

Beaverton Summer Special

SENIOR CLASS

The senior class has been active in all lines this year. The seniors elected their officers, the annual staff, and the debate team. They are also represented in interclass basketball.

The seniors publish the high school annual this year, so the staff is elected from the senior class. The following were elected: Elizabeth Huff, Editor; Matt Snyder, Assistant Editor; Verne Allen, Advertising Manager; Margaret Haines, Circulation Manager; Betty Taylor, Circulation Manager; Ronald Webb, Business Manager; Annie Chinn, Sports Editor; Junior Dysle, Sports Editor; Florence Seander, School Editor; Monroe Shannon, Art Editor; Lillie Cook, Art Editor; Mary Scott, Drama Editor; Bert Pitts, Literary Editor; Winifred Thoms, Typist; Lucille Farnes, Typist; Kathryn Beach, Joke Editor.

The class has won the debate championship for the last two years and expects to win it again this year with such an able team as Elizabeth Huff and Ronald Webb. The interclass basketball championship has been won by the class for two years and they are leading favorites to repeat.

Russel Grant, Blanch Baldwin, Lloyd Anderson, and James Welch were graduated at mid-year.

JUNIOR CLASS

Members of the Junior class published a special Christmas paper for the benefit of the annual. The paper, called the "Yule Flame," was edited and published entirely by the Juniors with the help of Mrs. Snyder. Stanley Cornils was editor in chief.

At a recent class meeting the Juniors elected Stanley Cornils and Noma Browne as the affirmative team to represent the class in the forthcoming Junior-Senior debate. The question to be debated upon is the state question: Resolved that the chain stores are a detriment to the best interests of the American public.

The Juniors placed third in the annual race. Due to the depressed condition of their pocketbooks, they were unable to furnish the gas needed to beat the winners.

Class rings and pins have been ordered for the Juniors and the members of the class are anxiously waiting their arrival. It was voted upon and carried to make the selection of the Junior class of 1932 a standard ring for future classes. This was done to make it easy for other classmen to recognize members of their own high school, after they had been graduated.

STUDENT-BODY PLAY TO BE GIVEN SOON

"When Smith Stepped Out," a three-act comedy by Harry Osborne, has been selected as the student body play. It will be given Friday, January 30.

The characters are: William Horace Smith, Maurice Manning; George Smith, Ronald Webb; Mrs. George Smith, Kathryn Beach; Richard Keene, Bruno Leskel; Muriel Armitage, Donald Perkins; Bob Stanley, Lebert Wilson; Miss Winslow, Hortense Cleland; and Hilda, Noma Browne.

George Smith and his wife Nellie are entertaining Uncle Bill from Australia. Uncle Bill always takes an evening walk, and invariably puts on the wrong hat. On this particular evening he leaves his watch and takes his automatic. George warns him against it, but as there are hold-up men in town he refuses to leave it at home.

Nellie's sister Muriel is keeping company with a young man named Bob. He and Uncle Bill have a very close relationship. Coming over to see Muriel, he meets Uncle Bill, and asks him for a match. Walking on, Uncle Bill can't find his watch and, believing Bob has it, levels his revolver and takes Bob's watch.

In his excitement, Uncle Bill loses his hat. A detective finds it and uses it as evidence, and then the fun begins.

Poor, absentminded Uncle Bill not only has to dodge the detective, but also the designing clutches of an old maid, Miss Winslow.

How Uncle Bill gets out of his mixup, would tickle the ribs of anyone.

The play is under the direction of Miss Sanford.

CEDAR MILL

Mrs. Rose Young was out from Portland, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Peires were callers at the C. H. Katterman home Sunday.

Mr. Wilbert Thomson was a visitor at the C. H. Katterman home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Martha Thorne and little Beverly Thorne have been ill for a week, but are better now.

The dance at Cedar Mill, Saturday was well attended. The next one will be in three weeks.

Mr. H. M. Sheldon has been confined to his bed with flu for three days. He is improving at this writing.

Mrs. Pete Johnson entertained the Cornell club Wednesday afternoon. The next meeting will be at Mrs. C. H. Katterman's home, February 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Yazalina was calling in Cedar Mill last Sunday. Mrs. Yazalina used to be Miss Lucille Sheldon. She was married, January 3rd.

Mrs. B. B. Reeves, Mrs. H. M. Sheldon, Mrs. C. H. Katterman, and Mrs. A. Sandstrom motored to Beaverton to the Eastern Star card party Wednesday. Mrs. A. Sandstrom brought home ladies' second prize.

Mrs. L. Stark had Bible class Monday. Miss Walter of Portland teaching. The ladies are asked to write a paper on "Who Jesus Christ Was" up until the time Nicodemus comes on the scene. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Sam Walters, on Monday 29th of January.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The sophomores started the new semester with two new members. They are: Marjorie Jones and Richard Young.

Cogrine Antrim and Lois Sato were proud possessors of blue report cards, this last six weeks. Blue cards are honor cards.

Three pupils in the French 4 class have received letters from their French correspondents. Helen Dimeo has received two letters. Helen Berst received her first, and John Schilling received his first. The other ones have written and are expecting answers.

In our last Sophomore class meeting we elected officers who had been nominated the preceding meeting. Also we discussed boys and girls interclass basketball. The boys have been quite enthusiastic but the girls didn't seem very interested until Miss Kruse, the girls' coach, pepped them up. The next day quite a number of girls turned out for practice. We then discussed plans for a party that the girls have to give the boys since the boys won the annual race we had in our class.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The Freshman class of this year is one of the largest and peppiest Freshman classes that have been in the school.

We are well represented in all sports, clubs, and other school activities, and are keeping the light of the school spirit burning brightly. We have great prospects for the class, and hope to be the leader of all the activities in the future.

We have both boys and girls basketball teams which are to play in the interclass games which are starting this week.

Malcolm Clement received a football letter for the ability he showed in the preceding semester in football. We are all behind Malcolm, and we are going to have more members from our class to help him in football next year.

Lloyd Tait and Kenneth Taylor are our class debaters. Kenneth has also been chosen a member of the H-Y. In the interclass debate between the Freshmen and Sophomores, we lost by two points. We have great hopes from our team after they have had more practice.

Many of the girls are members of the Girl Reserves. Among the other activities, a number of the girls sing in the Girls' Glee Club, and several of our boys play a great part in the school band.

ELMER CHIN CHOW IS BADLY INJURED

Elmer Chin Chow, who was injured quite badly in an auto accident a short time ago, is improving. Elmer was in the car with his sister Lalun. As she was coming on to the highway from West street, her car was hit by a machine trying to pass her from the wrong side. Both cars were badly damaged. It cost about $80 to fix the Chin Chow car, which was taken care of by the insurance company. The driver of the other machine was a Hillsboro man. We did not learn his name.

TWO GRANGES HAVE JOINT INSTALLATION

Most of the members of Kinton grange attended the joint installation of the officers of Kinton and Scholls granges held at Scholls, all day Saturday.

The officers of Kinton grange were installed as printed in this column a short time ago. A number of other granges were represented at the meeting and a most enjoyable day was spent.
