Shift Of Postoffice Slated For Monday

Newly Erected Building On Watson Street Chosen As Headquarters

NEAR FORMER SITE

Ten Year Lease On New Building Signed By Department

Instructions have been received by Postmaster W. L. Cady from the Post Office Department in Washington, D. C., to close the present office on Broadway, and re-open in the new location in the recently-completed Raynard building on Watson street near Front, Monday, April 30, will see the closing of the present office, and on May 1st, the work of local mail distribution will be carried on in the new headquarters, with a "Business As Usual" sign swinging from the shiny new doorknob.

In preparing the new home for Beaverton's postal system, Mr. Raynard has been untiring in his efforts to comply fully with all department regulations, and as a result, the local postoffice will be housed in a commodious and modern building, with every facility for efficient handling of the daily flood of incoming and outgoing mail. An overall floor space of 21,770 feet, improved lighting facilities, and more than $2,000 of modern equipment are features that mark the postoffice change as an improvement. A ten-year lease, dating from May 1, 1928, has been drawn up, with P. L. Neil, Postal Lease Inspector for the Pacific Northwest, with headquarters at Seattle, Washington, acting for the Postoffice Department in the transaction.

The approaching move will end a period of five years' location in the present site, and it will be the sixth change of location to be made. The new headquarters are near the old postoffice location when it was previously situated on Watson st. about eight years ago. When the local postoffice was first established the work was carried on in an old store building where the 20th Century grocery now stands, and as the town has grown the plant, through regular stages, has expanded accordingly, until now such an office as the newly-completed one is needed to carry on the work.

Postmaster Cady, with a record of four years in postal work, aided by Mrs. Lullie Foring, another valued employee of the department, and Carriers Boyd, McKell, and Kelley, all veterans of distribution, has built an organization of which any community might be proud, and all declare themselves to be anxiously awaiting the date set for moving to the new location where they will be enabled to carry on their duties with even greater efficiency than in the past.

Special Chamber of Commerce Meeting Called

A special meeting of the Beaverton Chamber of Commerce, called by President Pinder, to consider matters of interest, was held on Tuesday evening, April 24, in the Odd Fellow hall. There was a large attendance at the session, and much interest was shown.

Action on the Constitution and By-Laws of the organization was discussed and the body decided to defer any move until the next session.

The matter of Beaverton's entering a float in Portland's coming Rose Festival parade was broached and considered. The arrangements necessary to carry out the project were given to the charge of the Booster Club, an auxiliary of the local Chamber. Action on the measure by the Chamber of Commerce was tabled until the next session of the body. J. W. Raynard, president of the Booster Club, and a committee consisting of Messrs. Wilson and Manning were instructed to confer on the subject and to report their findings at the next meeting.

A discussion of the railroad fare from Beaverton to Portland was raised. The chair named E. E. Swenson, D. D. Drorbaugh, H. A. Alexander, to investigate the matter and report.

In the absence of President Pinder, the chair was occupied by F. J. Deitch, vice president of the organization.

Another name was added to the roster of the club at this meeting when the body voted to accept the application for membership of P. L. Schultz, local wood and ice dealer.

Fills for membership in the parent organization, the State Chamber of Commerce, and from the Beaverton Review for cards were ordered to be paid.

Raleigh P. T. A. To Hear Lecture On Highways

Raleigh, April 25, 1928 (Special) Samuel C. Lancaster, engineer of the Columbia River highway will give his beautifully illustrated lecture Monday night, April 30, at the Portland Golf Club, under the auspices of the Raleigh Parent-Teacher association. The lecture is declared to be a first-hand account of the building of the great western scenic roadway, and the photographs untouched scenes taken directly from Nature, colored without the aid of the usual brush or re-coloring processes employed.

Scenes in England, France, Germany, Holland and Belgium will be shown in addition to those of the Columbia River highway. Mrs. Samuel B. Lawrence, program chairman and newly-elected president, has arranged a musical program as an added feature of the evening.

Tigardville Lodge Has Big Homecoming Night

Tigardville, Apr. 25, 1928. (Spec.) Tigardville observed the 109th anniversary of the Rebekah and Odd Fellows order with a gala homecoming function on Tuesday evening, April 25. Old members of the local lodge returned to celebrate or write, expressing wishes that they might be present.

The following program was given: "America," by all; Roll Call, "The History of the Order and of Our Lodge," Mrs. Chris Christensen, vocal solo, Mrs. Hans Gaarde; reading, Louise Moeding; song by quartet—Harris Hansen, George Hotchkiss, George Anderson and Arthur Vincent—; piano duet, Mrs. George Anderson and Viola Hansen; song, Helen Moeding; comedy by the F. L. T. club of Multnomah lodge. After the program, all enjoyed the lunch at which there were five charter members as honor guests.

