

PICTORIAL LIFE OF HERBERT HOOVER

No. 4 By Satterfield

1. After Herbert Hoover's father died in Iowa, the three children went to live at Uncle Benajah's farm nearby.

2. Here Herbert had his share of the housework, which included this important engineering job.

3. The children's playhouse was the farm attic, where they read Youth's Companion and Robinson Crusoe.

4. First prize always went to Herbert when the children played circus with Uncle Benajah's old white mare.

Scholarship Higher At State University

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene.—Only 24 students of the University of Oregon "flunked out" or were declared ineligible to return to school on account of low scholarship, it was announced by Earl M. Pallett, registrar. This is a substantial decrease from last term, when 37 were not allowed to re-enter. In the corresponding term last year, a total of 49 flunked out.

This low number shows definitely that students are devoting more time to studies, since standards of scholarship have steadily raised at the university. The high quality of work being done is reflected in the fact that 99 students won places on the honor roll for earning grades of B or above in all subjects.

TEXTBOOK IS WRITTEN UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene.—A laboratory manual on experimental physics will be written by Dr. A. E. Casswell, of the physics department of the University of Oregon, it is announced. McMillan and company will publish the volume. It is expected to be completed in time, so that it can be distributed for the opening of school next fall.
