YOU HAVE A DOCTOR'S WORD FOR THIS LAXATIVE.

In 1875, an earnest young man began to practice medicine. As a family doctor, he saw the harm in harsh purgatives for constipation and began to search for something harmless to the sensitive bowels. Out of his experience was born a famous prescription. He wrote it thousands of times. It proved an ideal laxative for old and young. As people saw how marvelously the most sluggish bowels are started and had breath, headaches, feverishness, nausea, gas, poor appetite, and such disorders, are relieved by the prescription, it became necessary to put it up ready for use. Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is the world's most popular laxative. It never varies from Dr. Caldwell's original effective and harmless formula. All drugstores have it.

After Nervous Breakdown

"I had a nervous breakdown and could not do the work I have to do around the house. Through one of your booklets I found how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped other women and I went to the drug store and got me six bottles. It has done me good in more ways than one and now I work every day without having to lie down. I will answer all letters with pleasure."—Hannah M. Eversmeyer, 707 N-16 Street, East St. Louis, Illinois.

PUBLICITY
"How do you like your new publicity agent?" asked the film star's friend.
"Oh, he's wonderful!" she cried, beaming with enthusiasm. "We've been robbed twice, our house has been burned, and our car has been wrecked, and I have had my life threatened by an anonymous enemy, since we employed him!"

Avoiding Controversy
"Have you decided on the ideas for your speech?"
"It will have to be rather non-committal," answered Senator Sorghum. "I have assembled what appears to be a pretty fair assemblage of words. Now I've got to look them over and see that there are as few ideas as possible."—Washington Star.

SPLENDID FOR COLDS

Traveler—They tell me this is a splendid place for coughs and colds.
Resident—That's a straight tip. I've had more colds since I came here than I ever had in my life.

Always Changing
"Times ain't like they used to be," it's a sad old lay.
Aid by history you'll see
Times always were that way.

Drop the Curtain
Stage Manager of Very Poor Revue (hearing sudden outburst of laughter)—"Lor', is the comedian actually putting a joke over?"
Scene-shifter (peering up stage)—"No, it's a bit of scenery fell on 'is head!"

Self-Made in Junk Business
Van Blow—I went into the junk business when I was in my teens, and if I do say it myself, I am a self-made man.
Van Knox—Yeah, some junk.

Efficient
"Are office girls as good as office boys?"
"Seem to fill the bill about as well. Many of them can whistle."

SHADY TREE

Navorich (wittily, to visitor)—You see a storm destroyed all our shade trees. The only one left is our family tree.

Plain-spoken Friend—Why not use that? It's shady, I hear.

One Below
Little Willie had a mirror. And he ticked the back all off. Vines, he thinking in his terror. It would cure the whooping cough.

The Drummer
"A salesman used to tell funny stories."
"Well?"
"Now he uses the golf approach."

Much Sought For
Knux—That fellow is simply pored to death by poets.
Bnox—Is he an editor?
Knux—No, he empties the waste baskets in a newspaper office, and they want their poems back.

For His Wife
"What's the string round your finger for, Angus?"
"Oh, that's so my wife will remember to ask me if I've forgotten something that she asked me to remember her."

Silence Golden Sometimes
Magistrate—You are charged with assault and battery. What have you to say?
Prisoner—Not a word, yer worship! It was sayin' too much got me into this scrape.

Far Enough
Ernest—Didn't I tell her she was pretty ugly?
Edward—I almost did. I got as far as "pretty" and she looked so pleased that I hadn't the heart to say any more.

Add Definitions
Filling Station—A place where gas tanks and bandits pockets are filled.
Optimist—A guy who thinks Billie will be a year when nobody can think up a more libelous way of making a fool of himself than by flag-pole sitting.

Beat 'Em to It
"Last evening, sir, I distinctly saw my daughter sitting on your lap. What explanation have you to make?"
"I got here early, sir; before the others."

For any BABY

We can never be sure just what makes an infant restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as Baby has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes constipation. Or diarrhea—a condition that should always be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly; if it doesn't, you should call a physician.

First Aid—Home Remedy Week Coming
The Good Samaritan is pictured as "The First First Aid" in the national reminder which has been sent to druggists all over America, announcing the 9th anniversary of "First Aid—Home Remedy Week," fixed for March 19-23. The idea of an advertising-merchandising one-a-year drive timed with spring house cleaning was given to the drug world by Sterling Products, Incorporated, in 1922. Preparedness for meeting accident or sudden illness is emphasized as a sensible and seasonable sales plan which serves to alleviate needless suffering and unobtainable life.

The National Association of Retail Druggists sponsored this ad-sales plan and later added Pharmacy Week as an autumn festival for intensive advertising and salesmanship in the drug world. The National Wholesale Druggists Association and the National Association of Drug Clerks have joined the N. A. R. D. in establishing these festivals of selling as Spring and Autumn fixtures for the welfare of humanity.

"Fill That Medicine Chest Now" is the slogan of "First Aid—Home Remedy Week," and has been from the beginning. It was Dr. William E. Weiss, himself a graduate from the ranks of retail druggists, who first saw the value of "First Aid—Home Remedy Week," and wherever live-wire druggists have co-operated by showing a window filled with suggestive first aid blots for accident or illness, and using their home newspaper advertising space, they have added cheerfully to their March business.

As a matter of fact, few men recognize good luck when they meet it.

Needless Pain!

Don't be a martyr to unnecessary pain. Lots of suffering is, indeed, quite needless. Headaches, for example. They come without warning, but one can always be prepared. Bayer Aspirin tablets bring immediate relief. Keep a bottle at the office. Carry the small tin in your pocket. Then you won't have to hunt a drugstore, or wait till you get home. And don't think Bayer Aspirin is only good for headaches, sore throats, and colds. Read the proven directions for relieving neuralgic, neuritic, rheumatic, and other aches and pains. Remembering, of course, that the quick comfort from these tablets is not a cure; for any continued pain, see a doctor. Bayer Aspirin is genuine. Protect yourself by looking for that name. Always the same. Always safe. Never hurts the heart.