Kinton Pup's Place In Declamation Contest

Kinton, April 25, 1928 (Special) A declamatory contest for schools of this district was held at the Mountsides school on Friday afternoon, April 20.

Those in the contest from Kinton were Selby and Evelene Young, who won from the third and fourth grades, and Leo Young from the fifth and sixth grades. Harlen Selby spoke "Our Heroes," Evelene Young, "Our Hired Girl," and Leo Young, "A Modern Knight."

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Huber Commercial Club is planning for a series of card parties to be held in the near future.

The ladies announce that these social sessions are for the whole community to enjoy, and, although invitations will be sent to all who can be reached, they do not want those who receive no invitations to feel slighted. Refreshments will be served at the affairs, and ample parking room is available.

Program And Feed Staged For Visiting Fraternal Members

Beaverton Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges were host and hostesses to the Washington County Three-Links Association at a social evening held in the local fraternal chambers on Friday night, April 20. Gaston, Banks, Hillsboro and Forest Grove, lodges of the Association, and visitors from Tigard, Portland and out-of-state lodges were guests at the function.

President Cora Heaton of Hillsboro, called the meeting to order, and, following the singing of the national anthem by the assembly, Chaplain Charles Florence of Beaverton, offered a prayer. The roll call found all lodges of the Association represented. The key to the lodges and a gravel—symbols of authority were tendered to President Heaton, by Walter Harris, retiring President.

The evening's address of welcome was given by Walter Harris, and E. L. McCormick of Hillsboro responded in behalf of the Association, and the business of reading reports, petitions and communications followed.

Selections by the Bethel Congregational church orchestra opened program of the evening, and violin numbers, by Sam Walker, a member of the famed Walker Brothers old-time harmony makers, followed. Readings were given by Miss Doris Harris and Miss Merle Davies, vocal duets by Mrs. Tallman and Mrs. Cavness, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lewis; readings by Mr. Bowman, Hillsboro, vocal solo by Margaret Cutie, Forest Grove, and an address on Odd Fellowship by L. L. Meyers of Beaverton.

The Banks lodge extended an invitation to hold the next meeting at that place to be held in July and the offer was accepted.

A silver offering drill was staged to defray the expenses of the entertainment and all adjourned to the dining room to partake of the bountiful repast prepared by the ladies of the lodge.

Local Girl Heads P. U. Decorations Committee

Pacific U., Forest Grove, Ore., April 26, 1928. (Special) Carna Peterson, of Beaverton, is chairman of the decorations committee for the annual Theta Nu sorority formal.

The committee under Miss Peterson's guidance has worked out a cleverly beautiful under-sea garden effect. It promises to be exceptionally artistic when completed, and is said to compare favorably with formal decorations from the larger colleges.

Mrs. L. D. Shellenberger entertained the "5000" Club at luncheon Friday. Mrs. Carrie Summers won the honors and Mrs. H. L. Hudson the consolation.

Beaverton Ladies To Attend Free School

Instructor, Rose Bartlett, Says New Dishes Will Be On Program

NEW RANGE FEATURE

High School Gymnasium To Be Scene Of Demonstrations

Following the announcement in the last issue of the Review that a free cooking school—the third annual one of its kind—would be held this year, the housewives of Beaverton have started planning their schedules so as to include every session offered in the past of coming events that must be attended. A number of the ladies of the community have been heard to declare their intentions of being present on all four days of the demonstrations, and the consensus of local feminine opinion seems to be that the coming culinary school days will be even more popular than were those of former years.

"Delectable left-overs!" Who ever heard of such a thing? We've all had left-overs, but most of us have few fond memories of them.

Nevertheless, "delectable left-overs" will be featured by Rose Bartlett at the Beaverton Review Cooking School, which will open on Tuesday, May 8th, at 2:30 at the high school auditorium. Come and learn how it is done!

This will be the first of four free lectures, and demonstrations given by Rose Bartlett under the auspices of the Beaverton Review, and the Portland Gas and Coke company. The other dates will be Tuesdays and Thursdays, May 8th, 10th, 15th and 17th at 2:30 each afternoon.

Appelizing new dishes, will, in the means of the average family, will be prepared. Something different will be demonstrated every day, and an entirely new program from that of last year will be given. Those ladies who attended the school in previous years know how much valuable information is obtained and how interesting these talks are.

You have heard the story of the baker's boy who, when told to roll Jelly Rolls with a hot towel, rolled the towel into the Jelly Roll? At the Tuesday class Rose Bartlett will demonstrate a quick, inexpensive Jelly Roll that doesn't crack, that is unless it becomes "temperamental." If you have ever argued with a "temperamental" Jelly Roll you will appreciate a recipe with the "temper" removed. As usual Mrs. Bartlett will tell you of various changes to be made in this recipe, a chocolate roll or a change in filling.

