FATHER RYAN

(A Sonnet)

In the hush of the valley of silence,
I dream all the songs that I sing.
—Ryan

From out the silence of the long-dead years,
Poignant with heartbeats of the gallant South,
All warm and moist with dew drops of soft tears,
Pulsate as sighing zephyrs of the South—
Such is the music from those dreams of thine,
Gilding with Faith our haunting doubts and fears,
Visioning the Eternal and Divine
Beyond the shadows of Earth's transient years.

Gold echoes from the hush of Silence caught
And throbbed to music by thy mellow harp;
Melting in song the purest pearls of thought;
Sounding the deep wells of the human heart;
Sweet as June's kiss, with love and sunshine fraught,
That thrills the petals of the rose apart.

Robbers Carry Out Chain Store Safe

Burglars Probably Enter Building With A Skeleton Key

IS THIRD ROBBERY

Sheriff And Some Private Detectives Are Working On Case

For the third time, the MacMarr store here has been entered by robbers. The other two times was when the institution was known as the Twentieth Century, in charge of Mr. Conoly.

Wednesday morning when the manager, Mr. Snyder, came down to open the store, he noticed that the tabby cat which lives at the store was on the outside waiting to be let in. He was sure that she had been shut in the store the previous evening and wondered how she had got out during the night.

He busied himself about getting ready for business that day, and finally stepped around to open the safe to place the cash in the registers. Judge his surprise when there was no safe there to open.

To call the central office at Portland and notify them took but a minute. Another and he had the Sheriff on the line and that officer sent a deputy down immediately to investigate.

Examination disclosed that the burglars had apparently gained entrance through the front door by means of a pick or skeleton key. They had molested little in the store excepting that they had taken the safe bodily out from where it was fastened to its place under the counter.

The sheriff and some private investigators are working on the case and though no clues were disclosed, it is thought that the guilty parties may be apprehended in the near future.

ROBERT HAINES TO APPEAR IN CONCERT

Robert L. Haines, known here as Bob Haines, will be presented in concert by his teacher, E. Bruce Knowlton, at 8:00 p.m. on the evening of Friday (tonight) at the Huber Commercial Hall. Mrs. Knowlton will accompany him at the piano.

Bob is well known here. He attended the Beaverton high school for four years and graduated in 1929. While in school he gained a wide reputation as a tenor. He was editor of the Hummer, class president, member of the glee club and Torch Honor Society, and took part in many operettas and plays.

After being graduated from the high school he has been taking vocal lessons and has sung over the radio in Tacoma, Kelso, Portland and other places.

LARGE CREW EXTINGUISH KIMBER FIRE

Those who reside on the Sherwood road near the old Kimber place had a fire scare last Tuesday afternoon as a fire caused by the exploding of the tank on a gasoline saw, got a good start. A number of cords of wood was consumed before the fire was gotten under control, but a large crew was soon assembled and put it out before any more damage was done.

LIPPERT ADDRESSES PORTLAND GRANGE

Geo. W. Lippert, President of the United Westside Crubs, Aloha addressel the monthly meeting of the Evening Star Grange, Portland, Saturday afternoon, on the subject: "Selling Oregon". He was introduced by Senator Milton A. Miller. Reports as to the manner in which his talk was received are very favorable.

PIONEER COUPLE CELEBRATE WEDDING

On Sunday, September 7, twenty five relatives gathered at the C. W. Struthers farm near Beaverton to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. G. Gibons of Boring, parents of Mrs. Struthers.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gibons are pioneers of the state. Geo. Gibbons crossed the plains with his parents from Illinois in 1862 at the age of six years, and settled at The Dalles.

Alice (Cockelreas) Gibons' parents also came by ox team from Iowa in 1866, and settled on Sandy Ridge. Mr. and Mrs. Gibons made their home in and near The Dalles until 1897 when they moved to their present home near Sandy. Their oldest daughter, Mrs. W. S. Bacon, also resides here, and a son, Fred R., lives in Eugene.

Bringing pioneer times down to the present was skillfully demonstrated by a great nephew of Mrs. Gibons, Stanley Harvis of Portland, who circled the house three times in an aeroplane, waving a salute.

