Bethel Church

The sermon next Sunday morning will be preached by Miss Wilcox, a member of the Commission on Missions of the Congregational Church, who is on her way from Boston to attend the National Council of Congregational Churches at Seattle. Miss Wilcox will bring us an inspiring message, and every one is cordially invited. The pastor will preach at eight o'clock in the evening, four "Thumb Nail" sermons on the following topics: "The Village Well," "The Threshing Floor," "The Armorer's Forge" and "The Hero's Hill." The topic for the Wednesday evening Bible study will be "The First Commissioning Service", Acts 12:1-4.

Nazarene Church

The Young People's Mixed Quartet, recently organized, sang for the first time Sunday evening. It is composed of Messrs. Raymond Harrison and Bruce Williams, and Misses Eileen Martin and Ruby Zastrow, with Miss Ruth Martin as accompanist. Their first offering was much enjoyed.

The new pastor, Rev. D. Rand Pierce, is strongly convinced that the modern pulpit is losing, largely, the ability to impart that spiritual thrill it once possessed so generally. The preacher must have a message to the hearts of men—not merely a sermon.

He will deliver such a message at the 11:00 a.m. service, Sunday, on "The Transforming Power of the Gospel."

At 8:00 p.m. the message will be founded upon one of the most dramatic challenges to the grace of God on record, and the surprising outcome.

Mr. Bruce Williams will render a solo.

A new contest will be opened in the Sunday school next Sunday morning. Details will be explained at that time.
