DIRECTORS TO BE CHOSEN BY VOTERS

On Monday, June 19, the fifty-four elementary school districts of Washington county, which are not in any high school district, will hold an election in connection with the annual school meeting for the choosing of five members of the board of education of the Washington county Non-High school district. These fifty four school districts have been divided into five zones of approximately the same population.

Zone 1.—Bacona, Scofield, Shady Brook, Meacham, Arcade, Wallace, Pleasant View, Euxton, Bald Mountain, Mason Hill, Ornduff, Bailey, Strassel, Buck Mountain, Wheeler.

Zone 2.—Cornelius, Centerville, Roy, Academy, Buck Heaven, Iowa Hill, Blooming, Whitmore.

Zone 3.—West Union, Union, Jackson, Reedville, Rock Creek, Heiveta, Cedar Mills, North Plains, Bethany, McKinley.

Zone 4.—Progress, Barnes, Tualatin View, Garden Home, Raleigh, Sylvan, Aloha-Huber, Hiteon.

Zone 5.—Chapman, Middleton, Cipole, Kinton, Laurel Ridge, Hazel-dale, Carlon, Sherwood, Cooper Mountain, Mountain Home, Kruse, Pleasant Hill.

Candidates have been nominated by petition for each of the five zones as follows: Zone 1, Frank Bailey of Easley district, Clarence Nelson of Wallace district, Otto Vages of Mountaineer; Zone 2—Jos. A. Moore of Roy, William Sahnov of Centerville; Zone 3—H. Ross Findley of Union, Al M. Janssen of Reedville; Zone 4—Harry Eliander of Progress; Zone 5—Ferd Langer of Sherwood.

The voting will be at large; that is, the voters will vote for five men, one from each zone. The high man will serve five years, the second in total votes will serve four years, the third will serve three years, the fourth man will serve two years, the fifth man will serve one year. Next year a successor to the fifth man will be elected for five years.

Qualifications of voters: Any person, male or female, who is native born or fully naturalized, of the age of 21 or over, who has resided for 30 days in the district in which he intends to vote, may vote for director. Neither registration nor tax-paying qualification is required.

The chief duties of this new board of education are: (1) to contract for the tuition of all high school students who reside in these fifty-four school districts; (2) to decide whether or not transportation is to be provided; (3) to audit all claims and authorize the payment thereof; (4) to levy a high school tax against all property in the fifty-four districts to pay for the cost of educating the high school students of the fifty-four districts. It can readily be seen that the problem of transportation is the most difficult one for this board to solve.

For the school year just ended, the tuition claims will probably be about $45,000 and the transportation claims will be about $25,000. To meet these claims the county court last December made a levy of 7.2 mills against the property in the fifty-four districts.

The county school superintendent will serve as secretary to this new board.

Ballots, tally sheets, poll lists, and a general letter of instructions are being sent out to the clerks of the fifty-four districts.

In the case of joint districts No. 20, 46, 62, 67, 84, 101, 103, 104, 111, and 115, only those voters who reside in Washington County will be given ballots for voting on Washington County members of Non-High School Board of Education.

HOW GOOD AM I?

"I never killed anybody—
"Nor stole anything.
"I pay my bills and am good to my relations. I'm on the square. That's my religion. It's good enough for me."

Sure, mister, it's good enough for you, but is it good enough for God? In his eyes, "All we are is as an unclean thing, and our righteousness as a filthy rag." (Bible). "See how good I am!" you say. Your human goodness, "Just filthy rags," says God.

Our Lord spoke once of the guest who tried to break into the wedding feast.

"Friend, how camest thou in hither not having on a wedding garment?"

And the would-be guest was speechless.

Then said the king to the servants, "Bind him hand and foot, and take him away and cast him into the outer darkness. There shall be great weeping and gnashing of teeth."

How get the wedding garment? Christ, who knew no sin, was born into this world, to become sin for us, that we might become the righteousness of God in Him.

Now settle it.
Take your stand on God's own word that Christ's death for your sin clears you. Then the Bible for your new marching orders and prayer for the power to go ahead in the new life. Old Time Religion, Beaverton, Ore. adv

Uncle Sam's Coffee Pot Nineteen Times As Large as the Empire State Building

The American coffee pot is bubbling higher and higher; each year it becomes larger and larger and today it has reached enormous proportions.

A pot large enough to hold all the coffee consumed in the United States during one year would have to be nineteen and one-half times as large as the Empire State building of New York. That may sound like a gargantuan coffee pot but the facts bear out the statement.

According to Department of Commerce figures, coffee sufficient to produce 87,076,775,450 cups was consumed in the United States during 1931. That number of cups would fill 721,742,444 cubic feet of space—and in the gigantic Empire State building there are approximately 37,000,000 cubic feet. Hence the U. S. coffee cup would have to be 19 1/2 times as large.

Another breathtaking, out graphic illustration of the size of our appetite may be made with railroad tank cars.

If all of the gallons of coffee consumed each year in this country were poured into tank cars containing 8000 gallons each, 680,287 "tankers" would be needed. That number of cars would make 5,003 trains of 85 cars each or a line of trains 4790 miles long stretching from San Francisco to New York and back almost to Omaha again.

Still another example of our coffee desire can be drawn, this one from America's most famous waterfall. Our year's coffee supply would run Niagara Falls, through which flow 500,000 tons of water a minute, for 45 minutes.

The statistics show that the average per capita consumption of Americans is 725.6 cups of coffee per year—or 1.98 almost 2 cups per day. Under normal market conditions the coffee industry on the basis of import values, represents approximately a $300,000,000 industry.

The coffee consumed by Americans comes from 26 different countries, most of it being brought here from South America. More than 35 per cent of the money spent for this beverage by the United States in 1931 went to buy the rich and aromatic grades produced by the Republic of Colombia, "model nation" of South America. The United States consumes more than 90 per cent of Colombia's annual crop.

Improved methods of coffee preparation and distribution in this country, as well as greater care in the growing and harvesting of the product in some of the leading producing countries, are the chief contributing factors to the extraordinary increase in per capita consumption in the United States, according to trade authorities.

In the widening popularity of the before-breakfast cup and the after-dinner demi-tasse are two other causes, it is said.

LOW PRICE CARS VS. CHEAP CARS

We do not build a low-price car: the cost to us of building our car is pretty high.

But we do sell a high quality car at a low price.

Almost every new Ford V-8 car we have built so far this year, has cost more to manufacture than its selling price was. As you buy them at only $490 to $610, we have to depend on increasing volume to make up the difference.

The reason for this is simple:—a manufacturer who gives good value must expect to lose money on the first cars he sells because he cannot charge all his costs to the people who are first to buy.

But with the purchaser it is different—he cannot afford to lose anything on a car. It must give him full value from the first, and keep on giving him full value for years.

Two things make possible our combination of low prices and high cost quality:

1. Volume Production
 2. Taking only one profit
- First, we set our price at what would be fair to the public on the basis of economies we enjoy in volume production. Then, in order to justify and maintain our low price we must get volume sales.
- Thus it comes that a car which is really high-cost to make, is also low-cost to buy.
- There is a difference between a cheap car and a low-priced high quality car.
- Ford prices are always fixed at a point which makes it profitable for a customer to buy.
- Good and lasting business must produce profit to the buyer as well as to the seller. And of the two, the buyer's profit must be, comparatively, the larger one.
- It pays us to sell the Ford V-8 because it pays you to buy it.

Henry Ford
