City Council Meets In Regular Session

Council Met Monday Night To Discuss The Water Situation Thoroughly

MEET AGAIN MONDAY

Will Probably Pass Paving Ordinance For Watson, St. Next Eve.

The Town Council met in the City Hall Monday in regular session with Aldermen Raynard, Manning, and Wilson as well as Mayor Erickson in their accustomed places. After the regular bills were presented and ordered paid, the principal part of the evening was taken up in a discussion of the water situation.

This is the first regular meeting of the City Council in over a year when this paper was not represented by an authorized representative, but this time we just naturally forgot. And we went to the "Cat and the Canary" showing that evening at the Leaver Theatre. However, it is just possible that we may give a coherent report of the meeting. Anyway it is probable that we cannot get much farther off than the slip of paper thrown about some parts of town last week and the week before about the sprinkling of lawns and gardens. First they said "Sprinkling Prohibited" and then they said "Sprinkling may be done between ten in the evening and six in the morning." And we wonder what would be done should a person sprinkle at any other time.

We know of no provision in the Charter or in any ordinance that gives anyone any authority to say when I use water that I pay for or whether I can use it or not. If I don't pay for it isn't it my water? And if I don't pay for it isn't it somebody's business to shut it off? And because somebody thinks that a vote may come in handy at the election this fall seems rather a flimsy excuse for not attending to one's duty.

But that is beside the situation. We started out to write up the council meeting, Attorney Aiken and Recorder Thyring were present. The water bill was a little higher than usual but even at that was much less than any bill for Bull Run water. Engineer Cunningham had been invited out from Portland and he, or rather his firm, were employed to submit estimates as to the feasibility of obtaining water from different sources. It is generally understood that some of the different propositions for a supply of water will go into the ballot at the city election this fall.

The matter of paving Watson St. came up and Cunningham were instructed to make the necessary surveys and prepare the estimates for the drafting of the paving ordinance.

The Council adjourned to meet again next Monday evening when the paving matter will be given further attention.

FORMER QUEEN TO BE AT ROUND-UP

Pendleton, Ore., August 8, (Special) It may be said (and very truthfully) that Pendleton, at the close of one year's Round-Up, begins plans for the next. For the great Western exhibition, now in its nineteenth year, has become so well established as a community enterprise that it is a part of the life of the community itself.

Nevertheless these pre-annual days find Pendletonians especially busy with preparations for the annual event, as the dates, September 19, 20, 21 and 22, come on apace. The town wears an expectant air and everywhere there are evidences of Round-Up plans.

Cowboys and cowgirls, who are champions and champions-to-be, are coming in their usual numbers. Among the competitors this year will be the big aggregation of fine performers and beautiful stock known as the Charley Irwin and Eddie McCarty outfits (two separate groups).

Included in the galaxy of feminine stars is Mabel Strickland, queen of the 1927 Round-Up, and the only woman steer roper in the world. Pretty Mabel, despite a serious accident to her hand while roping last year, would not relinquish the lariat until she had the steer tied with a neatness and speed which the cowboys envied.

Her sire is St. Faronet and her dam is LaCreole's Amy's Darling, a cow which has a 365-day record of 500.01 lbs. of butterfat and 9763 lbs. of milk made when she was 1 year and 11 months of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Brown and son, Elwood, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Morlock returned Saturday from a two week's outing at Ocean Lake beach.

Rudolph Schuepbach, Jr. Playing The Violin He Made

The above is a picture of Rudolph Schuepbach, Jr., the second son of Rudolph Schuepbach, Sr., who came to America from Switzerland in 1903, and landed in New York on the Fourth of July. When Rudolph was five years old he was presented with a scroll saw and from that time he has been working to equip a shop that he has at home. Wood carving has always been his hobby.

Last September he began to make a violin which he finished in February. He received instructions in the tuning of violins from C. E. Haulenbach from whom he learned to tune the wood of the back and front of the violin while making.

He carved the rest of his violin out of hard maple, using his jack knife. His violin is a well-made instrument and has a very fine tone.

Rudolph has taken a few lessons from Mr. Kollenbach but he is sure a boy as young as he with the ability to make as fine an instrument as a violin will not need to take many lessons to be able to play his own violin.

Rudolph is very young, just having finished grade school this spring.

NO LAW REQUIRING DRIVER'S INSURANCE

Our attention has been called to the fact that there are several insurance solicitors about town who tell prospective customers that there is a state law just passed that requires the owner of an automobile to take out public liability and property damage insurance.

An interview with Mr. Skee, the local representative of one of the largest companies writing that sort of insurance, reveals that there is no such a law and that the solicitors claiming there is are acting without any justification in any fact of law.

MRS. W. E. INGALLS IS GIVEN SURPRISE TUES.

A very delightful surprise was sprung on Mrs. Ingalls at the Methodist parsonage on Tuesday evening after the choir rehearsal at the church.

Upon coming home Rev. and Mrs. Ingalls unlocked the door of the parsonage and went in all unsuspecting; only to find the front part of the house filled with friends who had come to keep celebration with Mrs. Ingalls of her "birthday."

They had gained admission to the house in some mysterious way, and leaving the lights off, awaited in silence the return of the "Demonic" and his good wife. To say there was complete and great surprise is putting it mildly.

A happy and delightful hour followed: light refreshments were served; and many beautiful and serviceable gifts were presented to Mrs. Ingalls.

Among those present were Mrs. William Hart and son, Ross, and daughter, Miss Frances, Mrs. Laura Holcomb, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Walker and son, Mrs. J. F. Tualatin Valley Base ball Season Closes

St. Phillips Is Presented With The Trophy By President Williams

MEETING HELD TUES.

Treasurer's Report Is Given And Money Being Returned To Teams

The final meeting of the season of the Tualatin Valley Baseball League was held at Garden Home last Tuesday night. There was no quorum present, as the rules require representatives of six teams but as it was a postponed meeting there not being a quorum present the week before, it was decided to close up the affairs of the league for the season. Pres. Williams of Garden Home presided.

In a neat speech, the president presented the trophy to Tony Rinella for the St. Phillips team. The trophy is a silver cup resting on three crossed bats with a ball beneath them, the whole mounted on a black wooden base. A ball player is standing on the lid, with uniform and glove on. On the cup are engraved the words, "Champion Tualatin Valley League, 1928" The trophy was given by the Portland Sporting Goods Co., from whom most of the supplies for the games were purchased.

The treasurer reported that the league's expenses for the season were $18 for printing and telephone calls. The income of the league, (20 per cent of the collections at the games) was $90.98. It was decided to retain $20 in the treasury to start with next season, and divide the balance among the teams in proportion to the amount each had turned into the league.

At the annual meeting to be called by the president in the spring, to any team not wishing to remain in the league its $2.50 will be refunded and the team taking its place will be required to deposit the same amount with the league.

Each manager present was called on for a speech. Mr. Rinella stated that the St. Phillips team had been playing five years and had won four trophies. The president suggested that the teams endeavor to improve their grounds before the season started next summer. Mr. Williams is a director of the Garden Home school district and said they intended to enlarge their ground. A vote of thanks was given to the president for his efforts in behalf of the games this season.
