KIWANIS MEETING IN FORM OF OPEN FORUM

Wednesday's Kiwanis meeting was in the nature of an open forum, with W. G. ("Mick") Mische as chairman of the day. "Mick" was the recipient of several anxious inquiries as to his "abdominal" or "abominable" muscles, all of which had to do with the strenuous work-out which Coach Edward Warren of Beaverton High school put the newly formed athletic class through last Monday night. While this is not a Kiwanis activity, "Mick" tendered a most cordial invitation to Kiwanis members and anyone interested to be at the High school gym next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Edward Jannsen presented some clever whistling solos, which were well received.

Next Wednesday evening January 24th will be Ladies' Night, when the club will observe the nineteenth anniversary of Kiwanis.

The program is in charge of the committee on Kiwanis Education, Lee Richey is chairman.

A feature of the meeting that is of great importance to each member will be the plan to raise funds with which to purchase dishes. Mrs. Albert Rossi, the club's hostess, is procuring complimentary supplies from leading merchants and supply houses, and all receipts of the evening will be used to purchase dishes.

Lee Richey, chairman, will, we know, have a splendid program prepared for the 19th anniversary of Kiwanis.

Friend—Did you raise any cucumbers 'this year in your little garden, as you expected?

Bride—No. The directions said to plant the seeds in hills, and you know our lot is perfectly level.

"There's one good thing I can say about the Prodigal Son," remarked Uncle Eli Podger.

"What's that?"

"He had the good sense to walk home, instead of telegraphin' for money."

Hazel—Now that you have looked over my music, what would you like to have me play?

Henry—I think we had better play cards.

Wife (looking out at him from the bedroom window)—Where have you been till this hour of the night?

"I've been to the union meetin' and we ordered a strike."

"Is that so? Well, I've ordered a lockout."

He—What made Mrs. Soforth so angry with the photographer?

She—She found a label that he had stuck on the back of her photo, which said: "The original of this picture is carefully preserved."

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Eleven scouts met at the last meeting. An hour and a half of testwork and fun made up the meeting, and a work hike for this Saturday (tomorrow) was announced.

The hike will be held at the cabin starting in the morning. Scouts may stay over night, coming home early Sunday morning. Clean up work will be done and several phases of outdoor scoutcraft will be featured.

MRS. MARCIA PIKE FRACTURES LEG

Saturday evening, Jan. 13, Mrs. Marcia Pike fell in her home and fractured her left leg near the hip. It is a very unfortunate thing for her. She is now 81 years of age, and will be confined to her bed for at least three months. Dr. Goffin, who is a relative of the family, came out from Portland to consult with Dr. Mason as to the way to handle the case most effectively. She is resting very comfortably.

Katherine, and Evelyn Powell of Moore, Montana, visited at the home of Mrs. Ivy Martin Sunday. The young ladies are attending the U. of O. Medical school in Portland, preparatory to entering the Multnomah hospital in the spring.

Loyal L. Graham, attorney at Forest Grove, was in town Saturday, presumably attending Beaverton Grange. We understand Graham has his hat in the ring for the Circuit Judge's position now occupied by the Hon. Geo. R. Bagley.

Through Death to Life

"And He, bearing his cross, went forth into a place called the place of a skull, where they crucified Him, and two others with Him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst."

There is a green hill, far away, Beyond the city wall, Where the dear Lord was crucified Who died to save us all.

Who His own self bore our sins in His own body, on the Cross. For Christ hath once for all suffered for us, the Just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God.

He who knew nothing of sin came into this world to become sin for us that we might become the righteousness of God in Him.

Who would get right with God? Before you close your eyes in sleep this night, kneel down and tell God you take pardon, a new heart and eternal life as His love gift to all who receive Christ as dying for their sins.

"Four-Star" for Four Stars

Above are shown Blanca Vischer, Irene Bentley, at wheel, Dixie Frances and June Vissek, Fox featured players leaving the studio for location on shots on the Mojave Desert. Lloyd Bailey, of General Petroleum headquarters staff, is telling the girls to "step on it," they've got new General Four-Star gasoline in the tank.

Location Trips Call for Speed

The stars are fixed in their courses and move according to a time-table. So do screen stars, fan "blubs" to the contrary notwithstanding.

When location scenes are to be shot, delays due to temperament or anything else short of Acts of God find no place in the time schedules of the production managers.

Recently Irene Bentley, Blanca Vischer, Dixie Frances and June Vissek, Fox feature players, got short notice to get out to a Mojave Desert location for retakes, delayed shooting of which would have cost the film company thousands of dollars.

Commandeering a new and swanky Packard sport phaeton, with Irene Bentley at the wheel and new General Four-Star gasoline in the tank, the four stars streaked out of Hollywood and across the sandy wastes of the Mojave at a clip which made the speed of the desert jack rabbits resemble the feeble doddles of a paralyzed Florida mud turtle. They reached their destination with several hours to spare.

Similar experiences with this new type motor fuel on the part of other studios, according to reports reaching General Petroleum headquarters, have resulted in many studio transportation executives specifying General Four-Star for all their automotive equipment.
