BOY AND GIRL WIN PRIZES IN CONTESTS

Two more of our young people have added to Beaver's fast growing reputation as the home of prize winners.

Last Saturday in the junior and senior piano contests of the Oregon Federation of Music Clubs, there were Beaver winners. Evelyn Alexander in Class A, junior was awarded second prize, a silver cup.

Maurice Manning in Class C, seniors, tied for first place, and on the tie number, Bach Invention in B Minor, was also awarded second prize, a silver cup.

These awards are more noteworthy when it is considered the competition was very keen, both playing in large classes of the brightest pupils of Portland's best music teachers.

Both are talented young musicians, and are having the advantage of instruction from very capable teachers.

SCHOOL BOARD MAY CALL ELECTION AGAIN

Wednesday evening Petitions Signed By 160 names Are Presented

The bond election held for the purpose of issuing $30,000 of school district bonds last to a vote of something like 100 to 117.

This past week there have been several people busy soliciting signatures on initiative petitions looking to the re-opening of another bond election.

Wednesday evening at a meeting of the school board, there were presented petitions signed by almost a hundred sixty names. These petitions were of the initiative variety and would seem to make it mandatory on the school board to call another election.

It is said that the board returned them to the people presenting them asking that more signatures be secured before they, the school board would act to call another election.

It seems that there is a division of opinion. At the mass meeting held some time previous to the election, those present expressed themselves as unanimously in favor of calling the election, and it was confidently expected that the bonds would be issued. But the morning of the election there were found scattered, thoroughly, a poster calling on all to come out and vote against the bonds. This poster carried the name of one of the sponsors of the opposition, but failed to carry the name of the printer.

As the corrupt practices act requires that the name of the printer be on "literature" concerning elections, it would seem that the things were somewhat out of order.

Aside from the one signing the poster, R. Scheupbach, it would be a little difficult to find out just who the backers of the opposition to the bonds were. Some probably not saying anything for business reasons.

Why there was any organized opposition to the issue is a little difficult to understand. Our schools rank with the highest in the state. This is a growing community. The cost of the school per capita of pupil educated had been kept down every bit as far as possible consistent with the progress which must result from healthy growth and development.

our readers to a few things. One is that there is no standing still. Try it some time, and see for yourself. If we do not go ahead, we must go backwards. Again, the education of the growing generation is the biggest business which faces our community. It is by far the biggest business in our community. Are we looking after our own, our and my, business if we refuse to grant the necessary means to carry on this business? Think it over, that's all we ask.

MAN GIVES MEN LIFT. THEY ROB HIM OF $100

Record-Breaking United Tractor Given World by New Co-Op Movement

Shown here for the first time is the United, the world's newest tractor for farm and industrial work, produced by a great new co-operative manufacturing and marketing movement with $125,000,000 of combined assets. Thirty-five large independent makers and distributors of tractors, farm implements and industrial equipment in North America, banded together as the United Tractor and Equipment Corporation, are introducing, through several hundred dealers in the United States and Canada, a full line of machines and equipment designed to be operated with their tractor, the United.

The tractor is being made under contract by the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., Milwaukee, a member of the corporation. H. C. Merritt heads the Wisconsin concern's tractor division. All the products bear the United name and a striking orange and black color scheme.

"By eliminating expensive competition in manufacturing and selling among our members we have cut costs to the minimum, and the result of this co-operative plan is the lowest priced tractor ever offered, per pounds of drawbar pull or per horsepower," said President Milton W. Anderson, of Chicago. "Our plan of financing, service and advertising for dealers is unique and comprehensive, and it is equally attractive to farmers."

The Calgary Stampede, Epic of Early Frontier Days Of Canadian West, To Be Held July 8-13, Inclusive

For a week in July of each year the entire populace of Calgary, thriving city in Alberta, casts off its conventional modern clothing and dons chaps and 10-gallon hats in honor of the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede, a relic of the Last Great West and one of the finest exhibitions of horsemanship in the world. This year's Calgary Stampede will be held July 8-13, inclusive, and Guy Weadick, its manager, well known impresario of the Canadian West, has announced that it will be "bigger and better" than ever. The attendance at the Stampede has increased by leaps and bounds ever since its inception in 1912 when it was witnessed by a few inquisitive thousands, for by 1922 it had reached the 100,000 mark; it had doubled that by 1926; and 1928 saw 220,000 people cheering and reveling in this exhibition of the prowess of the plainsman.

Several world-celebrated personages will donate prizes for the major cowboy contests in 1929, among them being the Prince of Wales, E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and Sir Thomas Lipton, British yachtsman and sporting enthusiast.

The various events scheduled include bronco-busting, steer decorating (once known as bull-dogging), calf-roping, wild steer riding, wild horse and chuck-wagon races, wild cow milking contests and races in which buck Indians and squaws demonstrate that the red man has neither speed nor stamina with the depletion of the numerical strength of his tribe. The Indians camp at Victoria Park, Calgary, and are a picturesque phase of a really remarkable exhibition. During the 1927 show a busman square, divinely conceived, house-work in her brave's topee, was informed that the squaw race is which she was to participate was the next event on the program. Rushing from her topee, an apron still around her waist, she jumped astride an Indian steed and won first prize—her apron whipping behind her in the breeze.
