A girl shows her raisin' when she makes a date with a prune for whom she doesn't care a fig. She may be a peach, but they make a funny pear. She may be the apple of his eye, she may have a cherry smile and an orange disposition, but if she hands him a lemon it is plum wrong and he should realize his efforts have been fruitless.

Most of those young chaps who adopt the batless fad never wear a thinking cap either.

The Cook's Nook

When the 'Ade is in the Pitcher— Cookies Should Be on the Plate! Whether you, toast be "Skool", "Happy Days", or simply "Have some lemonade," you will want to serve something with that cooling beverage that tastes so good on fervid days. A dainty cookie or wafer, a bit of fruit, or a cool canape makes a charming rite of an casual afternoon beverage-service and turns your old piazza or sidewalk into the scene of a regular party!

When the drinks are passed in mid-afternoon or form the refreshments of an afternoon gathering, a firm fruit cookie is the best companion of the punch or lemonade; when the drinks come just before dinner, a tart or "snappy" canape or "open face" sandwich is best.

Now you can't be baking every day in the summer time. So you want the one taking-period's efforts to last and keep throughout the week. Therefore, choose cookie recipes which have ingredients which keep well. Remember that dried fruits make them firm and moist and chewy and especially suitable for the "kids" who need the coaxing of a Date Bar or a Scotty to make the necessary milk drink go down easier.

1/2 bunch watercress
1 loaf bread

Cut bread into slices, then into rounds. Remove centers from one-half the rounds with a small cutter. Spread remaining rounds with softened butter and cheese. In center of half these slices place small pieces of canned pimiento; in other half, watercress leaves. Cover with ring shaped slices from which centers have been removed, exposing red and green centers. 18 to 24 sandwiches.

Pinwheel Appetizers

1 3/4 oz. can pimientos
1/2 cup butter
Fresh bread

Drain pimientos on absorbent paper; chop finely and stir gradually into 1/2 cup softened butter. Remove crusts from loaf of fresh bread. Cut into thin lengthwise slices; spread with pimiento butter before or after slicing. Roll up like a jelly roll, fastening with toothpicks if necessary. Wrap in damp cloth and place in refrigerator until butter is firm. Cut in thin rounds and serve as an appetizer.

Mocha Date-Nut Bars

1 1/2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. cocoa
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 pkg. dates
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup nut meats
2 eggs
1/2 cup strong coffee
1/2 cup shortening

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Mix raisins, sliced dates and chopped nut meats through flour with finger tips. Beat eggs; beat in sugar gradually. Stir in dry ingredients and fruit alternately with coffee and melted shortening. Spread mixture evenly over a shallow paper-lined pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Cool, cut into strips, roll in confectioners' sugar. 18 bars.

Cocoanut Crispies

3 cups flour
4 tps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 lb. shredded cocoanut

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter; stir in sugar gradually, then beaten eggs and vanilla. Mix thoroughly; stir in cocoanut and sifted dry ingredients. Press dough into butter cartoon open at one end or shape into rolls about two inches in diameter. Chill for at least three hours. Cut into 1/2 inch slices with a sharp knife. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 to 400 degrees F.) for 10 to 12 minutes. 48 cookies.

ICED COFFEE HINTS

Almost every housewife knows how to serve a glass of iced tea, but not all are so competent when iced coffee is requested by a guest who relishes this particular beverage on a sultry day.

Usually the hot beverage is poured into glasses filled with ice, but this should not be done unless the coffee has been brewed almost double strength. Melting ice dilutes it rapidly.

Another error is to brew the coffee and let it stand for a long time before making the iced drink. This not only causes a loss of fragrance but may give the coffee a bitter taste from the metal vessel.

A new and unusual way to make iced coffee is to brew it slightly over normal strength and immediately place it in an air tight jar, in the refrigerator to chill. When ready to serve put only a little ice in the glasses and pour in the already cool beverage. Your guests will be delighted with the result.

Filled Scotties

1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 tsp. salt
2 tps. baking powder
1 cup rolled oats
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 tps. milk

Filling

1 1/2 cups pasteurized dates
3 tps. orange juice
1/2 cup water

Cook sliced dates and water to consistency of marmalade. Remove from fire; add orange juice; cool. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Cream shortening and add sugar gradually. Add flour mixture and rolled oats, then liquid. Stir until thoroughly mixed. Divide mixture into halves. Roll one-half on a well floured board to fit a square layer pan. Line oiled pan with oats mixture. Spread with the filling. Roll remaining dough to make top layer. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 to 40 minutes. Cut in sticks while warm.

