Thoughts On Nominations As Told By Tillie Tattler

For Secretary of War we propose Bishop James Cannon. The war department needs an unuzzled gun besides his name fits in well and gives an idea of what war department is all about. With him as secretary of war there would be fewer dry jokes.

For Secretary of the Navy, there is only one natural choice, Chic Sales. His public talks and also his books lead us to believe that he would be a pacifist and in favor of fewer vessels. Therefore we are for Chic.

Harvey S. Firestone is our choice for Secretary of the Treasury. He would favor demonetizing gold and silver and would make rubber standard of value. Therefore he could stretch a dollar further than Mellon or Alexander Hamilton. Furthermore he knows more about inflation and deflation than anyone else in the country.

Babe Ruth bobs up as our nominee for Secretary of Commerce. What industry needs is a King of Swat and Babe can deliver. He knows the value of home runs and what business needs to day is some one to get it beyond first base. There's too much hugging the bag right now, so Babe, we are with you for the bigger job.

For Secretary of Agriculture we are unanimous in choosing Alfalfa Bill Murray. There should be at least one flowing moustache in the cabinet and Bill has it. Bill knows his alfalfa and petroleum and he could lubricate the Farm Board, put more vitamins in it and wouldn't mind being greased himself.

Secretary of the Interior requires some thought. After recalling the Harding administration we feel that we must take a Fall out of that job. Senator Hiram Johnson might make a good man but we cannot go to California for all of our material. Senator Borah is another choice. If Gandhi lived here we might select him to give the job a little color.

After canvassing the field, however, we believe Julius Fleischmann, the yeast magnate, would be the right man. With more yeast in the cabinet it could raise anything. At least he could hop all over the country and that's something.

A party without a name or an emblem, of course, would be like a boat without a rudder, so we name our party the Cheer Up party. For an emblem we will have the trunk of an elephant with a donkey's teeth deeply imbedded in it. This will prove that the party has teeth in it. Intertwining in a sort of halo will be the donkey's and the elephant's tails, with mistletoe overhanging. This will indicate party harmony and will get the tails out of the way in fly time.

And now that we have a ticket and an emblem, we will need only a simple platform. The first plank will be of course, no taxes of any kind. The President and cabinet will give shows all over the country and receipts will be enough to carry the government.

Secondly, Congress will be in session only during the winter months, and the hot air emanating therefrom will be piped to every temperate zone home, thus insuring free heat.

With no taxes and no fuel bills to pay, who can say nay to such a ticket and such a platform?

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The lobby of the gymnasium reminds us more of a broker's office this week. Students rush in and ask the "broker" for anywhere from 1 to 200 votes for their candidate. What candidates? Haven't you heard? This is the week when the Girl Reserves Carnival Queen is to be elected.

The new name for the Carnival is "Krazy Kapers Carnival". This name was submitted by Henry Greenwald, a Junior, in the name contest, who won six tickets to the Music Box theatre. A large number of girls have had their Easter bonnets thrown in the ring for Queen Candidate. They are Jeanne Posson, Mae Morgan, Evelyn Alexander, Audrey McQuillan Betty Stickney, Annabelle Benson, Alice Benson, Helen Godfrey, Rose Kamlerzer, Emma Findley and Gertruse Matzke.

The votes are being sold for a penny a piece, and are selling "like hot cakes" and many a "boy friend" is being broken financially to keep his "sweetums" at the top of the list.

Here's the latest count: Evelyn Alexander, 565; Jeanne Posson, 416; Audrey McQuillan, 92; Mae Morgan, 82; Annabelle Benson, 28; Alice Benson, 13; Rose Kamlerzer, 10; Betty Stickney, 5; Gertrude Matzke, 3; Emma Findley, 2; Zelton Godfrey, 1.

The girl receiving the highest number of votes will be Carnival Queen, and the next two girls will be her Princesses.

H. A. KURATLI For County Judge

If nominated and elected, I will during my term of office devote all of my time and efforts to give to Washington County an economical, efficient and businesslike administration of its affairs, for every dollar expended I will endeavor to see that one dollar in value is received therefor.
