The club voted to make some clothing and a quilt for the Albertina Kerr Nursery home. Mrs. Gladys Meyer gave a drill on parliamentary law. The next meeting will be on October 18, with Mrs. Beattie Summers and Mrs. Gladys Meyer as joint hostesses at the Summers' home.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

By LISIE WALKER

Monday evening the local troop gave a demonstration at the Parent-Teachers' meeting in the high school. Eleven scouts and leaders were there.

At the last meeting it was found that the troop charter renewal is due next month. This means that each scout wishing to continue his membership must pay his annual registration fee (50 cents) very soon.

The "slippery eel" title of last week has been transferred to Scout Gene Brown, who gave the troop a story obviously very preposterous. There was also an interesting game called "The Biggs-Poofor Letter." The team of Bob Engelke and Bill Siddens placed first.

Beaverton Rebekah Lodge No. 248 meets the first and third Tuesday evenings at 8 P. M. in the I.O.O.F. hall. Mrs. Sarah Chamberlain, secretary, and Mrs. Florence Drorbaugh, N. G.

TWO MORE BABIES

Doc Mason called into the Review office late Thursday afternoon and announced that he had just had another baby. Naturally this caused quite a good deal of consternation until the doctor explained that he was merely speaking in a secondary sense. What he wished to convey was the information that he had been present at the birth of an 8½-pound baby girl, who arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rigert, route 1, Beaverton.

He also reports that Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Cowger, route 2, are the happy parents of a 9-pound girl, who arrived October 9.

All parties, including the doctor, are doing nicely.

GRADE SCHOOL FORMS BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Attendance Enrolls 99 Per cent With Enrollment of 245

The fine weather of the past two weeks has brought unusual activity to the grade school playground. A basketball league has been formed among the boys for play on the outside court as long as weather permits. Six teams have been organized and play is progressing with growing interest. Thus far the "Bears" have a perfect record.

Some interesting facts revealed by the last monthly school report are that attendance was 99 per cent, with 170 pupils neither absent nor tardy. Enrollment has reached 245, and 12 parents visited school.

Last Thursday an exceptionally tame pigeon was an unexpected visitor to the seventh and eighth grade rooms. The pigeon boldly entered the open windows and seemed as interested in the pupils as they were in him. Having satisfied his curiosity, the pigeon departed, and has not returned.

Good habits of health and cleanliness are being stressed in downstairs rooms. In the first grade this is in the form of a "clean hand and fingernail" contest. If a fourth grade child has clean hands for a week he is allowed to place a tracing of his hand on white paper on display. His hands must be kept clean to retain its position on the wall.

The Halloween spirit is already invading some of the rooms. Witches, black rats and pumpkins form an attractive border for the fifth grade room.

The second grade has made some new spelling books. On Monday 34 boys and girls had 100 per cent in spelling. This is the best record of the year. The following pupils have been chosen as the best readers of this grade and have the orange chair: Robert Meyers of the Bluebirds, Max Post of the Doves and Donald Siddens of the Robins.

The sixth grade spelling contest, promises to be an exciting one, with Sidney's side but one point behind Grace's.

History is being taught in grade 6 by a series of diagrams, showing cause and effect of events. These students are working out an ideal diet in regard to calories in health class.

Children of the first grade have completed a farm booklet and have started an Indian project. They are keeping a weather chart on the calendar.

W. J. ALEXANDER

W. J. Alexander who died at his home in Beaverton Sunday, October 1, 1933.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. W. J. Alexander wishes to express her deep appreciation for the loving kindness and sympathy shown by her many friends during the recent illness and death of her beloved husband, W. J. Alexander.

ATTEND PORTLAND GRANGE

Saturday, October 7, Mrs. Louise Carter, Genevieve Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stark of Beaverton grange attended the homecoming of Evening Star grange in Portland, one of the oldest granges in the state, which was organized in 1873.

The master, J. J. Johnson, holds the unsurpassed record in the United States of having been master for 30 successive years with only three absences from his office. Owing to his present state of health he has asked that his name not be presented in the coming election. Mr. Johnson is well known in the Beaverton grange. He was a frequent visitor when it was newly organized and considered an authority on Grange ritualistic work and rules.

MARY ELIZABETH BOGARD

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Bogard, 66, died suddenly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Aehlscher, route 3, Sherwood, October 12, from an attack of heart disease.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Phelps Methodist Episcopal church at 2 P. M. Sunday, October 15. The body is in charge of W. E. Fegg, Beaverton mortician. Interment will be in Mountsides cemetery.

THOMAS E. COOPER

Funeral services for Thomas E. Cooper, 78, of Topeka, Kans., who died Saturday last while visiting his son, J. Cooper, at Tigard, were held Sunday in the Evangelical church. The body was shipped to Topeka by W. E. Fegg, Beaverton mortician.

A CORRECTION

In last week's issue of the Review a regrettable error was made in the notice of the death of the late W. J. Alexander in which it was stated that he came to Oregon in 1874, later going to Alaska where he resided up to the time of his death. This should have read that "he came to Oregon in 1874 later going to Alaska where he was engaged in mining. In 1914 Mr. and Mrs. Alexander moved to Beaverton, where they have resided for the past 14 years."

This is one of those unfortunate instances in which a couple of lines were dropped in making corrections due to the haste in getting ready for the press.
