Aloha-Huber School News

(Received too late for last week)

The first grade pupils have made Easter baskets and are hoping that the bunnies will visit them soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Muegan and family with Walter Sterman were guests at the J. E. Tuttle home, Saturday.

Four pupils from the first grade were recovering nicely after tonsil operations. Their names are, Jean Lewis, Jean Jones, Christina Farmer and Lillian Parish.

Thursday, March 17, the eighth grade sponsored a hard time dress up day. Each member of the class wore some forlorn costume. During the morning the group of "vagabonds" paraded in the other rooms.

On Wednesday after school, the Audobon Society made a trip through the woods to the home of Mr. Lippert, where they saw and enjoyed his numerous bird houses, one, for blue birds, being made in the shape of a light house of cement and pebbles. There was a windmill house for wrens. Mr. Lippert recently gave the Society one of his unique bird houses, and it is already occupied by a pair of bluebirds.

The regular meeting of the Aloha-Huber Audubon Society was held Tuesday morning with Dorothy Peterson, Vice-President, occupying the chair. David Morrison gave a report on a trip he took Sunday with the Portland division of the Audubon Society. The party visited the home of Mrs. Francis Twining, an eminent authority on birds, where they saw several Bohemian Waxwings, a bird rather rare in this part of the country. They also visited places along both the north and south sides of Oswego Lake, where they saw a fine specimen of a pilateated woodpecker, a fox sparrow, and a chestnut backed chickadee. Many different kinds of bird houses were also observed on the trip.

The Benefit Card party sponsored by the local P.-T. A. Saturday night was attended by a good crowd. The foremost of the evening was devoted to "500". Mr. Hays of Aloha was winner of the men's prize for the best score, while Mrs. Claypool of Huber was the recipient of the ladies high award. Following the card playing a short program was presented by pupils from the Aloha-Huber School. Roberta Whatley contributed two vocal numbers, "That's my Mammy" and "When the Organ Played at Twilight". Members of the Declamatory team presented a short play titled, "The Tired Business Man". The cast included: Wendell Crowley, Morton Smith; Doris Rose, wife; Lillian Jenney and Bill Murray, children; Agnes Nault, snleslady; Alice Wolfe, radio announcer. Refreshments were served and the evening was concluded with dancing. The program of the April meeting will be handled by the men of the

KINTON HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Holboke were visitors one day last week at the school. Mr. Holboke is one of the directors of the school.

Mrs. Iver Graham of Corvallis spent a day or so the first of the week with her sister, Mrs. Everett Wright, of Cooper mountain.

J. J. Van Kleek has been making some improvements to his dairy farm on Pleasant Valley road. The work was done by Harry A. Richards.

George Hawley and his sister, Mrs. Hattie Lawler, were called to Sherwood Sunday on account of the illness of their sister, Mrs. Esther Adams.

Al Boyles and son Freddy of near Seattle, Wash., were visitors last Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Daniels. Mr. Boyles is their son-in-law.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Snider and son Lester were visitors Sunday at the home of Mrs. Florence Larkin of Scholls. Mrs. Snider is a sister of Mrs. Larkin.

The many friends of Charles Van Kleek of Hiteon were sorry to hear of his serious illness. He was removed to the hospital and is in the care of Dr. Mason of Beaverton.

Mrs. Charles Aylesworth and son Clarence, Miss May Warren and Roy Warren, all of Portland, were guests the first of the week of Mrs. Louise Van Kleek, Pleasant Valley road.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bierly and family attended a birthday dinner held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Matthiesen of Sherwood, Sunday, in honor of Mr. Matthiesen's birthday.

Mrs. August H. Dallmann is still ill at her home here. A number of her children spent Sunday with her. Mr. and Mrs. August Oribst of Gresham, Mr. and Mrs. Harris of Beaverton, Mrs. Gerig of Salem.

It is expected that a number of Kinton grangers will attend the sixth annual meeting of Washington county grangers to be held at the Methodist church in Forest Grove next Sunday, April 3, beginning at 11:00 a. m. There is to be a basket dinner at noon.

Some of the county officials were busy last week settling in place some new guide boards for this part of the county. One was placed across from the school house, the other on Tile Flat road at Cooper mountain road. These will greatly aid strangers who tour through this locality.

Robert Summers, principal of Kinton school during the past year, has been hired for next year and the primary teacher, Mrs. Bertha Shaver, has also been hired for another year. These teachers have given the best of satisfaction and the parents are glad to have them retained as teachers for their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bierly very pleasantly entertained the members of the Loyal Scouts and the Class in the Corner, organized classes of the Kinton Sunday school, at their home Saturday evening at an Easter party. Numerous games were played and an Easter egg hunt was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Bierly served quaint refreshments at the close of the evening.

