You Don't Know the Half Of It. How wise we are, how wise we are. We have an idea that we know a great deal about this language of ours, yet half an hour's tele-a-tete with a dictionary will show most of us that we know very little.

For instance, how would you pronounce coupon, combative, lamentable, grimace, jocular, conversant, address, and inquiry? Easy? Look them up. If you have six out of the eight correct, you'll be far above the average—and these are very simple little words used by all of us.

THINK! AND DON'T STOP THINKING! Edson R. Waite Shawnee, Oklahoma

The home-owned, home-operated stores of your city are dependable, for they are run by your neighbors and your friends—citizens who are putting what they make back into the home city to make it more prosperous, not sending it away to help make some other city bigger.

Their stocks are the best obtainable. You should keep well acquainted with them; you should take pride in the supremacy these business concerns have established. They think quality first, then price.

No city can move ahead nor its people be prosperous when home pride is lacking. People who make money in the home city and send it elsewhere lack home pride.

Citizens cannot act with effect unless they act in concert. If they are not linked together with home pride and common interests, they and their city are indeed in a bad shape.

Better business for your home merchants and neighbors lays the foundation for a better and more dependable city.

Your city will be able to meet the keenest competition from other cities only through consistent cooperation of its citizens to build better local business.

It's always better to be safe than sorry. The local merchants who advertise in this newspaper guarantee their merchandise. Read their advertisements before you buy.

The Awful Truth "You look fed up, old man." "Yes, I've had a tiring day. That little beast of an office boy of mine came to me with the old gag about getting off for his grandmother's funeral, so just to teach him a lesson, on I said I would accompany him."

"Ah, not so bad; was it a good game?" "No, it was his grandmother's funeral!"

Flavoring With Fruit Peel

Everyone knows how much better a lemon pie tastes with grated lemon rind than without. Few, however, realize how widely they can make use of fruit peel for flavoring.

Grated orange and lemon rind are used by the best cooks to flavor cakes, pies, breads, desserts, frostings, fillings, sauces, and other foods. In grating, only the yellow portion of the rind should be removed.

This yellow portion contains the oil cells from which come the volatile oils that give the flavor.

This yellow portion when grated may be used immediately, or mixed with sugar and kept in a tightly covered jar for future use. Where

FINDS STATE BANKS WELL SUPERVISED

Bankers Body Sees Less Politics in Banking Departments With Better Facilities in the Hands of the Responsible Officials.

A survey of state banking departments by the State Bank Division, American Bankers Association, discloses a distinct tendency the past five years to take bank supervision out of politics, to increase the discretionary powers of bank commissioners, to lengthen their terms of office, to supply them with adequate forces of qualified examiners and to relieve banking departments of duties foreign to banking, says a recent statement issued by the association.

"We have consistently urged that the office of bank commissioner be as free from partisan politics as the judiciary itself and that it be divorced from all other functions of state government," the statement says. "Further, that his term of office be made more secure and lasting, with sufficient salary and power granted to attract and retain the services of men of outstanding executive ability, courage, resourcefulness and successful banking experience."

"Five years ago the first survey of state banking departments by the division demonstrated the need for improvements. On the basis of data now in hand it is evident that, through the revision of statutes in many states, rapid steps are being taken in the right direction. One by one the states are coming to recognize the primary importance of strong, competent banking departments. The demand for increasing the effectiveness of banking departments is beginning to be met."

How Bank Commissioners Are Chosen The office of bank commissioner is now operated as an independent department of state government in thirty-four states, the bankers find. In two states the bank commissioner is elected at general elections; in one he is appointed from eligible lists of the civil service and in another he is selected by the banks. In one state the bankers' association elects a list of five names from which the governor appoints one as superintendent of banks; in another he is appointed by the State Corporation Commission and in another by the State Banking Board.

Terms of office of bank commissioners have been lengthened in several states during the last five years," the report says. "In 23 states the term is four years, in one, five years, and in three it is six years and in some the term is indefinite. A short term is condemned on the grounds that the commissioner has insufficient time to become thoroughly conversant with his field work. A longer term permits his rendering useful service through capitalizing his experience. Five years ago the average length of service was less than three years, while now it has risen to five years."

Higher Standards Required "Signs of an awakening to the necessity of making successful banking experience a qualification for bank commissioner are evident. While eleven states report no banking experience necessary, the majority require experience of this sort, ranging from two to five years. Twelve states now have banking boards, with powers ranging from acting in an advisory capacity to full power over all state banks to issue and reject charters.