A song composed by Mrs. Struthers and presented to her parents follows:

Tune: "Golden Slippers"

Come listen, folks, I've a tale to tell,
It is not new and you know it well;
'Tis the tale of two lovers and how they were wed—
'Twas love at first sight, I've heard it said
The lady was a teacher of the A-B-C's,
The gent a tiller of the soil if you please,
Near the town of The Dalles, it is said they first met,
And every evening on the sofa, together they would set.

Chorus

Oh! those happy hours, oh those happy hours,
Those happy hours the two spent
On the sofa, side by side.
Oh! those happy hours, oh those happy hours,
Those happy hours on the sofa spent
Before the knot was tied.

Well it wasn't long till the knot was tied,
And back to the farm the two of them hied;
They crossed the mountains on their honeymoon,
Didn't take an auto, they'd have got there too soon.
They have lived together fifty long long years,
Shared each others' joys, wiped away each others' tears,
And wherever they lived with their family of three,
They were always as happy as could be.

Chorus

Now, that golden wedding, now that golden wedding,
That golden wedding we celebrate,
Because we are so glad;
Now that golden wedding, now that golden wedding,
That golden wedding we celebrate,
For Mother and for Dad.

KINTON SCHOOL HAS SMALL ATTENDANCE

The attendance at Kinton school this year is not as large as in former years, the number of pupils being only 30. Mrs. Harrison, principal of the school, has 19 and Miss Wight, teacher of the primary grades, has 11. The prospects are very good for a sucessful year as the scholars all like their teachers and are taking much interest in their work.

AFTERNOON CARD PARTIES TO START

The Beaver Social Club are now starting their third Wednesday of every month 500 card parties. The first will be held next Wednesday. Refreshments and lovely prizes are always given. They will start at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Schellenberger, Mrs. Stark, and Mrs. Fuhrer are the hostesses for the afternoon. Everybody welcome.

MANY EXHIBITS ARE SHOWN AT FAIR

The Washington County Fair opened Thursday morning with practically all the space filled with attractive and interesting exhibits. The attendance was exceptionally good. The grounds are in fine condition and are well lighted in all parts.

The rodeo performance was one of the best ever seen in this section, and the Newberg twenty-five piece band filled the day with music. There will be a rodeo performance again Friday and Saturday.

Friday night in the big auditorium the community contest will be held. There are a large number of entries in this contest and it should be very amusing and entertaining. Cash prizes for the winners are as follows: first, $25.00; second, $20.00; third, $15.00; and fourth, $10.00. Before the entertainment starts ballots will be passed out among those present in the auditorium, and they will decide the winners of the contest by their votes. Immediately after the contest there will be jitney dancing with the Laurel orchestra furnishing the music.

The twin contest Friday afternoon sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club, of Hillsboro, will be the afternoon feature. Saturday will be the big day, starting with the Grangers' program in the auditorium in the morning, followed by the "Mutt" dog show sponsored by the Rotary Club of Hillsboro. All boys and girls bringing a dog on a leash will be admitted free to the grounds and allowed to participate and try for the prizes on the contest.

Rodeo in the ball park promptly at 1:30. The night program will consist of free acts of high class vaudeville, starting promptly at 7:45 in the auditorium. Promptly at 8:45 the fireworks program will begin. This is the best display in the Northwest this year.

After the fireworks there will be dancing in the auditorium with the Novak Girls Band and Entertainers furnishing the music. All dances will be jitney with a charge of five cents per dance, which is a reduction from former years. All entertainment in the auditorium is free.

LINDOW & SONS EARN MANY PRIZES AT FAIR

J. A. Lindow and Sons have again started on their tour of the fairs where they make exhibits of the fine herd of prize-winning Holsteins. They have have just returned from the Multnomah County fair at Gresham where they won twenty prizes which include Grand Champion on bull, first on Get of Sire, besides five first, six second, three third and four fourth prizes.

This is a Beaverton herd which is shown at all the fairs in this section of Oregon, quite widely in southwestern Washington, and at the State fairs.

KIWANIS CLUB PRACTICES ITS "STUNT"

The Kiwanis club spent most of their time at their meeting this week in getting ready for their "stunt" which they will put on at the Hillsboro Auditorium tonight (Friday evening, September 12).

This promises to be a great affair and those who like to laugh are cordially invited to view the result of the preparations at the time when it is put on.

Bids have been opened for the construction of overcrossings of Southern Pacific railway three miles north of Tillamook.