The menu Tuesday will also include Tea Rolls, a fancy biscuit all dressed up with fruit and nuts; Prune Nut bread, planned especially for Oregon's prune orchards; the Luncheon Loaf, a meat substitute wherein prunes again figure prominently; and then to fill the ever-present need of something quick and appetizing for lunch, a Cheese Fondue and Cottage Cheese Sandwiches.

Beaverton Woman Passes Away; Paralysis Victim

Mrs. Ellen Hubbard died Sunday evening of paralysis at the age of 82 years at her home on Watson street.

Her son, George, left Monday for Anoka, Minnesota, where the funeral services will be held.

Mrs. Hubbard and her son moved to Beaverton three years ago from Anoka. She leaves several children in Minnesota. Mr. Hubbard will remain several weeks before he returns.

Pneumonia Attack Claims Resident of Beaverton

E. C. Hanson, a resident of this place since February, passed away in Emanuel hospital, Portland, at early Wednesday morning, a victim of complications resulting from an attack of pneumonia.

Deceased was taken to the hospital on April 20, but despite all efforts made to save him, steadily grew worse, until he was called to his reward Wednesday morning.

He leaves to mourn his passing a wife and daughter of this place, a son in Texas, and other more distant relatives.

The family moved here from Newberg about three months ago and have since resided on the Johnson road, where they were clearing ground to erect a home.

Funeral services will be held from the Friends' church in Newberg, Friday, April 27, at 2:30 p. m.

Saints' Nine Drops Game To Verboort High Squad

In the second game of the season, playing against the speedy nine from Verboort, St. Mary's ball club lost a fast game by the score of 6-1. Both teams managed to secure seven hits, but St. Mary's aided their opponents by making seven errors, while Verboort booted the ball only once.

In the third inning, the infield of the Saints blew up and their opponents scored five tallies, taking a lead that could not be overcome. Clarence Woodard, tossing his fist game for the Saints, hurled a good game, allowing but seven scattered hits, and whiffing nine.

Kemper of Verboort, dazzled the Saints with his puzzling curves and sent twelve to the bench via the strike-out route.

A return game will be played later in the season and the Saints will be out to revenge their loss.

Barnes Students Speak In Oratory Contest

Barnes, April 25, 1928 (Special) School was dismissed here at noon on Friday of last week in order that the entrants in the oratory contest held at Oremco might take part. Twelve schools of the surrounding country entered in the contest and their representatives spoke during the afternoon.

Pupils who represented Barnes school were, Masao Hayashi of the third grade, Winnifred Berst of the fifth, Helen Perat and Ruth Wirst of the eighth. Altho our entrants did not take any honors they received valuable instructions in technique, that we hope will enable them to place in the next event of this kind.

Mrs. W. E. Pegg who has been spending several weeks in Los Angeles has returned. She was accompanied by her daughter, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Berg and baby who will make their home in Portland.

Verboort And Fairvale Battle Eleven Innings

Verboort, Ore., April 25. (Special) Verboort's baseball team beat the Fairvale nine here Sunday by a 5-4 score, in one of the most exciting games ever witnessed on the local diamond. The game went eleven innings.

Fairvale tied the score at three runs each in the last of the ninth. Both sides went scoreless in the tenth. In the first half of the eleventh, Fairvale scored a run and seemed to have the game on ice but just about that time the fighting spirit of the Dutch rose to a high pitch, and amid the shouting of 300 frenzied fans chalked up two runs to win.

Score Book Gives Beavers Edge But Ninth Frame Fatal

The local ball team lost to Tigard Sunday by one score. The game was fast and seemed to be going to the home team until the ninth inning when a bunch of errors on the part of the locals lost them three runs and the deciding score.

In the first inning, Atterbury up for Tigard, got a walk and scored when their third batter hit. Day, second man up fanned but Reisbeck got a hit but was thrown out as he tried to stretch a single into a two-bagger. Giddings was up next and struck out.

Second half: McBreen hit and scored when Churchley hit. Davies hit but died on third. Schmidt got a walk; Barron fanned; Churchley hit and scored. McBreen but died on second. Barry and Kelly grounded to pitcher and were both thrown out at first. End of inning; score one to one.

Second inning: Galbreath, Ellison and Jones all struck out in turn.

Second half: McLean hit a fly to right field and was caught out. Jones grounded to pitcher and was out at first. McBreen fanned. End of second; score 1-1.

Third inning: Fuffin struck out; Goodings hit a fly to second and was caught out. Atterbury fouled and was caught out by catcher.

Second half: Davies hit a long fly to center field and was caught out. Schmidt hit but was out attempting to steal second. Barron got a hit and stole second but the side retired when Churchley struck out. Score still 1-1.

That is about the game until the sixth when Beaverton by a walk and two two-baggers in succession got two men across the plate. Looked like the game on ice but lack of practice on the defensive plays that came up lost and let three men across the plate.

In an attempted rally in the last half Beaverton got two men on bases but were unable to make it a tie so Tigard won, 4-3.
