

SEVERAL VISITORS AT LOCAL GRANGE

Beaverton Grange met in their regular session Saturday, July 9. During the morning session the visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Kleek, Kinton 562; Master E. C. Reeves, Leedy 339; and Edward Brown, Evening Star 27, Multnomah, responded with short clever speeches. Mrs. VanKleek heartily invited the members to visit Leedy Grange which meets the first Wednesday evening in the month. Master Reeves also invited the members to come to Leedy Grange on the third Saturday evening in the month.

The program was along the patriotic line as it was in honor of Flag Day. Mr. Edward Brown gave an exceedingly interesting and instructive talk on "The Gold Standard." The rest of the program consisted of "America" by the members; a poem which reviewed the tax situation, entitled "Taxes" by Mrs. Alice Funston; a paper entitled "Plants poisonous to Cattle" was read by Mr. Andrew Kennedy; a number of patriotic songs were sung by the grange; roll call was responded to by a patriotic selection or quotation.

The Master, Mrs. Parker Downing, gave a very interesting review of her trip and the various meetings at the State Grange. The cake and strawberry feast given the delegates the first day of the convention certainly sounded appetizing. We were quite disappointed to not have the convention at Hillsboro next year.

The Roll call for August will be, "the piece of poetry or short article which appeals to you most."

ANNUAL GRANGE PICNIC IS HELD

The annual Grange picnic at Champeog park on Sunday the 10th proved the usual success, notwithstanding the showers of Saturday night. The overcast sky of Sunday morning no doubt deterred many from going but the day proved ideal and the number assembled was roughly estimated at 2,000.

The morning program was conducted by State Lecturer Marie Flint McCall and consisted of an opening talk by C. H. Bailey, editor of The Oregon Grange Bulletin, songs by Mrs. Utley of Brush College Grange, report by Mrs. McCall and talk on events relating to the Grange, introduction by Mrs. Weathered of the Golden Sheaf and Silver Star members; reading of a paper by J. D. Mickle entitled "The Grange and the Church. Its Sowing and Reaping"; two songs by Billy Utley and a talk on banking by Peter Zimmerman.

State Master Ray Gill was the first speaker of the afternoon, being introduced by State Senator J. O. Bailey. Mr. Gill's address

IN OREGON HOMES

Gresham—New methods of preparing familiar foods and suggestions for the use of wheat as cereal, dessert and meat substitute dishes are given as the most popular foods and nutrition helps received by Multnomah county homemakers enrolled in this project which was supervised by Frances Clinton, home demonstration agent.

Eugene—"Making improvements in my home was very interesting, not only for myself but for my husband," is the comment of one Lane county homemaker who has been studying kitchen improvement under the direction of Gertrude Skow, home demonstration agent. The 31 women enrolled in the project report a total of 174 changes in their kitchens and indicate that helpful ideas obtained at the meetings were passed on to 74 other homemakers.

Waterville—A homemaker of Waterville donated a supply of Carolina Sieva beans which were planted this year by Lane county garden co-operators who are taking advantage of garden helps given the extension service of Oregon State college. This variety was recommended as well suited to Lane county year-round gardens. Names of 190 families are included in this project of year-round gardens which is supervised by Gertrude Skow, home demonstration agent, and O. S. Fletcher, agricultural agent.

New Pine Creek—By such a simple thing as moving the dish cupboard, a Lake county homemaker living at New Pine creek saved herself eight feet of travel many times a day. "My improvements did not cost me much," explained this housewife who had enrolled for the "kitchen short cut" letters sent out by the home management specialist of the State college extension service. "It was only a matter of rearrangement out it has saved me many steps. I used to walk half way across the house to put away the dishes, now the distance is cut from 12 feet to 4 feet. The long kitchen windows were already placed crosswise, and this I found very helpful when I started rearranging. Now all my working materials are near together and it helps wonderfully."

was one of deep import and meaning to the grangers of the State. He was followed by Max Gehler, Director of Agriculture, who gave an excellent synopsis of the agricultural conditions and stressed the necessity of all farmers belonging to the grange.

There were several good musical numbers, a talk by O. M. Plummer, and a comical stunt finished off a most pleasant and profitable day.