United Westside Club Holds Annual Meeting

All Present Officers Are Re-elected For The Coming Year

MUCH WORK FINISHED

Next Meeting Will Be Held At Forest Grove In Legion Hall

George W. Lippert, Aloha, was re-elected president of the United West Side Clubs at the first annual meeting Tuesday night at Fairvale. Other officials, all re-elected, were H. L. Davenport, secretary; Samuel B. Lawrence, treasurer; Mrs. H. M' Powell, assistant secretary, and Bob Swayze, C. W. Noyes, Paul M Rising and E. J. McLear, vice presidents. The club is composed of 52 community clubs in the Tualatin valley.

One of the most important accomishments of the organization, in the opinion of Mr. Lippert, was the obtaining of the non-skid surface for the Terwilliger boulevard. The club accomplishel what the valley, unorganized, has tried to get for 18 years, he said.

The club helped in the formation of the Fourth Street Highway association, which will undertake to have a highway built from Portland to Multnomah along the abandoned Fourth street right of way of the Southern Pacific. Status of the proposed tunnel under Council Crest, another project indorsed by the club, is now such that $5,000,000 for the tunnel is available without cost to taxpayers, it was said. Action of the state legislature in allowing an administrative body to issue bonds is the only thing remaining to be done.

The organization was one of the first to petition Congress for $180,000,000 for canalization of the Columbia river, the development of which from a hydro-electric standpoint would be reflected in increasel opportunity in the Tualatin Valley, the president's report said.

The next meeting will be held at the Legion Hall in Forest Grove where we will hear something about the proposed short route to the Beaches. This is a topic in which the people of Tualatin Valley are vitally interested. It might be well for those who are very busy to put a ring around the date on their calendar, October 14.

FLYING CLUB IS FORMED IN PORTLAND

One Student Prince biplane, manufactured by the First National Flying system of Portland, was delivered to the Aero Leasing corporation last week at Watts airport in Beaverton, for use by members of the Portland Flying club, it was announced by Charles B. Eakin, executive vice-president and general manager of the corporation.

There are already 30 members in the club, according to Mr. Eakin, which leaves only 20 more to complete the formation of the unit of 50 members. A pilot for instruction purposes will be assigned as soon as the unit is formed, according to Mr. Eakin. Clubs are being formed now in Kelso, Tacoma and Seattle.

Each unit of 50 will have one plane for dual work and one plane for solo flying, with a paid instructor. There will be community flying clubs composed of business men, Mr. Eakin reported.—Portland (Oregon), Oregonian.

PHIL METSCHAM

who has been asked to visit Beaverton and discuss the issues of the present gubernatorial campaign. The date has not been set but it is hoped that it may be in the near future.

LOCAL WOMAN ENTERS CONTEST

Margaret A. Denney of Beaverton has entered the National Canning Contest, which is to be held in Shenandoah, Iowa, on October 1st, to pick America's 1930 champion home canner.

The contest is sponsored by the Household Science Institute of Chicago, in co-operation with a number of public-spirited groups as a means of focusing the attention of American housewives on the economy and healthfulness of home canned foods. $4250 in cash, cups and ribbons await the 470 winners, including a grand sweepstakes award of six hundred dollars ($600) in cash. Henry Field, Shenendoah farmer, merchant and KFNF announcer, is president of the contest.

Not the extent of her canning but the quality of the finished product will be the basis on which the champion canner of 1930 will be chosen. The winners will be selected from among the entrants in the Shenandoah contest.

The contest is open to every woman and girl. There are no restrictions as to the nature of the food sent. Contestants may enter, the fruit, vegetables, and meat divisions, any two of these divisions, or all three. Any preferred method of canning may be used, although the Government Department of Agriculture finds that the hot-pack method together with the use of a pressure cooker for the sterilizing is best, especially for the meats and non-acid vegetables. The list of contest judges includes five of America's outstanding home economics experts and nutrition authorities, headed by Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture. A sample ball-mason jar, together with prize entry labels and all information on the contest, may be secured without cost simply by writing to the National Canning Contest, Shenandoah, Iowa.

NEW HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION IS FORMED

The Fourth Street Highway association was formed at a meeting of the Fourth Street business men and the United Westside Clubs, held in the Multnomah Hotel, Friday night. The purpose of the group will be to promote the widening and surfacing of Fourth Street, and extending that street out over the abandoned right of way of the Southern Pacific railroad. This will to a great extent relieve the congestion now existing on Sixth and Terwilliger.

It is intended to acquire the old right of way for the public.

