for only a fractional part of its original cost, and on attractive terms. It is well situated and easily accessible from all directions, and the general design is in keeping with a cannery's needs. The view respectfully refers the matter to the Chamber of Commerce.

BOOSTER CLUB WILL INSTALL FOUNTAINS

The members of the Booster club are busy these days arranging for the installation of their drinking fountains--one at the Bank corner, Front at Watson, and the other on Broadway at the 20th Century grocery, where the pedestrian outlet to the depot intersects. In this, the club is showing considerable and commendatory enterprise--a touch of Paradise to earthly life, for what is so comforting on a summer's day as a draught of sparkling water!

The cost will aggregate a little over $100, and as the club has only $63.60 in its treasury, the balance of the needed funds will be raised by popular subscription, Mr. Hedge having already donated $20.

Mrs. Clara B. French, who so actively sponsored the Beaverton float, is also taking a personal interest in the fountain movement. She resides about two miles east on the Canyon road and is a woman of advanced thought and progressiveness, making a valuable adjunct to our civic life.

AMONG THE COMMUNICATIONS

received was a letter from F. J. Dietsch, representing the Booster club in the matter of a second fountain for the city, and another from Roadmaster George W. Butt regarding the replacing of old water mains on the Bertha-Beaverton highway.

The club offers to defray half the expense of the purchase of a drinking fountain for Broadway in order that there might be one for each main business street. It was carried that two fountains be installed, the city to pay the cost of water consumed and the Booster club and parties interested to bear the expenses incident to installation. The letter from the roadmaster did not go to the chair as the water superintendent reported that investigations made of the section in question since the writing rendered the letter unnecessary.

In his report, Superintendent Denison stated that one of the extra users on the city's line had already discontinued, and another, the golf club, would bring up the matter at a meeting that evening.

Mayor Pegg reported the receipt of a letter from Mayor Baker of Portland, containing an invitation to attend as an official representative of Beaverton the Fire convention to be held in our neighboring city on Tuesday, August 9th.

Items Of Week's Happenings Gleaned By Our Reporter At The County Seat

Sam Workman, who lives to the south of Hillsboro, is in jail on a trespass charge. He has been having some trouble with a neighbor who claims that Workman was on his land. Workman says that he does not know where the line should be. Saturday and Sunday proved prolific days for gathering in folks on booze charges. Five in one gang were taken in tow near Timber for transporting liquor in a car. Four of them live at Forest Grove, one at Cornelius. This bunch was taken in by Deputies Weekert, Duley, and Schendel.

In another bunch were four who were from the Cochran neighborhood, and they tangled up near the Hillsboro city park. McMahon took them in tow. Their names are Dan Moran, George Munkers, Ray and Harry Miskimous, Carl Anderson, H. B. Humkley, G. H. Ingall, H. E. Gilham, and A. Niemi.

Wm. Shrake was arrested Thursday by Deputy Duley in Portland and lodged in jail charged with going through a lady's pocketbook. He and the lady were said to have been riding on a stage, and the man took the occasion to remove some rings, some money, and (Continued on back page.)

PASSENGER INJURED WHEN CARS COLLIDE

A car driven by John H. McLeod collided with one driven by John York, a farmer west of Beaverton, just as they were about to enter this city yesterday morning. We did not learn day morning. We did not learn day morning. We did not learn day morning. We did not learn day morning.
