AN EDITORIAL

All the boys are urged to turn out for track, if possible. Approximately twenty five are reporting for regular practice. For a school of this size there should be more. Beaverton has had champion track teams for several years but this year there is not so much material. An entirely green team must be developed and can be if there is a larger turnout. Most boys who have never tried any track events think that they cannot do them before they have ever tried them. You should at least try out. If you can not do one thing try something else. Several of the new prospects look very promising. Mr. Warren is a very capable track coach, having developed athletes such as Hart, Wismer, Welsh and many others so it is certain that he can develop you too.

HUMOR

Mrs. Robertson: "Eating onions is the secret of health."
Porter: "Ya but how can you keep it a secret?"

Ila James: (to driver) For goodness sake use both hands!"
Don Walker: Can't I guide drive with one."

Bob: "Boy! She certainly gave you a dirty look."
Katherine D.: What's that? Who did?"

"Bob: "Mother Nature."

Book Agent: "You ought to have one of these books it would do half your high school work for you."
Wirtz: "Great, give me two of them."

Mr. Hughes: "Darling, did you see that button on my coat?"
Mrs. Hughes: "No, sweetheart, I couldn't find a button, but it's all right now. I sewed up the button hole."

A young flapper: (Katherine Dobbs) goes to the doctor to see what's wrong.
Doctor: "Young woman, you have acute tonsillitis."
Katherine: Oh! Doctor, don't flatter me!"

Ed Possom says:
"Isn't it funny,
Oh, isn't it a joke,
To sit in the bath tub
Without any soap?"

B H S WILL ENTER A TYPING CONTEST

On April seventh, Beaverton Hi will enter two teams in the typing contest to be held at Kenke-Walker Business College. DEBATERS MEET WITH HILLSBORO

In a dual debate on Tuesday evening (March 21) Beaverton met both Hillsboro teams. The Beaverton affirmative met the Hill Hi negative team at 7:30. Immediately after this debate our negative met their affirmative.

An audience of about thirty people heard the debates and gave criticisms afterwards. Paul Bockelli gave an exceptionally good rebuttal and Ivan Bierly showed several improvements over the last debate.

Beaverton is now awaiting news from Mr. Collier, state league debate secretary, as to what district she will meet next.

The team which debates against the adjoining district is chosen by lot. The school which is winner of that debate meets other schools which have triumphed over neighboring districts. This process of elimination continues until the state debate champion is left.

GIRLS TO HAVE BASEBALL TEAM

At a meeting held sixth period, Friday 24th, it was decided that the girls of all classes would have interclass baseball games. Miss Funk presided over the meeting.

Each class elected a captain. They are as follows:

Seniors Blanche Haines
Juniors Dorothy Markovitch
Sophomore Grace Miller
Freshmans Doris Yarton

All games will start promptly at twelve o'clock, noon.

Aunt Sophrony's Column

Dear Aunt Sophrony:
I think a great deal of D. W. but his attitude annoys me at times. What should I do to change him?
C. P.

Dear C. P.:
Try to encourage him to follow the actions and pick up the attitude H. B. Then he will be the "perfect gentleman" for you.

Dear Auntie:
I have liked C. G. for a long time but he does not pay enough attention to satisfy me. What shall I do to make him notice me. I.S.

Dear I. S.:
Try running after him a bit and I am sure that will change him. A.S.

Dear Aunt Sophrony:
I have been going with J. S. for some time but lately I have noticed that H.R. is cutting in on me. What should I do to keep him? D.P.

Dear D. P.:
Evidently J. S. is beginning to like progress a little. Wear brogues instead of high heels and concentrate on your diet. A. S.

Dear Aunt Sophrony:
When I was out with C. M. the other night she asked me if I had ever traced my family tree. What did she mean? I am very puzzled. Did you ever trace yours? A.L.

Dear A. L.:
She meant did you ever inquire about your ancestors. For instance, an uncle of mine was traced to Canada once and that was as far as he could be traced. A. S.

NEWS NOTES

Helen Godfrey and Elizabeth Struthers played two duets at the Kiwanis banquet last Wednesday, March 22nd.

Some of the students who have quit school this last week are Catherine Smith, Ora Diehl and Oris Nelson, members of the junior class.

Robert Shepherd has returned to school after an attack of appendicitis.

Miss Schaeffer's sister, Margaret, who is a Sophomore in the University of Oregon, has been visiting here a few days.

A new indoor baseball has been obtained and plans are being made to organize leagues for both boys and girls. A meeting was held Friday, March 24th for that purpose.

Malcolm Clement, a Junior, underwent an operation for appendicitis March 22 and is recovering nicely.

Juanita Boyce from Grass Valley, Oregon, sister of Hays and Lila Fay Boyce visited school Thursday.

In a short Girl Reserve meeting held last Friday at the noon hour the girls decided to wait until next fall to give another Carnival as finances are too low for many to participate.

The Home Economics classes have finished their slips and are now working on the art of bias binding.

CAFETERIA HAS A PART IN BANQUET

The cafeteria girls took a big part in the debate banquet. Marjory Weaver in the role of "powerful Katrinka" mashed the potatoes while sedate Betsy Telefon stirred the gravy from 6:00 to 7:00—almost creating perpetual motion.

After the first event of the evening we found in the array of dishes at the Cook's table Betty Stickney eating cocktail out of the mixing bowl and pie out of the pie tins; Marilyn Brown and Marjory Weaver eating peas and carrots from the large stew kettles, while Miss Meeks ate her first course from the large mixing bowl.

Betty Stickney was Toastmaster, her outstanding remark being, "eat all you want, but please save me some" Miss Meeks was the speaker of the evening. Her speech centered around, "Don't any of you dare leave before all the dishes are done."

Clara Trachsel tempted Vernon Bronkey's appetite by not giving him his second course until all the rest were served. Was he worried?

BEAVER CHIPS

By "The Snop"

What is the secret? Does Bill McNeil eat Wheaties? L. Russell is the latest.

Another one? Sure. L. F. Boyes rode to school with E. Johnston. Anything wrong—no, states P. U.

The most beautiful, fair and fairest maiden in B. H. S. is, the judges couldn't decide but those who tied for first are: Anabelle Benson, Isabelle Wallis and Margaret West. Say! By the way, who are the judges? Carried. L. W. tied for second.

Betty Stickney is going around school singing, "Farewell to Arms". Yes, he had an auburn mustache but yet already no more. Zambizot-ollephosonne, Ya but or Wabbit.

Oliver Stien is fast becoming a gigo.

Petrovinsky, Hank G. knows. It's fun to be fooled but more fun to know. Yes.

Well good night all. That's 35 it may go to 76.
