PRINTED CHRISTMAS CARDS IN UNSEALED ENVELOPES

There appears to be some confusion on the part of the public as well as some postmasters with respect to the rate of postage on Christmas and other greeting cards sent under cover of unsealed envelopes.

Printed greeting cards mailed under cover of unsealed envelopes are chargeable with postage at the third-class rate of 1 1/2 cents for each 2 ounces or fraction of 2 ounces, regardless of whether addressed for delivery through postoffice boxes or general delivery, or by city or rural carrier; the 1-cent drop-letter rate applicable at nonletter-carrier offices does not apply to such cards in unsealed envelopes.

Printed Christmas and other greeting cards in unsealed envelopes may bear a simple written inscription not in the nature of personal correspondence, such as "Sincerely yours," "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With best wishes," etc., together with the name and address of the sender and of the addressee, without subjecting them to more than the third-class rate.

Greeting cards, sealed or unsealed, bearing written messages other than the simple inscriptions above mentioned, as well as all cards sent in sealed envelopes, are chargeable with postage at the first-class rate of 3 cents an ounce or fraction of an ounce, except when the 1-cent or 2-cent drop-letter rate applies.

TO HAVE TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

The first local teachers institute for the Washington county teachers will be held at the Forest Grove Central grade school, Dr. Levi T. Pennington, president of Pacific college at Forest Grove; Josiah Willis, superintendent of Polk county schools, and Professor Bejes, head of the Pacific college department of education, will be the principal speakers. Music will be furnished by Forest Grove talent and a business meeting of the Washington County Teachers' association will be held.

ANNOUNCES MARRIAGE.

Mrs. Grace Norman, formerly of Beaverton, who is making her home in Portland this winter, announces the marriage of her daughter, Donald Perkins, to Kenneth Nelson of Shelton, Wash. They were married in Seattle November 29, and were served a wedding dinner at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. A. Patmore, in Seattle Thanksgiving day. The young couple will make their home at Shelton, Wash. Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of the 1933 class of Beaverton high school and was a popular member of the younger set. She has a host of friends here who will wish her happiness in her new home.

NEW FORD V-8 NOW ON DISPLAY BY DEALERS

More Speed, Quicker Acceleration and Smoother Performance

The new Ford V-8 for 1934 has been put on display in more than 7000 Ford dealerships throughout the United States. Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor company, announced recently.

As revealed here by Henry Ford and his son to several score newspaper correspondents, special writers and photographers, the new Ford has greater power, more speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance, more miles per gallon, especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather, plus refined body lines and a new built-in system of clear-vision body ventilation.

The improvements in engine performance are the result of the use of a new dual down-draft carburetor and dual intake manifold which increase the engine's power approximately 12 per cent and provide a remarkable improvement in pickup.

"The new car is the best car the Ford Motor company ever built," the Ford president said. "Basically, it is the same car as the hundreds of thousands of other Ford V-8s now on the road. It simply incorporates numerous improvements in engine and chassis design, the new body ventilation system and refinements in body styling and appointments which have been brought to a proper stage of development during the past year in our engineering research."

NOW IS TIME TO APPLY REMEDY FOR CURLY LEAF

Bordeaux Mixture, Properly Prepared, Will Eliminate Pest

Properly prepared Bordeaux thoroughly applied some time between now and the first of February is an effective remedy for curly leaf of peaches. Some few growers use this year after year and never obtain satisfactory control, while others use it and are satisfied with its effectiveness. Usually one of two things cause the poor results—either the Bordeaux has been poorly prepared or all the buds and twigs were not covered in the application of the spray.

Good Bordeaux may be purchased but many of the peach growers prefer to make their own. It is well to remember that only the best of material should be used in the manufacture of satisfactory Bordeaux. Either hydrated lime or quicklime may be used, but in either case they should be fresh and of the highest purity. If hydrated lime is used, water should be added and the milk of lime allowed to stand several hours before using. Filling the spray tank with water and then dumping in six pounds of lime and an equal quantity of bluestone is not making Bordeaux and effective curly leaf control can not be expected when spray of this kind is used. Whatever method is used in preparing Bordeaux it is most important that both the copper sulfate solution and the milk of lime be as dilute as possible before combining to form Bordeaux.