Stop and Go Canapes
(Note resemblance to Traffic Lights)

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup commercial cheese spread
1 canned pimiento

Modernized Commandment

Love your neighbor as yourself. If you can't—move. There are plenty of transfer men looking for hauling jobs.

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

St. Cecilia Church

Sunday Masses, 7:40 a.m., and 10:00 a.m.

Sunday Christian Doctrine, 8:30 a.m., and 9:30 a.m.

Saturday Confession, 3:30 p.m., 4:30 p.m., 7:30 p.m., and 9:00 p.m.

Weekday Mass, 8:20 a.m.

Church of Christ

Rev. G. W. Springer

Saturday, August 22, the Sunday School will hold its annual picnic at Hazelwood on the Tualatin River. The school will leave the church as a body at 10:00 o'clock. Transportation will be provided for all who come. Bring your picnic lunch and plan on having the most enjoyable day of your life. Amusements have been left in the hands of a competent committee. Let's make this a real reunion.

At 11:00 o'clock next Sunday morning the sermon topic will be "The Shepherd's Call." Evening worship is at 8:00 o'clock, and the topic of the sermon will be "Weeding out the Garden."

Bethel Church

Charles F. Calk, Pastor

Some thoughts about Jesus as the Way will be presented by Mr. Clark, who has just returned from his vacation, under the theme "Sunshine and an Open Road" next Sunday morning. There will be no evening service. The Church school meets at 9:45 with classes for all ages. Prayer meeting will be held Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. Every one is cordially invited.

Nazarene Church

Rev. D. Rand Pierce, Pastor

The pastor will preach both morning and evening Sunday.

At 11:00 a.m. the subject will be, "Tithes and Offerings."

There being a wide interest in this subject just now, he will discuss (1) How many tithes did the Jews give? (2) Is the tithing obligatory in the New Testament? (3) Is temporal as well as spiritual prosperity promised to those who will faithfully tithe? Some striking illustrations will be given.

9:30 a.m., Sunday school.
6:30 p.m., service for the juniors.
7:00 o'clock, Young People's meeting, 7:45, sermon subject, "Dives". Special Prayer, Tuesday, 9:30 a.m. Prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:45 p.m.

Power Enough

When an electrical engineer stands in front of a great waterfall he doesn't ask himself: "I wonder if there's any power in that fall."

What he asks himself is this: "How can I apply that power to my needs?"

He knows there's power; he knows it can be used; the only question is how, most effectively.

When a modern business man surveys the field he no longer asks himself whether advertising pays. His question is: "How much can I make it pay me?"

He knows there's power in advertising; he knows it can be used in the service of any business.

MOHAIR-GOAT RAISING NATION'S YOUNGEST AND FASTEST GROWING ANIMAL INDUSTRY

U. S. LEADER IN MOHAIR INDUSTRY

First Coats Brought Here in '49; 17 Million Pounds Clipped Yearly.

If you are accustomed to think of the angora goat as one of those queer "furrin animals" that you would have to go abroad to see in his native habitat, it may come with surprise to learn that there are more angora goats right here in the United States than in any other country in the world, and that consequently this country leads the world in its output of mohair, the fleece of the angora.

The year '49 which saw the great goat rush to California also was the occasion for the entry of nine inconspicuous immigrants, the first angora goats to be brought into this country. Evidently they found their surroundings congenial, for they flourished and multiplied and sent for a lot of their relatives to join them, until now there are fully three and a half million of these useful creatures here, clearing off the brush land, increasing grain yield, and at the same time producing a total clip of 17,000,000 pounds of mohair yearly. Every state in the Union has at least a few members of the family, but the great bulk is centered in Texas, Arizona, Oregon, New Mexico, California and Missouri.

Mohair or angora fleece must not be confused with wool. Mohair is even stronger than wool, very lustrous and, due to its structural difference, much easier than wool to keep clean. Mohair has many uses for clothing, draperies, rugs and other domestic applications but by far its most significant uses are for furniture and automobile upholstery, for which it is made up into a pile fabric called mohair velvet or sometimes velmo for short. Twelve million yards of this fabric are in use in passenger trains today, due to its extreme durability combined with pleasing appearance and fadeless dyes, while over a hundred million yards, it has been estimated, are on the highways in the form of automobile upholstery.

The skin of the angora is used for making gloves, while the meat, called chevon, is much like lamb or mutton. But, of course, by far the most important use of the angora goat is its mohair fleece which you probably rest on every time you take out your car.