Even With "Good-for-You" Foods

Do your young things scream at spinach, cress and carrots and other such foods? Does your family seem to feel that vitamins disagree with them and that "wholesomeness" is just a synonym for "horrid"? Even if they do, don't despair. There is a way to satisfy your cry of "oh for a little peace!"

Our grandmothers forced the foods we needed right down our throats. Our mothers pleaded and wheedled and got tears for their pains. But we, in this day of Angelo Patri and other child-training experts, dare not risk complexes by employing either method. The net result has been the reason why mothers grow gray.

Lut here are some foods the persnickety young things like, that are good for them, too. So, to keep peace in your household, serve them, and let the despised dishes take a back seat. One of the youngsters' prime favorites is dates. They think they are candy, and you can let them continue to think so while they are consuming the vitamins and the body-building minerals the dates contain. With milk, dates are a perfectly balanced meal; when you buy either, buy the pasteurized kind.

Energy Salad

4 large bananas
3/4 cup peanuts
1/4 pkg. pasteurized dates
Mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing

Remove the stringy portion from the outside of the bananas, cut them in thirds lengthwise. Roll each cylinder in dressing, then dip into the chopped peanuts. Place two cylinders in a bed of lettuce on an individual salad plate and garnish with strips of dates. Pass additional dressing, 6 servings.

Half-Moon Sandwiches

1 1-lb. loaf sandwich bread
1/2 pkg. pasteurized dates
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
2 tbsps. orange juice
1/4 cup butter

Chop dates finely in a food chopper or wooden bowl. Add cinnamon and orange juice to form a paste. Spread mixture on thin rounds of buttered bread and cut in halves. Half-Moon sandwiches are especially delicious when Boston Brown Bread is used. 24 small sandwiches.

Graham-Tapioca Temptation

3 cups milk
2 tbsps. quick-cooking tapioca

After school spread
2 cups (1/2 pkg.) pasteurized dates
1 tsp. butter
1/2 cup orange juice
1 tsp. honey

Place all ingredients in a saucepan and cook over low heat until a thick paste is formed. Stir the mixture frequently to prevent burning. Cool and spread between graham crackers, vanilla wafers or slices of buttered bread. This recipe will be sufficient to cover two dozen graham crackers.

Health Bread

2 cups flour
2 tbsps. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 cup bran
4 tbsps. brown sugar
1 cup milk
1/2 pkg. pasteurized dates
1 egg

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Add the bran. Add sliced dates and well beaten egg to the milk; and then stir these materials into the dry ingredients. Pour batter into a well oiled loaf pan. Bake in a very moderate oven (325° F.) for 1 hour. 1 loaf.

Thoughts On Nominations As Told By Tillie Tattler

nursery to the four quarters of the globe. So is Weed, so are a lot of other things.

Spring is housecleaning time. Watch the good woman hoist the heater out on the back porch and brush attack the accumulation of months. Beds are turned around so that the man of the house—in his mind at least—hunts to see which side to get into.

Gardens are being planted. Just today John Mickelsen was looking all around for raspberry plants. Says that he has a sister coming to keep house for him and she wants a garden and a berry patch. Goodness, who doesn't want these things when spring is in the air?

Ice cream men are looking forward to a big business. What with the price of dairy products at their present level—not that the average ice cream man has much use for such materials, but with the increased demand which always follows the coming of warmer weather, he expects to gather in a rich harvest. Soon Jimmy will be asking Susan to eat the stuccious sweets and Susan will be anxious to please Jimmy, not that she likes the stuff but that she just has to eat it to keep Jimmy good natured.

When spring comes we think of making sugar. He who never tasted that sweet has missed a unique experience. There are a few substitutes on the market which approach the real article and can be palmed off on the uninitiated but to him who has tapped the trees, who has scattered the buckets, who has gathered the sap, who has bricked up the arch, laid the fire, boiled down the sap to a proper consistency and sugared off, then taken the hot, thick syrup which would be solid sugar if left to cool and spread it on a cake of ice or on some solidly packed snow, he has lived, he has lived, he has enjoyed life. Oh boy!

Here's our ticket to be voted on at the primaries next May. If anybody's got a better one, we'd like to get hold of it.

Headed by Will Rogers and Eddie Cantor and known as the Cheer Up Ticket, it's a winner from one end to the other.

Now that it has been decided that the Republican and Democratic national conventions will be held in Chicago, Queen City of Rackets, we feel duty bound to name our ticket.

For President we suggest Will Rogers, champion wisecracker. Will knows all the public men in the country and when he gets into the White House he will know how to rope 'em in. What this country needs more than anything else is a new sense of humor and Rogers has it.

For Vice President we have no hesitancy in suggesting Eddie Cantor. Rogers cannot sing a note. Cantor can! With Cantor as vice president, it will be a runaway. The Senate will stop kidding itself and let Cantor do it. He will do a