Complete directions for making Bordeaux spray on the farm may be obtained at the county agent's office in Hillsboro and if these directions are followed a good quality of material can be made that when properly applied to the trees will do the work it is intended it should do. When this kind of spray is prepared it should be used immediately and not allowed to sit around for even a few hours.

Getting a nice blue coat of spray all over the trunk and limbs of the tree gives the appearance of having been well sprayed, but examination of these trees will sometimes disclose the fact that many of the young shoots in the top of the tree were missed in the spraying process. Every bud and twig needs to receive its coating of spray. The new growth in the tree is the part that needs the protective covering and if this is effectively covered the rest of the tree will get all the spray needed. The curly leaf fungus starts its work when the buds begin to open, consequently, the spray job should be completed and each bud coated before they begin to break. Sometimes the first of February is all right, but in a good many years this is too late. Generally it is good business to get the curly leaf spray on the trees during most any period of suitable spray weather in late December or January.

"DELUGE" SUBJECT OF STUDY.

Miss Harriet West had charge of the Bible study class at the R. B. McMinn home Saturday evening and the Misses Ruth West and Genevieve Carter gave the scripture reading from the sixth chapter of Genesis.

W. E. Garnet had for his subject, "The Deluge." The evening was concluded in practicing songs.

Sunday evening the young people enjoyed a pot-luck supper at the McMinn home, after which they put on a program at the Union Gospel mission in Portland. The meeting was opened with songs and testimonies. Miss Margaret West gave the scripture reading, Douglas Taylor and Kenneth Taylor each gave a sermonette. The octette gave several selections and the entire group concluded the service by singing "Silent Night."

A REAL CHRISTMAS.

I recall the engineer who was pinned under his locomotive in a wreck. As the escaping steam slowly cooked his flesh, he begged them to use a gun and put an end to his horrible suffering.

Now watch me reach my arms out and out and gather something to myself. What am I doing? Showing how Christ there on the cross reached out and took in all the woe and shame and anguish and heartache that a sinner would suffer in all the eternities out away from God. This was his suffering, not the spikes through his flesh as he hung there on the cross.

Christmas cheer is on the way; real cheer for the millions who have the question of sin and guilt out of the way. "This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent."

Where are you this Christmas season? Still rejecting? Or with the saved who count on Christ as having died for their sins? Or have you gone one into further blessing? On into the circle of those who yield all to Him as the Lord of their lives; giving themselves to the joy of living, trusting and obeying him.

Rev. George N. Taylor, Beaverton, Or.—Adv.

SOME FARMERS REPORTED BILKED BY HOG BUYERS

Processing Tax Not To Be Deducted From Market Price

"Don't let a hog buyer attract the processing tax from the market price." This is the warning being given by those in touch with provisions of the agricultural adjustment act at Oregon State college. Word has been received that some buyers, perhaps through misunderstanding of the facts, are quoting the regular price to the producer less the amount of the processing tax.

"Prices quoted on hogs at the Portland stockyards or at any other public market in the United States are the prices which are actually paid to the shippers, and the tax is not deducted from these prices," explains E. L. Potter, head of the agricultural economics division. "Farmers who sell hogs to buyers at the market price and then permit the buyer to deduct the tax are simply allowing themselves to be cheated that much."

The processing tax in hogs is laid to raise from the general public the funds sufficient to help restore a fair purchasing power to hogs sold by the producer and at the same time control production at market requirements. To deduct the tax from the farmers selling the hogs would defeat the purpose at the outset, it is pointed out.

Farmers who butcher their own hogs for sale as pork products or to sell dressed carcasses must pay the processing tax on those animals, however, as such growers are both producers and processors and as such presumably get both profits. Blanks may be obtained from the internal revenue office in the custom house, Portland, for reporting on hogs slaughtered. Tax on hogs killed one month is payable the next. Hogs killed by or for a farmer strictly for use by his own family are not subject to the processing tax.

Details as to the form of the hog control contract are expected soon by the extension service at Oregon State college, and as soon as they are received Oregon growers will be informed and given an opportunity to join in the plan if they desire.

"Nerves"

Dr. Miles NERVINE

"Did the work" says Miss Glivar

WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

After more than three months of suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles Nerve which gave her such splendid results that she wrote us an enthusiastic letter.

If you suffer from "Nerves." If you lie awake nights, start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and fidgety, your nerves are probably out of order.

Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that "did the work" for this Colorado girl.

Whether your "Nerves" have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective.

At Drug Stores 25c and $1.00.
