

PICTORIAL LIFE OF HERBERT HOOVER

No. 17

By Satterfield

1. One of Hoover's greatest hobbies has been the elimination of waste in industry.

2. Another is the "Better Homes in America" movement, now organized in many cities.

3. As head of the radio, he issued the first broadcasting license in history.

4. He has laid great stress on commercial aviation and has stimulated its development.

WALTON LEAGUE TO BE ESTABLISHED

Petition for a charter as a chapter of the Walton League in America was received from local sportsmen and outdoor lovers at the National headquarters of the League in Chicago, according to a dispatch broadcast through out this state by Fred H. Doellner, general manager of the League.

The petition is virtually certain to result in the forwarding of a charter to the local group, he said. "We will welcome the sportsmen and the outdoor people of Beaverton, Ore. to the ranks of national and state-wide Waltonism, and will be delighted to have their cooperation in bringing back the outdoors to a point in keeping with its vital necessity as an adjunct to health, wealth, and general happiness, and to give them every aid of assistance within our power to help them bring this about," said Mr. Doellner. "The benefits go to those who help themselves, and the people who take part in this work are placing your town well on its way to leadership in, and enjoyment of, outdoor recreation on a greater scale than ever."

Sportsmen here are already making plans for celebration of charter night. All are actively engaged in a campaign to increase the membership rolls to their maximum strength. It is stressed by leaders of the movement that all who enroll previous to the arrival of the charter will be listed as charter members of the organization here. A Founder's Button, silver emblem of special recognition awarded by National Headquarters to those who foster new chapters is being sent to L. R. Dean. Temporary officers are: Prof. I. R. Metzler, Pres., L. R. Dean, Sec. As soon as the chapter has been completely organized, with enough strength enlisted to enable it to function as a full-fledged Walton organization, the National Headquarters will give it every assistance in solving the outdoor problems peculiar to this locality.

THE GROWTH OF THE PEACE IDEA IN WORLD

The peace idea is gradually growing. Peace will never be secured by artificial means until there is sufficient sentiment behind it. That sentiment must grow. It cannot be manufactured.

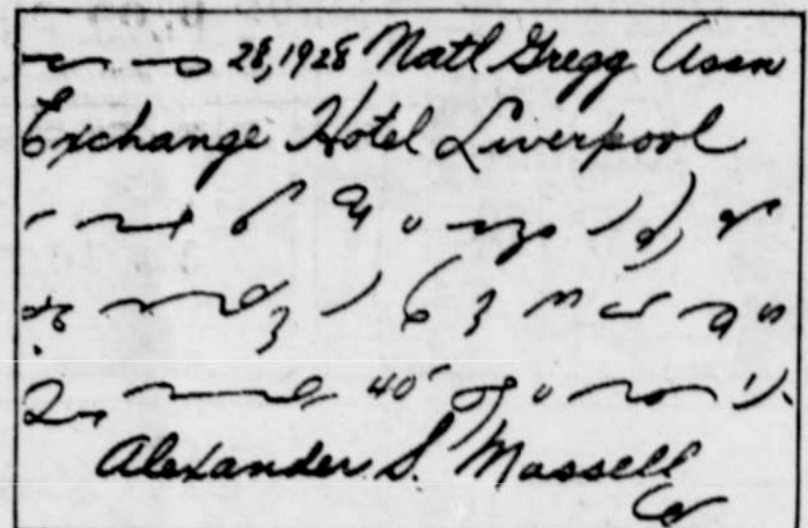

Of course every intelligent effort to promote peace helps along the growth and should be encouraged, but it should be remembered that universal peace is not upon a solid foundation except as based upon the will of all the people everywhere.

Lillian Gish, the movie actress, said the other day: "I believe the screen will bring all men to a common conception of one God and to a universal sense of international relation and duty."

One of the great factors in the growth of peace is the movie. It speaks not in words suitable for one people and not another, but by pictures which are understandable by all.

An Italian paper recently protested against the influence of American Hollywood screens. This is like protesting against the processes of equinoxes.

PHOTORADIO GREETING IN SHORTHAND FLASHED TO LIVERPOOL BANQUET

Reproduction of shorthand Photoradiogram greeting. Translation: National Gregg Association Exchange Hotel Liverpool The Commercial Education Association of New York City and vicinity extends sincere congratulations and best wishes to you on the occasion of your conference commemorating the 40th anniversary of Gregg shorthand. ALEXANDER S. MASSELL, President.

A radio photograph of a greeting written in shorthand was transmitted recently to a conference of educators and shorthand experts attending a banquet in Liverpool. This was the first time that a message in shorthand had ever been transmitted by Photoradio, and according to engineers opens up new possibilities for condensing lengthy messages and statements into smaller spaces with a consequent reduction in cost of the picture transmitted. The text of the message, not including the date, numbered forty one words of which only the address and signature were written in longhand, with the remaining 32 words in shorthand. The sender was Alexander S. Massell, president of the Commercial Education of New York, who addressed a message of greeting in this form to the banquet held by the National Gregg Association at the Exchange Hotel, Liverpool, England. John Robert Gregg, the only living author of the shorthand method bearing his name, was a guest of honor at the banquet, which commemorated the fortieth anniversary of the use of Gregg shorthand. The message, was photographed, and the negative placed on a glass cylinder of the Photoradio transmitter located at the New York offices of the Radio Corporation of America. It was then flashed across the 3,000 intervening miles of ocean to London and from there delivered to the banquet hall of the Exchange Hotel.

I have seen films all through Europe and most of the American ones. Europeans are fond of American films, for the simplest reason in the world. They are better than the European and cheaper. Against these two arguments it is useless to object. American films are steadily increasing the democratic ideas of freedom and equality all over the world. Old notions of vested privilege, old institutions founded upon tradition must give way. Along with the film come other things that are universal and international, that know no nations and do not understand the language of "patriotism"—art, literature and commerce. In the matter of art it makes no difference where one comes from nor who was one's father. In proportion as these universal ideas, commerce, the movies, art, commerce, if it is profitable to trade with the people of a country, and must provincialism and nationalism give way and a suitable basis be formed upon which to erect the structure of universal peace.