Geo. W. Lippert, of Aloha, was elected President, Sol Blumauer, vice President, and Henry Davenport, Secretary.

A resolution was passed authorizing the President to appoint a committee of seven to meet with the City Council of Portland to present the matter, and President Lippert appointed Eric Hauser, of the Multnomah Hotel, General C. H. Martin, formerly of the United States Army stationed at Panama Canal, C. J. Franklin, Portland capitalist, E. E. Fitzwater, of the guardian Building and Loan association, A. W. Molin, Chairman Front Street Association, Paul Rising, Multnomah, and U. L. Upson, Secretary Up Town Association'

The move materially effects the TualatinValley and is considered one of the major moves for the developement of the valley.

The remodeling of the Antlers Theatre building at Roseburg has started.

An additional fire truck has been added to the fire fighting equipment at Estacada.

Recorder Dietsch Asks Water Rate Reduction

Recorder Is Instructed To Purchase Certificates Of Deposit

IS MUCH DISCUSSION

Of The Bills Submitted, One Is Referred Back To Recorder

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held at the Town Hall Monday evening of this week, all members of the Town government being present excepting the health officers.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and the month's bills presented:

A. E. Hanson, payment on lot	$100.00
P. E. P. Co., lights	141.00
Otto Erickson, work on fire engine	.75
F. W. Bishop, wire and bit	1.85
Orrie Sutton, labor	12.00
W. Nelson, labor	3.00
F. J. Dietsch, salary	75.00
B. Leis, rent on garage	6.00
Beaverton Lumber Co.	.52
E. Hobbs, surveying	30.00
L. F. Humburg, repairs on pipe,	5.50
V. Bixby, labor and salary	90.00
Investors' Syndicate Aug. Pay.	97.65
C. Carlson, labor	6.00

One bill was referred back to the Recorder for further information.

There was some talk about installing a check meter beside the one now registering the Town's water supply and the Council finally voted to have the Marshal investigate the cost and report back as soon as practicable.

The Recorder was instructed by the Council, with the advice of the City Attorney, to draw the Town's money out of the present checking accounts where it is held in a considerable number of separate accounts, and to purchase certificates of deposit with the money, except for a nominal sum which was to be kept in one checking account.

At the suggestion of Alderman Talbert, the City attorney was requested to prepare another parking ordinance to embrace that part of Front from Main St. east to the depot and some portions of streets north of Broadway. The ordinance will probably be up before the council at their next monthly meeting.

Recorder Dietsch made the suggestion that there be a reduction in the present minimum water charge from $2.00 to $1.75 per month and there were suggestions that this might also be adopted with a corresponding reduction of the minimum cubic feet. However ro action was taken on the matter.

It was further hinted at that there has been a number of coupons of outstanding improvement bonds which have been called away back in 1925 that were coming in and that the fiscal agency at New York had been paying these coupons right along. The City Attorney stated that if the bonds were in the same hands as when the call for them was published that the amount paid on these coupons could be deducted from the face of the bonds but if the bonds have been sold to an innocent purchaser that the Town would have to pay the full face value of the called bonds.

PETROLEUM CO. BUYS DISTRIBUTING CO.

Ralph G. Bowman, assistant general sales manager of the General Petroleum Corporation of California, announces the purchase of A. M. Mortensen, Inc., a large oil distributing organization of San Jose. This is the fourteenth oil disributing company acquired by the General Petroleum Corporation on the Pacific Coast since February of 1930.

The Mortensen Company, headed by A. M. Mortensen, prominent citizen in the public affairs of San Jose, has been marketing General Petroleum products since 1925, and from a humble beginning has developed into one of the largest independent distributing organizations in that section of the state.

The acquisition by General Petroleum Corporation includes all of the physical property, such as storage tanks, trucks, garages, and other facilities. The scores of service stations and commercial consumers of San Jose, Santa Clara, Los Gatos, Saratoga, Milpitas, Coyote, Morgan Hill and other communities situated along the peninsula of San Francisco Bay hitherto supplied by Mr. Mortensen's organization, will continue to handle Violet Ray and General Ethyl Gasoline. Effective with the taking over of this organization, Mr. Mortensen will join the General Petroleum Corporation sales organization as manager of the San Jose district.

This latest acquisition is an additional step in General Petroleum's policy of rounding out and unifying its elaborate distributing organization already well-established throughout the coast area.
