Aloha-Huber Review

Mr. and Mrs. Jay T. Hadley, and daughter, Mary, and Charlotte Patterson of Huber, who were joined in Portland by Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, close friends of the Hadleys had a most enjoyable trip to Luta Falls near Battleground, Wash., on last Sunday. The day was spent swimming and picnicking.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson of Huber are planning a trip to Marshfield, Or., the latter part of the week, visiting Mrs. Patterson's sisters Mrs. Clayton Driscoll and Mrs. Leona Mear and their families, who live there. They expect to be gone about a week and may visit California points also on the trip.

The Huber Commercial Club will hold their annual picnic next Sunday at Balm Grove. A big time is planned by the committee with some uncommon and unique features on the program. The Huber Boy Scouts will camp at the Grove the Saturday night before the picnic and be on hand to join in the fun next day, as honor guests of the club.

Television is all right. We are perfectly willing to see our radio programs. What we fear is that some one will invent smellelevision about the time a Zoo broadcast is going on.

WEIGHT REDUCING DAINTIES
(By Betty Barclay)
In spite of the fact that curves are again stylish, there are many who feel that they still have too many of these essentials. Here are two tasty little dishes that will

BAKED FISH
1 average helping filleted flounder or similar type of fish
2 tablespoons butter
1 lemon
Salt and pepper
Grease a plate and lay the fish on it with the skin side upwards. Put in the oven five minutes and the skin can be easily removed. Melt butter in a flat pan, lay fish on it and place in hot oven 400 degrees F. eight to ten minutes. Baste twice while baking. Remove, season and squeeze lemon juice over. Serve hot.

ONION, PEPPER SALAD
1 orange
Lettuce
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
French dressing
Peel orange, cut into slices and arrange on lettuce. Chop onion and green pepper very fine and mix them thoroughly. Sprinkle over orange or place a small portion on each slice. Serve with a small amount of French dressing. This makes one large serving or two small ones.

TWO GELATIN SALADS
Vegetable salads to some are more difficult to prepare than fruit salads, while molded salads seldom appear upon their tables. As a matter of fact, it is very easy to prepare delicious molded vegetable salads—and now that fresh vegetables are all around us, what more fitting than these two recipes:

IMPERIAL SALAD
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup pineapple juice
1 tablespoon vinegar
3 slices pineapple, cubed
1 can Spanish pimientos, shredded
1 medium cucumber, cut fine, salted, drained
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add pineapple juice and vinegar. Chill. When slightly thickened, add pimiento, cucumber and pineapple. Turn into molds. Chill until firm. Serve with cream salad dressing or mayonnaise to which whipped cream has been added. Serves six.

CARDINAL GELATIN SALAD
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup canned beet juice
1 cup celery, shredded
1 cup beets, diced
1/2 cup Spanish onions, cut fine
1 green pepper, shredded
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add beet juice. When cold, add celery, beets, onion, green pepper and salt. Pour into individual molds. Turn out on lettuce, serve with Mayonnaise dressing. Serve eight.

SERVE SALADS THIS SUMMER
The summer salad is valuable not merely because it contains light, alkaline foods that are needed to balance the acid-producing foods eaten in winter, but also because it serves to satisfy the appetite and fill the stomach without furnishing too many calories to a heat-tortured body. Even though it be the simplest kind of a salad. Half a banana, half an orange, a few cherries on lettuce leaves with a touch of dressing will do. Serve it ice cold and it will be relished by all—family and guests alike.

BETTY BARCLAY OFFERS FREE RECIPE BOOKLETS

Betty Barclay, whose recipes and food stories have been appearing for some time in the Review will be glad to have the names and addresses of women readers interested in recipes of various kinds, so that from time to time she may forward them recipe booklets that are available. Merely drop a postal to Miss Betty Barclay, 1861 East Tiora St., Philadelphia, Penna., and your name will be added to the list.

Cherries do not increase in sugar content nor lose acidity after picking, finds the experiment station, which, in a new bulletin on harvesting this crop, recommends allowing the fruit to reach full maturity on the trees. This practice insures a better quality product, increases the weight of the crop, and does not harm the fruit for shipping long distances fresh. The complete bulletin may be had free.
