NOTICE.

The annual Red Cross rollcall is soon to be featured and we desire to call attention to our Washington county citizens to the fact that Washington county will be benefited through the Red Cross according to its giving. Beaverton also will be benefited in proportion to the amount of money raised. We therefore urge our citizens who work in other counties when approached on the subject of Red Cross to inform their employer that they are giving to the Red Cross in the community wherein they reside. This will mean a great deal to our community this coming winter.

Perhaps some who received help last winter are now working. Do not overlook the fact that Washington county and the town of Beaverton did much to give assistance in a time when you needed it. Now you have an opportunity to help through your cooperation in this Red Cross drive. Do not disappoint the local and county Red Cross organization.

METHODIST CHURCH.

George F. Gordon, Minister.
The sermon Sunday morning at 9 o'clock will deal with the "Qualifications for Leadership." The subject should attract you. The true leader is he who is able to give humanity a greater and more fundamental knowledge of God and Jesus Christ. Too many people are upset and lose ground because of what some other individual says or does. The individual who loses ground here is one who has a very cramped understanding of God and His Son. The leadership for today needs to have some real convictions on what constitutes Christian growth and Christian spirit. This leadership must convince people that God and Jesus Christ were not and are no respecter of persons. It must be made plain that society judges society through prejudiced brains and eyes; that God has another standard, that of reading the heart life of society and the individual in society. True leadership is that leadership that gets people to use their own head and reason things out to the best of their ability plus that which comes from those who are open minded and always seeking for greater light and understanding.

Hear this message Sunday morning, it will interest you; especially appropriate for leaders and church and Sunday school workers.
