Grade School Notes

Last Friday the lower grades of the Beaverton Grammar school presented "The Court of Flowers" and "Makes-Believe". A banner audience of over 350 people saw the presentation of these two charming operettas.

This entertainment, which was acclaimed by all as a great success, showed the untiring efforts of the teachers as well as the pupils. To Mrs. Randall, accompanist, much credit and praise is due for her valuable assistance. She was present at every rehearsal.

The teachers wish to thank the mothers for their splendid co-operation in making costumes and lending helping hands whenever needed, which contributed so much towards making the operetta a success.

The grade school basketball tournament to be held in Beaverton, will have V. H. Bullis, Beaverton grade school coach, as manager.

The Seventh grade was delighted to welcome Della Rose Pickett from Portland as a classmate.

A patriotic border adds a great deal to the cheerfulness of the Third grade room. The border consists of a black silhouette of Washington upon a horse. The background is blue with a large orange moon coming over the horizon.

Wilbur Anderson of the Third Grade is out with the mumps. His playmates hope that he will be well soon.

The Fifth grade geography class has completed its tour of the United States and will soon begin on the possessions of the United States.

ill for a long time, returned to school, and was welcomed by his classmates.

The children of the First grade made red, white, and blue hatchets in connection with their study of George Washington. This Friday, these little ones are entitled to a half-holiday for twenty perfect days.

How They Get Money

"The sun stood still—
The axe did float—
This God is our God."
So on the wall of the general offices of the China Inland Mission in Shanghai, China.

With hundreds of missionaries in the field, with vast sums pouring in to keep them, not one cent is asked of man. Tell the people of the work and ask God for the money is the program these many years.

How does God so pour out of His goodness? It is by Jesus Christ that He does it. For in the person of Christ, God once dwelt here on earth with us. He took up in a human body as a man among men. He was tempted at all points as we are, yet He died sinless for our sins.

With the sin-question settled and cut of the way; with nothing between the holy God and the forgiven sinner, the Lord can now satisfy His heart-longing and bless all who will have it so.

Whoever lays hold on Christ's death to blot out their sin-guilt do on that instant come into the new birth; God becomes their new Father, with His God-nature imparted to them and an ever-increasing de-