"A healthy sign is the number of reports which disclose that the commissioners have full power to appoint bank examiners or that these appointments are made from civil service lists. This power is now granted to the commissioner by twenty-seven states. Three require that selection be from civil service lists. Complaints are still made in a few states of political pressure in the appointment of examiners, but the contrary seems to be true in a growing number of states. The most capable commissioner cannot successfully perform his duties unless he is able to command the services of efficient, honest examiners. The safety of depositors is dependent on their work, and their appointment, fitness and compensation are highly important. The number of examiners has increased 27 per cent in the last five years."

BANKERS TO HOLD GREAT CONVENTION

Cleveland, Ohio, has been designated for the 1330 annual convention of the American Bankers Association. This organization, which numbers about 20,000 banks with $65,000,000,000 in assets, is annually the nation's most important financial event. The attendance ranges between five and ten thousand.

Cleveland is especially significant in the history of the Association's educational traditions since it was in this city, when the organization last met there in the year 1899, that the original resolution was presented looking to the formation of an educational section. This subsequently resulted in the American Institute of Banking in which are now enrolled 35,000 bank men and women engaged in the study of the technical and scientific phases of the business.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON RIFLE TEAM RATES HIGH

In the national rifle matches held at Camp Perry, Ohio, last August, Harvey Wright, senior in the University of Oregon, tied for third place shot in the H. H. F. C. at the university last year.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Ore.—Competing for the famous "The Warrior of the Pacific" trophy, the University of Oregon Rifle Team, representing the Pacific Corps Area, defeated all other teams in the mainland United States and was only defeated by the team representing the University of Hawaii, it was announced here by Major F. A. Barker, commandant of the unit here.

The Warrior of the Pacific trophy, a handsome statue of a Hawaiian warrior, has been won every year by the team from the University of Hawaii, but this year the islanders were closely pressed by the Oregon rifle team, who scored an average of 207.69 against 211.47 by Hawaii. Oregon led its nearest competitor, Nebraska of the Seventh corps, by over 11 points. The Cornhuskers scoring but 196. They in turn had a substantial lead over Wisconsin, which turned in an average of 181.615. Syracuse ranked next, with Texas A. and M., North Carolina State College, Drexel Institute, DePaul, and Rhode Island state college ranking in order named.

Oregon had already won the "Dough Boy of the West" trophy and the right to represent the Ninth Corps Area in the competition at summer camp this year.

An office building will be constructed at Ashland on C Street by Carson-Fowler Lumber Company at a cost of $1,200.

COWS GIVE MORE MILK BY RADIO The first test under practical dairying conditions of providing radio music for cows has proved a big success according to officials of the Detroit Creamery Company, near Mount Clemens, Mich. The creamery company officials bought RCA loudspeakers for each of their barns when they noticed 122 cows liked the music from a radio receiving set installed to entertain the men doing the milking. Now all the 200 cows on the model farm enjoy radio programs.

SERVING MANY BUSINESSES Experience of large fleet owners reveals the unusual reliability and economy of the new Ford

A SIGNIFICANT TRIBUTE to the value of the new Ford is found in its increasing use by Federal, state and city governments and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most instances, the Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests of every factor that contributes to good performance—speed, power, safety, comfort, low cost of operation and up-keep, reliability and long life.

Prominent among the companies using the Ford are the Associated Companies of the Bell System, Armour and Company, The Borden Company, Continental Baking Corporation, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, General Electric Company, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Kellogg Company, Kwikkerbocker Ice Company, Morton Salt Company, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, The Procter and Gamble Company, and Swift & Company.

Each of these companies uses a large number of Ford cars and trucks. The Associated Companies of the Bell System use more than eight thousand. Modern business moves at a fast pace and it needs the Ford. Daily, in countless ways and places, it helps to speed the production and delivery of the world's goods and extend the useful service of men and companies.

Constant, steady operation over many thousands of miles emphasizes the advantages of the sound design of the Ford car, its high quality of materials, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing. Beneath its graceful lines and beautiful colors there is a high degree of mechanical excellence.

An example of the value built into the Ford is the use of more than twenty ball and roller bearings. They are hidden within the car and you may never see them. Yet they play an important part in satisfactory, economical performance. Their function is similar to the jewels of a fine watch.

Throughout the Ford chassis, a ball or roller bearing is used at every place where it is needed to reduce friction and wear and give smooth, reliable mechanical operation.

At many points, as on the transmission counter-shaft, clutch release, fan and pump shaft, and front drive shaft, these ball and roller bearings are used where less costly types of bearings might be considered adequate.

Additional instances of the high quality built into the Ford are the extensive use of steel forgings, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, Rustless Steel, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, and the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield.

The Ford policy has always been to use the best possible material for each part and then, through large production, give it to the public at low cost.
